20TH YEAR. NO. 219 EAST LIVERPOOL, O., FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 18, 1903. TWO CENTS.

A BIG REAL ESTATE DEAL PRESAGES BUILDING BOOM

FINE STRUCTURES FOR PRESENT TENANTS

Though the gentlemen refused to confirm the report when approached today, it is announced upon the very best authority that Geo. H. Owen & Co have closed the deal for the purchase of the Odd Fellows building, at the corner of Washington and Fifth streets.

It will be remembered that Mr. Owen obtained a 90-day option on the building several weeks ago and it was thought at the time the deal would be closed within a short time. The building is one of the best business blocks in the city, and the location is particularly desirable.

The consideration is being kept in the background, though it is known the order to which the structure belongs has repeatedly refused a figure in the neighborhood of $25,000.

The East Liverpool order of Odd Fellows, which is one of the richest in the state of Ohio, has owned a lot 40x130 on Sixth street for some time, it being a part of the Nagle estate. It is stated the lodge will commence the erection of a fine new business block on the site early next spring.

It can be stated with a reasonable degree of certainty that the Dollar Savings bank will occupy the Odd Fellows' building just as soon as the leases held by the Potters' Building and Savings association and others expire. The banking company has been looking for a permanent home ever since its organization, and it was stated when the institution opened its doors for business that the present quarters at Sixth street and Broadway were only temporary. The lease of the Potters' Building & Savings association, it is understood, does not expire until 1906, and the present deal will not interfere with the plans of the latter in any way, as the loan association will have plenty of time to carry out any plan its officials may now or hereafter have in contemplation.

J. J. Purinton sold to the Building and Savings association several months ago, a tract adjoining the corner lot owned by the Odd Fellows, and the former company will doubtless begin at once upon the construction of a building for its use on the new purchase. The Building and Savings people paid $19,000 for the Purinton property and with that amount invested will put up a block that will be a credit to the business section.

The latest deal is considered one of the most important in years, since it involves the construction of at least two up-to-date buildings—one for the Odd Fellows, to be located on Sixth street, and the other to be occupied by the Potters' Building and Savings association on Washington street, and the actual investment will be well up in six figures.

A fine new bank building, to replace the Odd Fellows' block, is regarded as a certainty within the next few years.

POTTERS' DISPUTE ADJUSTED

All But Two Points Settled and They Will Be Arbitrated. News Hailed With Joy in Industrial and Business Circles.

After a session which lasted from 10 o'clock yesterday morning until late in the evening, the conference over the wage scale between the committees representing the National Brotherhood of Operative Potters and the United States Manufacturers' association at Philadelphia was adjourned and the announcement made by both committees that all the matters in dispute, with two exceptions, had been satisfactorily adjusted. The two propositions upon which the committees failed to agree are known as Nos. 9 and 12, and it was agreed that they be submitted to an arbitration board, to be composed of five members, two to be named by the Brotherhood, two by the manufacturers and the four select the fifth.

The announcements mean that the threatened rupture over the demands made by the Brotherhood for better wages in some instances and better working conditions in others has been averted, both sides yielding to avert any action that would cause a suspension of the industry. The manufacturers and the Brotherhood have made good the declaration given to the public when the first conference was held last June that the differences would be adjusted without resorting to a strike. The rejection of the propositions submitted by the manufacturers led a number of people to doubt that a peaceful settlement could be effected, and the announcement from the Philadelphia conference comes as the most cheering bit of news heard in many months. Business will at once resume normal conditions for all that remains is the arranging of the details of the settlement, every element of doubt having been eliminated.

In submitting propositions Nos. 9 and 12 to arbitrators both sides agree to abide by the result. These two questions have been the bone of contention at all the conferences and have prevented an earlier settlement. Proposition No. 9 affects the jiggermen, they asking for an increase aggregating ten per cent on a number of articles of jiggered ware. The manufacturers offered to grant an advance, to pay for which the price of other jiggered articles was to be reduced. A settlement by a disinterested committee will not be a difficult matter.

Proposition No. 12 affects the kilnmen, who at the Wheeling convention had a resolution passed asking for a reduction in bisque kiln measurement from 212 to 200 cubic feet. The

VERY STRONG SENTIMENT IN FAVOR OF NO ACTION

Gas Question In All Its Phases Argued And Injunction Proceedings Will Likely Be Dropped.

A MASS MEETING OF CONSUMERS TONIGHT

It is certain that the revolution of sentiment in the gas controversy has at last struck the private consumer, and he is now as strongly in favor of staying the injunction proceedings as he was firm in the belief that the restraining order should be asked when the agitation first began. The city council is placed in a peculiar position and refuses to assume the responsibility of instructing the city solicitor to proceeding with the securing of an injunction. A mass meeting has been called for this evening at city hall, and an effort will be made to secure an expression from the citizens generally.

About 30 citizens met with the council last night, and if their views can be taken as an indication of how the remainder of the people feel, it can be announced with absolute certainty there will be no injunction asked. Councilman Moon was the only member absent last night when President Horwell announced the object of the meeting was to get some further insight into the gas question. The council desired to obtain an idea of what the people thought, and the first speaker called upon was E. D. Moore, who said:

"Mr. President and Members of Council: I believe I have never before had the pleasure of addressing your honorable body and only do so now because of the invitation which I have read in the city papers in which the citizens are asked to come here and express their views on the gas question.

"I do not stand here as the advocate of any gas company and am willing to admit, for the sake of argument, that the companies may be unjust and selfish and almost anything you may see fit to call them; but, even if they are all their opponents claim against them, that is still not the problem with which we have to do. A certain line of Shakespeare saye, 'To be or not to be; that's the question?' Are we to go back to coal? If so, how are we to use it? So far as we are concerned in our home, we would have to go to $25 or $30 expense before we could even begin to use coal for heating, to say nothing of cooking. We have practically a new gas range which cost us $20 or $25. That must be thrown aside and a new coal stove purchased at say $20 or $25. It will cost us in plumber's bills several dollars to connect for hot water. Then, where are we to get our coal, and at what price? Certainly not by rail, for the C. & P. railroad does not have proper facilities to take care of its present ordinary business and it will not be able to do more until its double track system is completed.

"Again, as serious a phase of the difficulty as any is the matter of light. Shall we go back to the use of kerosene oil, the tallow candle or the pine knot? There are hundreds of school children who have to prepare their

COSTLY WORK FOR NOTHING

An interview with James Hague and Arthur Underwood, members of the Pennsylvania avenue equalization board, this morning reveals the startling information that action will undoubtedly be taken in the near future to have the assessing ordinance annulled. The result of such a step, that is if it proves successful, can mean but one thing—the hundreds of dollars expended since the improvement for the purpose of getting the cost equally distributed among those benefited thereby will be a total loss and the entire cost will be cast onto the general tax duplicate for payment.

No blame whatever can be attached to the present board for the existing conditions. They were appointed to equalize the assessments according to the assessing ordinance passed a short time after the work was completed. The brunt of it all will rest on those who drafted the ordinance and those who subsequently passed it. Messrs. Hague and Underwood state that the ordinance is preposterous, an imposition on scores of people, who own property abutting on the avenue and incomplete from many standpoints. According to the two gentlemen there are lots stationed along the line of improvement which are actually adjacent to the avenue that were not included in the assessing ordinance. There are plots containing a number of lots in which two lots are assessed and the remainder not mentioned in the ordinance. On Ravine street it seems that the greatest difference is noted. Every lot adjacent to the street from the west side is assessed fully and every lot adjacent from the east side, said to be much more valuable and more benefited, are not assessed.

In consideration of this unfairness the owners of the property assessed declare that they will institute a fight immediately after the present board completes its work for the purpose of killing the assessing ordinance and that they will carry the matter into the courts if necessary. Another very important point will be forced by certain property owners, who claim that they have been treated unjustly. Prior to the improving of the avenue the city appealed to W. L. Thompson for a strip of land, which it was thought absolutely necessary to complete the avenue. Mr. Thompson finally agreed to make a deed for the land and did so. In consideration of the deed the city promised to leave abutting property holders exempt from any expense whatever. Instead of complying with the contract, every man owning adjacent property was

HORSE THIEF A BIGAMIST

Man With a Black Record Now Charged With Having Four Wives.

EXPLOITS IN THIS COUNTY

Columbus, September 18.—(Special)—The Columbus police have learned that Harold C. Mills, who served a term of four years in the Ohio penitentiary for horse stealing from Columbiana county early in the 90's, and who is a much-married man, is now on trial for bigamy in Chicago. When the courts of Illinois get through with him he will be brought back to Columbus to answer a charge of embezzlement of $400 preferred against him there several years ago. Mills has had an eventful career. He is the son of a farmer and was raised near Dell Roy, Carroll county. He has figured some as a "promoter." He is known to have served three terms in the penitentiary. In this city he was the agent of a Cleveland building and loan association.

It is understood he was married to women in St. Louis, Indianapolis, Chicago, Detroit and Steubenville. He used the name of Howard C. Reed in the latter city. The name of the woman is suppressed. It is understood he soon left her in Pittsburg. He is now on trial in Chicago and three of his wives were present. On May 12 in Chicago, as H. C. Reed, he became involved with Miss Laura C. Steickler, a Y. W. C. A. girl, who, to escape him, was forced to jump from the third story window of the Newport hotel. This led to his arrest and subsequent indictment for bigamy.

THE CANDIDATES ARE EXACTLY EVEN

Weems and Hollingsworth Have the Same Number of Votes as Gill's Successor.

Columbus, September 18.—A remarkable situation exists in the Sixteenth congressional district, where a successor is to be chosen to Congressman J. J. Gill, resigned. As a result of the Republican primaries, W. C. Weems, of Belmont, and D. A. Hollingsworth, of Harrison county, each have 71 delegates to the convention at Steubenville next Tuesday. There is a contest on the remaining 16 delegates, being the Monroe county delegation. Success will attend the one who can gain one more vote, 72 being necessary to seat the delegation from Monroe favorable to him.

The Steubenville Herald Star, the Republican organ, comments that the Dunbar delegates in Jefferson county are to be turned over to Weems, and says it would be discreditable to carry out any such deal, as Weems is eliminated as far as the vote is concerned, and Hollingsworth, by the vote, is second choice.

SECRET CONFAB WITH MR. MORRIS

WHISTLES FOR POLICEMEN

The regular meeting of the board of public safety held last evening in the office of City Auditor Davidson was a very important one, notwithstanding that there was but little business transacted. Three members, President Grafton, Ogilvie and Taylor, were present, Dawson being the only absentee.

For 30 minutes prior to the calling of the meeting to order the board held a secret conference with Officer Homer Morris, a candidate for appointment to the chief of policeship. Rumors are rife as to the meaning of the conference, and there are none who know to a certainty the object of the confab. Some think it was relative to his application for appointment, but this is not considered likely by others who feel positive that the talk meant a renewal of the officer's litigation with Harry Palmer. The board would not make public the business with Officer Morris, saying it was a private affair.

Clerk Huntsman reported that he had received two dozen police whistles and that they were in perfect condition. It will be remembered that the board decided to equip the entire police force and firemen with whistles some time ago, it being deemed a very necessary step. The board argues that the whistles will be of great value to the preservers of the peace and once the officers get accustomed to them there will be no doing without them. The whistles will be divided among the police and firemen during the next few weeks, a meeting having been ordered for that purpose.

A communication was received from the Dawson company, a concern that manufactures police alarm boxes. The company stated that it would be willing to confer with the board relative to furnishing the city with a strictly up-to-date system and that the boxes would undoubtedly give entire satisfaction. Though the board will not inaugurate the system at once, definite steps will be taken soon to that end, and the clerk was instructed to notify the company accordingly. The main object in purchasing the boxes will be to keep tab on the policemen. It will be the duty of the officers after the system is in working order to ring up from certain boxes every hour. Through this means it will be known at central station where the officers are at all times of the night.

A number of bills were rendered and after careful consideration they were ordered paid. Considerable attention was then given to a resume of the examination of the officers that have been held during the past week, after which the board adjourned.

THE BOND SALE STILL HANGS FIRE

Prompt Action Necessary by Council If the City Would Save Heavy Interest Charges.

City Auditor Davidson reports that no favorable word has been received from J. R. Williams & Co., of Pittsburg, relative to the sale of the $92,000 worth of bonds. It is now the opinion of the auditor and council that they are being fooled by the Pittsburg concern, and though they have threatened to take action in the matter for a week, it has been decided now to do so, and at the first opportunity.

It has been learned that the Pittsburg firm is merely a brokerage firm. Its business is to buy bonds and then sell them. When the company agreed to take the city's bonds it made the pretense of being anxious for them within a very short period. This, it is believed, was done simply to blind the councilmen. The bonds were prepared for transmission to the company, but the company has never called for them. The belief is general that the company has been unable to find buyers and is holding the city council off until they can be secured.

Three weeks have elapsed since the bonds were awarded to the above company. During that time the city has been paying the regular 7 per cent interest, aggregating about $150. There is no assurance given the councilmen that the bonds will be taken and the money turned over to the city at any early date, and it is considered folly to trifle longer with the Pittsburg people.

Council may not take action until the regular meeting night, next Tuesday, but when it does another proposition will confront it. The bid offered by George Gaston, of Cleveland, which was turned down once, will again be submitted. Attorney Gaston arrived in the city last evening and wanted to place the offer before council at its special meeting, but it could not be done, owing to the objection of a member of council, evidently in favor of continuing the deal with J. R. Williams & Co. The offer of Mr. Gaston is to furnish buyers for the bonds, providing the city will give him $175 for his work. He says he can have the transaction complete and the money in the hands of the city within three days.

HON. J. P. JONES HAS BEEN ARRESTED

Ex-Legislator of Stark County to Be Tried for Assault And Battery.

Canton, September 18.—J. P. Jones ex-state representative and former state labor commissioner, has been arrested on a warrant sworn out by C Pennel charging him with assault and battery.

Pennel at one time was one of Jones' political lieutenants, but recently a personal grievance made both men the bitteriest of enemies. Last Saturday night Pennel and his son were standing on the street in North Lawrence. Without any provocation Attorney Pennel alleges, Jones attempted to beat the plaintiff and his son. Jones, however, says that Pennel had "laid" for him, and on Saturday night, with the assistance of his son, attempted the assault. Jones underwent a preliminary hearing before 'Squire Sibila yesterday and pleaded not guilty to the charge. Pennel is a member of the old Foraker guard in Stark, and during the famous Foraker-Hanna fight supported Jones in his fight against Hanna.

Both sides have determined to fight the case to the end.

Salem Man Seeks Divorce.

Lisbon, September 18.—(Special.)—Charles Alfred West, through Attorney K. L. Cobourn, of Salem, has filed suit for divorce from Florence, his wife. He charges wilful absence and total disregard of marital duty. They were married in Salem in 1898 and have had but one child, which died in infancy.

STRUCK DOWN BY WEST END THUGS

William Campbell Beaten at the Jethro Bridge Until He We Was Unconscious All Night.

Unconscious, numerous cuts about his head and shoulders and his face besmeared with blood, William Campbell, aged about 50 years, was found a short distance west of the Jethro bridge on Wednesday night between 11 and 12 o'clock. Though Mr. Campbell can give no accurate account of how he came to be in such a terrible condition, remembering only that he received a blow from behind, it is believed that the dastardly deed was committed by thugs who were after money.

Campbell is the husband of the woman who was drowned at Pittsburg a few months ago. Since that time he has been unable to do any work, the shock having completely shattered his nerves and rendered him in almost a helpless condition. He has a son who is married and on Wednesday the son and his wife visited at his house, which is located at the extreme west end of the city. At about 11 o'clock they decided to return home and the elder Campbell volunteered to go a piece with them. He walked with them to the Jethro bridge and then started on his return home.

The road leading to his home from the bridge is dark and in some places very secluded. Upon the arrival of Campbell at one of the darkest spots, some person or persons noiselessly approached him from the rear and with one blow rendered him perfectly unconscious. He remembers nothing further than that until the following morning when he was awakened while lying on the front door step at his home.

The belief is that the thugs cruelly dealt blow after blow on his face and shoulders after he was knocked to the ground and then left him to his fate. He has not the least idea as to how he reached home and the theory is advanced that he was carried to his steps by the robbers or by some passerby.

When awakened the following morning Campbell was suffering awfully and it was feared he might not recover. However, he is able to be around, and further than a badly swollen face he has recovered.

Report of another terrible fight on the Jethro bridge last night was made to Officer Aufderheide. Three men were seen in a murderous melee at about 10 o'clock. One man, stated the officer's informant, was knocked to the floor of the bridge, where he remained for several minutes unconscious.

GIFT WILL HAVE A PLACE IN THE WHITE HOUSE

Tankard Jug Presented By Letter Carriers Much Appreciated by President.

President Roosevelt has acknowledged the gift of a tankard jug, given him at the Syracuse convention of the National Assocation of Mail Carriers by local branch No. 547. William Carey, who was the delegate to the convention from No. 547, is in receipt of a copy of the following letter sent to James C. Kelly, president of the N. A. of L. C., by the president's secretary:

"The president directs me to express his sincere appreciation and thanks for your kind remembrance of him at Syracuse, and furthermore that he will accept the vase as a gift to be placed in the white house. With best wishes for success and prosperity, I am, sincerely yours."

From the tone of the letter it can be seen that the president was highly pleased with the gift. That it is to have a place in the white house is pleasing to the donors.

A BIG REAL ESTATE DEAL PRESAGES BUILDING BOOM

Though the gentlemen refused to confirm the report when approached today, it is announced upon the very best authority that Geo. H. Owen & Co have closed the deal for the purchase of the Odd Fellows building, at the corner of Washington and Fifth streets.

The Steubenville Herald Star, the Republican organ, comments that the Dunbar delegates in Jefferson county are to be turned over to Weems, and says it would be discreditable to carry out any such deal, as Weems is eliminated as far as the vote is concerned, and Hollingsworth, by the vote, is second choice.

SECRET CONFAB WITH MR. MORRIS

WHISTLES FOR POLICEMEN

The regular meeting of the board of public safety held last evening in the office of City Auditor Davidson was a very important one, notwithstanding that there was but little business transacted. Three members, President Grafton, Ogilvie and Taylor, were present, Dawson being the only absentee.

For 30 minutes prior to the calling of the meeting to order the board held a secret conference with Officer Homer Morris, a candidate for appointment to the chief of policeship. Rumors are rife as to the meaning of the conference, and there are none who know to a certainty the object of the confab. Some think it was relative to his application for appointment, but this is not considered likely by others who feel positive that the talk meant a renewal of the officer's litigation with Harry Palmer. The board would not make public the business with Officer Morris, saying it was a private affair.

Clerk Huntsman reported that he had received two dozen police whistles and that they were in perfect condition. It will be remembered that the board decided to equip the entire police force and firemen with whistles some time ago, it being deemed a very necessary step. The board argues that the whistles will be of great value to the preservers of the peace and once the officers get accustomed to them there will be no doing without them. The whistles will be divided among the police and firemen during the next few weeks, a meeting having been ordered for that purpose.

A communication was received from the Dawson company, a concern that manufactures police alarm boxes. The company stated that it would be willing to confer with the board relative to furnishing the city with a strictly up-to-date system and that the boxes would undoubtedly give entire satisfaction. Though the board will not inaugurate the system at once, definite steps will be taken soon to that end, and the clerk was instructed to notify the company accordingly. The main object in purchasing the boxes will be to keep tab on the policemen. It will be the duty of the officers after the system is in working order to ring up from certain boxes every hour. Through this means it will be known at central station where the officers are at all times of the night.

A number of bills were rendered and after careful consideration they were ordered paid. Considerable attention was then given to a resume of the examination of the officers that have been held during the past week after which the board adjourned.

VERY STRONG SENTIMENT IN FAVOR OF NO ACTION

A MASS MEETING OF CONSUMERS TONIGHT

It is certain that the revolution of sentiment in the gas controversy has at last struck the private consumer, and he is now as strongly in favor of staying the injunction proceedings as he was firm in the belief that the restraining order should be asked when the agitation first began. The city council is placed in a peculiar position and refuses to assume the responsibility of instructing the city solicitor to proceeding with the securing of an injunction. A mass meeting has been called for this evening at city hall, and an effort will be made to secure an expression from the citizens generally.

About 30 citizens met with the council last night, and if their views can be taken as an indication of how the remainder of the people feel, it can be announced with absolute certainty there will be no injunction asked. Councilman Moon was the only member absent last night when President Horwell announced the object of the meeting was to get some further insight into the gas question. The council desired to obtain an idea of what the people thought, and the first speaker called upon was E. D. Moore, who said:

"Mr. President and Members of Council: I believe I have never before had the pleasure of addressing your honorable body and only do so now because of the invitation which I have read in the city papers in which the citizens are asked to come here and express their views on the gas question.

"I do not stand here as the advocate of any gas company and am willing to admit, for the sake of argument, that the companies may be unjust and selfish and almost anything you may see fit to call them; but, even if they are all their opponents claim against them, that is still not the problem with which we have to do. A certain line of Shakespeare says, 'To be or not to be; that's the question?' Are we to go back to coal? If so, how are we to use it? So far as we are concerned in our home, we would have to go to $25 or $30 expense before we could even begin to use coal for heating, to say nothing of cooking. We have practically a new gas range which cost us $20 or $25. That must be thrown aside and a new coal stove purchased at say $20 or $25. It will cost us in plumber's bills several dollars to connect for hot water. Then, where are we to get our coal, and at what price? Certainly not by rail, for the C. & P. railroad does not have proper facilities to take care of its present ordinary business and it will not be able to do more until its double track system is completed.

"Again, as serious a phase of the difficulty as any is the matter of light. Shall we go back to the use of kerosene oil, the tallow candle or the pine knot? There are hundreds of school children who have to prepare their

Unconscious, numerous cuts about his head and shoulders and his face besmeared with blood, William Campbell, aged about 50 years, was found a short distance west of the Jethro bridge on Wednesday night between 11 and 12 o'clock. Though Mr. Campbell can give no accurate account of how he came to be in such a terrible condition, remembering only that he received a blow from behind, it is believed that the dastardly deed was committed by thugs who were after money.

Campbell is the husband of the woman who was drowned at Pittsburg a few months ago. Since that time he has been unable to do any work, the shock having completely shattered his nerves and rendered him in almost a helpless condition. He has a son who is married and on Wednesday the son and his wife visited at his house, which is located at the extreme west end of the city. At about 11 o'clock they decided to return home and the elder Campbell volunteered to go a piece with them. He walked with them to the Jethro bridge and then started on his return home.

The road leading to his home from the bridge is dark and in some places very secluded. Upon the arrival of Campbell at one of the darkest spots, some person or persons noiselessly approached him from the rear and with one blow rendered him perfectly unconscious. He remembers nothing further than that until the following morning when he was awakened while lying on the front door step at his home.

The belief is that the thugs cruelly dealt blow after blow on his face and shoulders after he was knocked to the ground and then left him to his fate. He has not the least idea as to how he reached home and the theory is advanced that he was carried to his steps by the robbers or by some passerby.

When awakened the following morning Campbell was suffering awfully and it was feared he might not recover. However, he is able to be around, and further than a badly swollen face he has recovered.

Report of another terrible fight on the Jethro bridge last night was made to Officer Aufderheide. Three men were seen in a murderous melee at about 10 o'clock. One man, stated the officer's informant, was knocked to the floor of the bridge, where he remained for several minutes unconscious.

GIFT WILL HAVE A PLACE IN THE WHITE HOUSE

President Roosevelt has acknowledged the gift of a tankard jug, given him at the Syracuse convention of the National Assocation of Mail Carriers by local branch No. 547. William Carey, who was the delegate to the convention from No. 547, is in receipt of a copy of the following letter sent to James C. Kelly, president of the N. A. of L. C., by the president's secretary:

"The president directs me to express his sincere appreciation and thanks for your kind remembrance of him at Syracuse, and furthermore that he will accept the vase as a gift to be placed in the white house. With best wishes for success and prosperity, I am, sincerely yours."

From the tone of the letter it can be seen that the president was highly pleased with the gift. That it is to have a place in the white house is pleasing to the donors.

Arrested Fair Visitors.

Lisbon, September 18.—(Special.)—A number of drunks were arrested during the fair yesterday. Charles and George Kibler, George Roberts, Albert Wise and Simon Weisenstein were each fined $1 and costs by Mayor Farrell last evening.

News and Notes About The Potteries

INTERESTING DATA.

The New Jersey archives, soon to be issued from the press, containing some very interesting pottery data. The volume consists of newspaper extracts printed in 1778 and it is set forth that in that year Trenton's first pottery was operated by Benjamin Hanlon. The product of the establishment were earthen jugs. In the New Jersey Gazette for November 4, 1778 then printed in Trenton, Bernard Hanlon advertises a reward of "Ten dollars for the return of a strayed or stolen horse." The person seeking the reward was directed to take the animal to the "subscriber's stoneware potting manufactory at Trenton," or to Hanlon's neighbor, Samuel Henry, who conducted an iron works where East State street crosses the Assanpink creek. Unfortunately no description of this pottery or of its exact location is known to be extant except that it was located near Clinton avenue.

The Hanlon pottery forms one link in the chain between Dr. Daniel Coxe's pottery, erected in Burlington or its vicinity about 1685, and the McCully enterprises near the "Head of the Town," between 1783 and 1800. Hanlon's pottery was one of a number of local industries of mid-revolutionary days. Prominent among these were Potts' tanyard, a paper mill erected in the latter part of 1778 by Stacy Potts and John Reynolds; Henry's iron mill; a gun repair establishment and a flour mill near the mouth of the Assanpink.

As Trenton then contained about 1,000 inhabitants, this number and variety of industries shows that the then village had entered upon her present career of industrial progress.

DANISH POTTERY.

The manufacture of fine ware in Denmark is represented by the famous Royal pottery, whose porcelain is known over the world. There is also a private firm which makes excellent ware. A notable feature of the Royal product is the excellence, hardness and brilliancy of the glaze, some of the most successful pieces taking the form of animals, such as polar bears, otters with fish, and other similar subjects, all beautifully modeled without being extravagant.

The earthenware factory is also an excellent and well-appointed concern, the proprietors of which have shown a most enterprising spirit. They have succeeded in doing that which has so long been desideratum in the potteries, viz., firing ware by gas, and so completely consuming their own smoke. There are a number of terra cotta makers in Denmark, some of whom are very successfully introducing on their ware colored glazes, splashed, mottled and agate effects; somewhat old in treatment, but very pleasing.

BIGGER AND BETTER.

The Potters' Herald, as announced several weeks ago, made its appearance this week in enlarged form, a six-column quarto, instead of a five column. The increase in size is proof positive of the success of the paper under the present management and since it was adopted as the official organ of the N. B. of O. P. The Herald has been gaining in both circulation and advertising patronage and certainly is deserving of its prosperity.

POTTERY NOTES.

Frank McCullough has accepted a pressing bench at Laughlin No. 2.

Several of the operatives at McNicol's took a day to attend the Lisbon fair.

Will Turner, of East Palestine, has accepted a position with the new Cameron plant.

Charles Miller, recently of the Globe, has accepted a position in Wheeling and will move his family there.

Fletcher Massey has resigned as dishmaker at the East Liverpool to take a job in Wellsville. Claude Wilson takes his bench at the East Liverpool.

For 40 years Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry has been curing summer complaint, dysentery, diarrhoea, bloody flux, pain in the stomach, and it has never yet failed to do everything claimed for it.

THE STATE TO OUST FOREIGN CORPORATIONS

Attempt to Be Made to Shut Them Out For Making False Returns.

Columbus, September 18.—The state may bring actions against foreign corporations to oust them from doing business in Ohio on account of alleged false returns. Foreign corporations are required to make a report to the secretary of state in which is set forth the amount of capital invested in the state, as compared with investments outside the state. This is used as a basis for collecting fees.

Attorney General Sheets and Secretary Laylin held a conference in which falsification of returns was considered. It develops that many companies have placed Ohio investments at a figure away below their true value, thus decreasing the state's income.

RULE DISCOVERED FOR SQUARING THE CIRCLE

A Columbus Mathematician Claims to Have Accomplished a Difficult Task.

J. H. Evans, of 62½ East Spring street, believes he has discovered a rule for squaring a circle, a mathematical accomplishment that men have been trying to reach since the history of the science of numbers began, says the Columbus Citizen. He is not a theoretical mathematician, but a practical builder, familiar only with geometrical rules needed in his work. His attention was called to the hitherto impossible proposition only recently, and he set about devising a solution of it. The demonstration which he has devised, and the rule that he has evolved from it, he has presented to Prof. R. D. Bohannan, of the state university. Prof. Bohannan was much interested in the proposition presented by Mr. Evans, and said that while he would not say that it was correct or incorrect, he would like to see a hypothetical demonstration of it.

This Mr. Evans has arranged in a novel way, figuring out by his rule and making a square and a circle of fine cardboard, supposed to be of equal area and on weighing them on apothecary scales they prove to be the same. This is regarded as the best corroborative test that could be applied.

Mr. Evans approached the proposition from a novel direction. He took into consideration what he calls the "gather in of volume of the circle over that of a square figure," the sum of whose sides are equal to the circle's circumference. This he ascertains by inspection and establishes the rule that dividing the diameter of any circle by 16 and multiplying the quotient by 14.2, will give a square whose area is exactly equal to that of the circle. He takes, for instance, a circle of 8,000 feet diameter. Dividing by 16 gives 500, and multiplying that by 14.2, gives 7,100.

Mr. Evans found by measurement that a right angled triangle, having 16 inches for base and 5 inches for altitude, has a hypotenuse of 16¾ inches. From this he reasons thus: "The cube root of this, which is 14.2, is the one side of a square, the area of which is equal to the area of a circle, the diameter of which is 16 inches. The longest side of this triangle, which is 16¾ inches, multiplied by 3, gives the exact circumference of a circle, the diameter of which is 16 inches; therefore to square a circle, giving its exact area in the form of a square, divide its diameter by 16 and multiply the quotient by 14.2, and to get the exact circumference of a circle divide diameter by 1 and multiply by 10¼."

NATIONAL CONVENTION OF THE O. U. A. M.

All Parts of the Country Will Be Represented at Wheeling Next Week.

Wheeling, September 18.—The National Council of the O. U. A. M. will convene in this city next week. The convention will be opened on Tuesday morning and will continue in session four days. The meeting will probably be the largest and best ever held in the history of the order, owing to its growth since last year.

On Tuesday the session will be very short, only the regular opening business being attended to. In the afternoon will be held the big parade, and headed by Meister's full band, the procession will parade through the principal streets of the town. In the parade will be the Uniformed Ranks of Muncie, Ind., Warren, O., Bellaire, O., McMechan and all of the subordinate councils of the neighborhood. It will be one of the largest lodge demonstrations ever seen in Wheeling. The parade will be in charge of Major General Dickinson, of the Loyal Legion, and his staff, whose experience will enable him to handle the immense procession in true military order.

The reception at the Arion hall on Wednesday evening will be one of the most enjoyable events of their entire stay in the city. Everything will be done for the comfort and convenience of the visitors, and the program mapped out is a very elegant one. The citizens of the city earnestly welcome the convention here, and will make every possible effort to make the delegates feel at home. Their headquarters during their sojourn will be at the McLure. The convention will be attended by delegates from almost every state in the Union.

THE AMENDMENTS TO OHIO'S CONSTITUTION

Reasons Why They Should Be Voted for Upon the Straight Ballot.

The decision of the supreme court as to the validity of the intended method of printing the pending constitutional amendments on the official ballot probably will determine the fate of the suggested changes in the state's organic law.

The plan of presenting the amendments to the voters was devised in order that a straight Republican or a straight Democratic vote might be counted as favoring such of the constitutional changes as received the approval of the respective state conventions. Past experience has shown, says the Ohio State Journal, that it is practically impossible to secure a majority of the votes cast at a general election for a proposed amendment printed on a separate ballot. The trouble has been that many thousands of voters have not taken enough interest in the questions presented to declare themselves upon them. This difficulty the Longworth act, providing for the printing of amendments indorsed by one of the state conventions in the party ticket, sought to obviate.

The Republican convention indorsed the three amendments, giving the governor the veto power, doing away with the double liability of holders of stock in Ohio corporations, and allowing each county at least one representative in the lower house of the general assembly. Of these three, the Democratic convention approved the last two named and also indorsed the amendment empowering the legislature to classify subjects for taxation.

If the method of printing the amendments is upheld by the court, the two approved by both conventions are practically certain of enactment; that giving the governor the veto power will have an excellent chance, while that providing for the classification of taxable property might receive the requisite majority vote.

It is to be hoped that the supreme court will pass upon the test case before the official ballot is printed. To have the method of presenting the amendments declared unconstitutional in advance would not cause the confusion which would result from such a decision after the election.

Go Prepared.

In preparing for your summer outing a little forethought may save you no end of trouble. Mr. John H. Mauly, a dry goods merchant, of Bellville, R. I., while packing an outfit for camping a few weeks on Narragansett Bay, put in a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy for emergency use. The second day in camp his little boy was taken with cramp colic. The first dose of this remedy gave relief and the second dose effected a cure. Think of the pain and suffering this boy would have had to endure without this remedy at hand to relieve him. Such cases often result fatally. For sale by Alvin H. Bulger.

THE NEW AIRSHIP

Built By Santos Dumont Is Cylindrical And Has Three Compartments.

The new balloon of Santos-Dumont (No. 10) is 48 meters long, and has a capacity for gas of 2,010 cubic meters. The gas bag is in the form of a cylinder, with rounded ends, that of the front tapering to a point. It is divided into three compartments by partitions, which keep the gas from sudden displacement. There are also two small gas bags inside the main one, to preserve the shape of the latter. The balloon carries two aerial propellers, one at the prow, the other at the stern. They are driven independent from a 60 horse-power petrol motor, weighing 160 kilograms, and situated between them. The framework of wood and steel wire is not unlike a lattice girder, with a triangular section, and weighs 100 kilograms.

This framework supports the motor, helices, rudder and basket of the pilot or aeronaut—that is to say, M. Dumont. Beneath it are suspended four basket cars for three passengers and a second aeronaut, who looks after the stopping arrangements and the passengers. The basket of M. Dumont, the driver, and the second aeronaut are conical, with a square bottom, and those of the passengers are conical, and about a meter in size. The new balloon having attracted the notice of the French military authorities, M. Dumont has offered it to the ministry of war in the event of war with any foreign power save Brazil and the United States.

Columbus, September 18.—The state may bring actions against foreign corporations to oust them from doing business in Ohio on account of alleged false returns. Foreign corporations are required to make a report to the secretary of state in which is set forth the amount of capital invested in the state, as compared with investments outside the state. This is used as a basis for collecting fees.

Attorney General Sheets and Secretary Laylin held a conference in which falsification of returns was considered. It develops that many companies have placed Ohio investments at a figure away below their true value, thus decreasing the state's income.

The Pleasure of Eating.

A Columbus Mathematician Claims to Have Accomplished a Difficult Task.

J. H. Evans, of 621½ East Spring street, believes he has discovered a rule for squaring a circle, a mathematical accomplishment that men have been trying to reach since the history of the science of numbers began, says the Columbus Citizen. He is not a theoretical mathematician, but a practical builder, familiar only with geometrical rules needed in his work. His attention was called to the hitherto impossible proposition only recently, and he set about devising a solution of it. The demonstration which he has devised, and the rule that he has evolved from it, he has presented to Prof. R. D. Bohannan, of the state university. Prof. Bohannan was much interested in the proposition presented by Mr. Evans, and said that while he would not say that it was correct or incorrect, he would like to see a hypothetical demonstration of it.

This Mr. Evans has arranged in a novel way, figuring out by his rule and making a square and a circle of fine cardboard, supposed to be of equal area and on weighing them on apothecary scales they prove to be the same. This is regarded as the best corroborative test that could be applied.

Mr. Evans approached the proposition from a novel direction. He took into consideration what he calls the "gather in of volume of the circle over that of a square figure," the sum of whose sides are equal to the circle's circumference. This he ascertains by inspection and establishes the rule that dividing the diameter of any circle by 16 and multiplying the quotient by 14.2, will give a square whose area is exactly equal to that of the circle. He takes, for instance, a circle of 8,000 feet diameter. Dividing by 16 gives 500, and multiplying that by 14.2, gives 7,100.

Mr. Evans found by measurement that a right angled triangle, having 16 inches for base and 5 inches for altitude, has a hypotenuse of 16¾ inches. From this he reasons thus: "The cube root of this, which is 14.2, is the one side of a square, the area of which is equal to the area of a circle, the diameter of which is 16 inches. The longest side of this triangle, which is 16¾ inches, multiplied by 3, gives the exact circumference of a circle, the diameter of which is 16 inches; therefore to square a circle, giving its exact area in the form of a square, divide its diameter by 16 and multiply the quotient by 14.2, and to get the exact circumference of a circle divide diameter by 1 and multiply by 101¼."

NATIONAL CONVENTION OF THE O. U. A. M.

Wheeling, September 18.—The National Council of the O. U. A. M. will convene in this city next week. The convention will be opened on Tuesday morning and will continue in session four days. The meeting will probably be the largest and best ever held in the history of the order, owing to its growth since last year.

On Tuesday the session will be very short, only the regular opening business being attended to. In the afternoon will be held the big parade, and headed by Meister's full band, the procession will parade through the principal streets of the town. In the parade will be the Uniformed Ranks of Muncie, Ind., Warren, O., Bellaire, O., McMechan and all of the subordinate councils of the neighborhood. It will be one of the largest lodge demonstrations ever seen in Wheeling. The parade will be in charge of Major General Dickinson, of the Loyal Legion, and his staff, whose experience will enable him to handle the immense procession in true military order.

The reception at the Arion hall on Wednesday evening will be one of the most enjoyable events of their entire stay in the city. Everything will be done for the comfort and convenience of the visitors, and the program mapped out is a very elegant one. The citizens of the city earnestly welcome the convention here, and will make every possible effort to make the delegates feel at home. Their headquarters during their sojourn will be at the McLure. The convention will be attended by delegates from almost every state in the Union.

The decision of the supreme court as to the validity of the intended method of printing the pending constitutional amendments on the official ballot probably will determine the fate of the suggested changes in the state's organic law.

The plan of presenting the amendments to the voters was devised in order that a straight Republican or a straight Democratic vote might be counted as favoring such of the constitutional changes as received the approval of the respective state conventions. Past experience has shown, says the Ohio State Journal, that it is practically impossible to secure a majority of the votes cast at a general election for a proposed amendment printed on a separate ballot. The trouble has been that many thousands of voters have not taken enough interest in the questions presented to declare themselves upon them. This difficulty the Longworth act, providing for the printing of amendments indorsed by one of the state conventions in the party ticket, sought to obviate.

The Republican convention indorsed the three amendments, giving the governor the veto power, doing away with the double liability of holders of stock in Ohio corporations, and allowing each county at least one representative in the lower house of the general assembly. Of these three, the Democratic convention approved the last two named and also indorsed the amendment empowering the legislature to classify subjects for taxation.

If the method of printing the amendments is upheld by the court, the two approved by both conventions are practically certain of enactment; that giving the governor the veto power will have an excellent chance, while that providing for the classification of taxable property might receive the requisite majority vote.

It is to be hoped that the supreme court will pass upon the test case before the official ballot is printed. To have the method of presenting the amendments declared unconstitutional in advance would not cause the confusion which would result from such a decision after the election.

Go Prepared.

In preparing for your summer outing a little forethought may save you no end of trouble. Mr. John H. Mauly, a dry goods merchant, of Bellville, R. I., while packing an outfit for camping a few weeks on Narragansett Bay, put in a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy for emergency use. The second day in camp his little boy was taken with cramp colic. The first dose of this remedy gave relief and the second dose effected a cure. Think of the pain and suffering this boy would have had to endure without this remedy at hand to relieve him. Such cases often result fatally. For sale by Alvin H. Bulger.

THE NEW AIRSHIP

Built By Santos Dumont Is Cylindrical And Has Three Compartments.

The new balloon of Santos-Dumont (No. 10) is 48 meters long, and has a capacity for gas of 2,010 cubic meters. The gas bag is in the form of a cylinder, with rounded ends, that of the front tapering to a point. It is divided into three compartments by partitions, which keep the gas from sudden displacement. There are also two small gas bags inside the main one, to preserve the shape of the latter. The balloon carries two aerial propellers, one at the prow, the other at the stern. They are driven independent from a 60 horse-power petrol motor, weighing 160 kilograms, and situated between them. The framework of wood and steel wire is not unlike a lattice girder, with a triangular section, and weighs 100 kilograms.

This framework supports the motor, helices, rudder and basket of the pilot or aeronaut—that is to say, M. Dumont. Beneath it are suspended four basket cars for three passengers and a second aeronaut, who looks after the stopping arrangements and the passengers. The basket of M. Dumont, the driver, and the second aeronaut are conical, with a square bottom, and those of the passengers are conical, and about a meter in size. The new balloon having attracted the notice of the French military authorities, M. Dumont has offered it to the ministry of war in the event of war with any foreign power save Brazil and the United States.

EAST END

EAST END YOUNGSTERS LEAVE THEIR HOMES

Anxious Mothers Appeal to Police Authorities to Locate Their Missing Sons.

A trio of East End lads took French leave of their families and friends last night and decamped for Minerva where it is thought they intended to find employment in the plant of the Owens China company. Their departure came as a complete surprise and the greatest of alarm was felt by their parents when they failed to return to their homes at the usual hour last night. After an anxious night Mrs. Frank Hanley, mother of Harry Hanley, one of the missing boys, appeared at the East End station and asked the officers to assist her in locating the runaway. She thought her son would make his way to Minerva where he has relatives, and asked that the officials of that town be communicated with.

Captain Terrence telephoned the information to central station and a short time later Chief Wyman was in communication with the Minerva police. He learned that the boys had not been seen there. A thorough search will be made of the town and if the boys are found they will be held until their parents can be heard from.

Young Hanley is only 17 years old and the other two, Charles McCray and Will Morgan, are under age. The cause of their flight is not known.

East Enders Declare Noise from Sewer Pipe Plant Engine to Be a Nuisance.

Many complaints are heard every day among the people who live within a radius of half a mile of the plant of the American Sewer Pipe company over the irritating noise made by the exhaust from the powerful engines that operate the machinery of the plant. The noise made by the escaping steam is said to be very trying to the nerves of the people who are compelled to hear it constantly.

The matter has been called to the attention of Dr. W. E. Mowen, the East End member of the board of health, and he will recommend to that body that necessary steps be taken to remedy the matter.

Potts Played Policeman.

"Boom" Potts, who is said to hail from Toronto, played policeman around the sewer pipe works last night and he had the employes of the plant up in the air until the arrival of Officer Fisher. "Boom," it is stated, at one time served on the Toronto force and having accumulated a few slugs of liquor imagined that he was once more one of the finest. He merely wanted to show his authority, threatening to run the men in for all sorts of imaginary crimes. Potts had taken his departure when Officer Fisher arrived and he thus escaped arrest.

Lost Purse Recovered.

The pocketbook lost yesterday morning by R. R. Dawson, the Mulberry street butcher, an account of which appeared in this column last evening, has been recovered. An employe of Mr. Dawson's establishment and several others formed a searching party a short time after the loss was discovered and succeeding in finding the purse on the road along Little Beaver creek. The purse contained $48 instead of $7, as Mr. Dawson stated at first.

Testing Electric Drill.

The East End plant of the American Sewer Pipe company is giving an electric clay drill a test in its mine north of Pennsylvania avenue. The vein of clay now being worked by the company is one of the finest in the country, and to this fact is due the great success the plant has been enjoying. The clay is so compact that it has become almost impossible to use the ordinary hand drills.

Robert L Sold.

It was reported this morning that Will Larkins had sold his fine black pacer, Robert L, to Samuel Gallagher, a well known horseman of Beaver Falls. Gallagher saw the horse at Lisbon and thought so well of him that he at once made Larkins an offer. The horse has been showing great speed this season, having lowered his mark to 2:22¼. The price paid is said to have been $800.

Rev. Mr. Potter to Lecture.

Rev. J. M. Potter, of Brilliant, one of the most eloquent ministers of eastern Ohio, has been secured to make an address at the Second Presbyterian church next Sunday evening. The service will be preparatory to the rally day exercises to be held the Sunday following. Rev. Mr. Potter is a profound thinker and his effort promises to be highly interesting and entertaining. A full attendance is requested.

Cold Weather Interfered.

Despite the cold weather those who attended the P. H. C. picnic enjoyed it immensely. The program of sports arranged for the afternoon was seriously interfered with, but the evening was just right for dancing and a large number enjoyed it until a late hour. Next year the picnic will be arranged for an earlier date.

Will Make Improvements.

Henry Neininger has commenced extensive improvements to his Mulberry street property. A 30-foot addition will be added to the room formerly occupied by Robert Maxwell and this will be used by Mr. Neininger for his billiard room. The present billiard room will be used for a saloon.

Another Contract Made.

The excavating for the foundations for the new colored Baptist church edifice, Clay street and Pennsylvania avenue, has been completed and a contract has been entered into for the stone work. O. A. Shingleton was the successful bidder and he will start his men to work Monday.

EAST END AFFAIRS.

Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Myler have returned from a brief visit to Pittsburg.

Mrs. A. J. Marshall and children visited relatives at Bridgeport yesterday.

The infant child of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Watters, of First avenue, is quite ill today.

Dr. Ferrall has returned from a 10-day vacation trip at Wheeling, Cambridge and other points.

John Horger and family, of First avenue, have returned from a visit to their old home in Gallia county, O.

The Marines and the Wellsville Athletic foot ball elevens will meet tomorrow in a gridiron conflict. This will be the first game of the season in the East End.

Mrs. J. P. Leyenberger, of Toronto, has been visiting her parents, Rev. and Mrs. J. N. Swan, of Ohio avenue, for a few days. Rev. Mr. Leyenberger arrived yesterday and will remain over Sunday at the Swan home.

CLARKE'S PERIL.

The Offers to Bookwalter and Zimmerman of the Senatorial Nomination Should Warn Him of the Dangers to Him in the Flirtation With Toledo Jones.

How much cold comfort does Candidate Clarke get out of the news in the Johnson organs about the Jones and Johnson dickering over in Lucas county?

The plan proposed of pulling off the regular Democratic nominess for the legislature and substituting in their stead Jones non-partisans, may mean the loss of those votes for Clarke for United States senator, should any accident happen to elect them. In order to make the change on the Democratic ticket, Johnson has to throw down the regular Democrats of Toledo and Lucas county. The great "home rule" apostle of Cleveland must undo the nominations made by the Democratic convention in Lucas county. If Johnson thus betrays the Democrats of Toledo for his own purpose, how can Clarke count upon him with any confidence if it suits Johnson's purpose to treat Clarke in the same way when the time comes.

It must be remembered that Johnson, through Niles, negotiates with Jones, the professor of nonpartisanship. Jones has a ticket of his own for the legislature not named by any primaries, nor mass convention, nor even a delegate convention, but picked out just by Jones. Jones is opposed to all parties, you know, unless he is the whole party. Having chosen those he can use, Jones has sent out solicitors into the highways and hedges to secure signatures to put his own pet candidates' names upon the official ballot. Once put there by petition there is no practical way for getting them off the ballot, so Jones and Johnson propose to substitute this Jones gang for the regular Democratic nominees for the legislature, put upon the Democratic ticket by the Democratic county convention under the rules and precedents of the party.

Should anything happen that would elect these Jones-Johnson candidates to the legislature it would be by the votes of men of all parties on the nonpartisan pretense. As such they would not be bound by the Democratic nomination of Clarke, and that would cheat Clarke. Or if they voted for Clarke, that would cheat the men of other parties that they would need to make up their majority. It is not likely that they would care for Clarke, because he is a gold-bug, and the Jones men have no use for a United States senator who would vote for gold. They could not get the Democrats to rally with any unanimity for Jones, and that would leave nobody but Tom Johnson who could combine the two elements. As he "sacrificed" himself to run for governor, being "pressed" thereto, the same sort of pressure would persuade Johnson to accept the support of such a coalition for the senatorship.

Mr. Clarke need go no further into his own history in this matter than the way he was treated by Johnson in the recent Johnson convention. If there was any sincerity in Johnson's support of Clarke, what did Johnson mean by his two strenuous attempts to persuade Bookwalter to accept his support for United States senatorship? Then again, after Johnson had openly announced himself for Clarke, Bookwalter having backed out, by whose authority did Johnson's emissaries go to Zimmerman and twice offer him Johnson's support for the senatorship the very night before Clarke was put upon the ticket?

STRAY SHOTS.

The Columbus Press quotes with apparent approval this from the Champlain Democrat, of Urbana: "The great majority of the delegates favored the endorsement of John J. Lentz, of Columbus, for senator. Mayor Johnson, however, wished a Cleveland man endorsed and the convention acquiesced in his wish." But for the boss, then, Lentz might have been nominated. Lentz Democrats will naturally help Clarke all that they can.

The Chicago single taxer imported to prepare the Johnson platform, says in his paper that the Ohio election is really for the benefit of Tom Johnsonism in Cleveland. The capture of the legislature "is necessary," according to his words, "to the municipal reform he (Johnson) has undertaken to accomplish in Cleveland." Note the words, for they will be denied when Johnson gets cornered.

Sylvanus Strode, Democratic candidate for representative in the Morgan-Noble district, marched to Washington with Coxey. If he tells the truth about the times he will endorse Coxey's recent remark that if any of his old army of the unemployed are not working now "it is their own fault, as there is plenty of work." Democratic defeat helped to do it, too.

lessons at night; are we to take away from them the Welsbach light with all its brilliancy and convenience; and, if so, are we prepared to go to the extra expense of say $50 a house for electricity? In recent years hundreds of homes have been built with no reference whatever to a coal supply. Are we ready, just as winter sets in to spend from $25 to $100 each for a coal house?

"Let us also remember as we go along if the gas is shut off it will likely mean that the potteries will at times be completely closed down for lack of coal and of course great hardship will ensue to many of us who are in private life.

"We are told that the gas companies are only bluffing and that the gas will not be shut off. I have felt that they may not be bluffing. I feel personally very seriously concerned, and have spoken to many people in the past few days who feel as I do. My gas costs me about $60 a year. I surely do not wish to pay $75 if I can get it for $60. I confess I prefer to pay only a dollar and a half if I can get it for that; but I know this, that I cannot afford to impose the additional burden of the coal problem upon my wife, who has already as many household cares as I think she needs, and I therefore trust you will either make any honorable compromise necessary, or else withdraw your application for an injunction. This I advise strictly from the motive of self interest and comfort to myself and family and of those of many of my friends in this city who are similarly situated."

City Solicitor George E. Davidson was called on, and stated he did not believe the supply would be withdrawn from East Liverpool. The company has probably $500,000 tied up in this city, the amount being invested in pipe lines and other equipment, and they would not be justified in sacrificing this amount. That was not the question, however, as the corporation, if he understood aright, did not propose to abandon the territory, but rather to shut off the supply for a period of 30 days, and in that time it was calculated the people would be so inconvenienced they would make haste to have the supply turned back into the mains on any terms.

By this course the company would lose perhaps $35,000, but it could well afford to sacrifice that amount in order to bring about the desired end. The demand was unjust and there was no argument in favor of the demands made by the corporation, but it had the power to execute what it threatened, and it was for the people to decide whether they would prefer to pay the $1 minimum to having the supply taken away even for a month.

The solicitor advocated the plan of securing an expression from the people. They have urged the council on in the matter of securing an injunction, and it now seems many of them have changed their minds. It was for the citizens to say whether the movement should be carried on to the point of obtaining a decision from the court or withdrawing the application.

Mr. Davidson was followed by Thomas Hodge, who asked that provided the people did submit to the demands of the combination had the city anything by which it could hold the company to its word. Had the people any guarantee that the rate would remain where they had now placed it for any length of time?

Mr. Hodge was informed that J. H. Brookes, representing the corporation, had been construed as saying the company would be willing to sign a contract for ten years. If they would do this, it might be well to consider it, since it was at all times wise to look into the future.

H. W. Smith, who had been a member of the citizens' committee, talked upon the ten-year contract feature. It had impressed him very forcibly that as a simple business proposition, the citizens might do well to accept the arbitrary terms of the company. It might be only a few years until things would have so adjusted themselves and conditions so changed that 25 cent gas and a $1 minimum would be a very cheap proposition. With a ten-year contract to bind the gas trust the people of East Liverpool might, at the end of four of five years, be getting the cheapest gas in the state of Ohio.

It occurred to Attorney H. E. Grosshans, who next took the floor, that the gas monopoly was even more powerful than most people supposed. From a legal standpoint their rights in the present instance were unassailable. The officers of the combination, he understood, were non-residents of the state of Ohio. He also understood their main taps for the East Liverpool supply was located across the river in West Virginia. There was no law on any statute book to prevent the officials of the company from turning the valve in West Virginia and in that way cutting East Liverpool's supply completely out.

Thomas C. Neal, who is acting as the plaintiff in the case against the Fort Pitt company, made a strong plea for something that would afford relief from the exorbitant demands of the gas trust. He had at one time thought, and it was the general belief among fireigners, that this was the land of the free, but he feared it was changing about.

Robert Burford and George C. Thompson took up the argument from the manufacturers' standpoint. Mr. Thompson stated the shutting off of the gas from the factories and adopting coal could not fail to result disastrously to both the manufacturers and the workmen as well. A conservative estimate of the amount of coal it would require to supply East Liverpool had placed the amount at nearly two train loads per day. With the river a doubtful proposition at all times, and the railroad facilities in their present cramped condition, it would be a physical impossibility to get the coal here in the quantities it would require. Mr. Thompson had not been informed on the ten-year contract phase of the question, but thought the citizens would be fortunate indeed if they could obtain a contract at the increased rate for a period of ten years. He explained that when the $1 minimum demand was figured out, it was not such a serious matter after all. The cost per meal even at a dollar was a trifle over one cent, and he was not sure but what anyone who used gas at all would not consume $1 worth the hottest month of the year.

C. E. Macrum, though a disitnerested party, gave it as his opinion that if the citizens could secure a ten-year contract, it was an excellent business proposition, and they should not hesitate a moment in accepting it.

Several other consumers made remarks, and by motion of Bullock it was decided to call a mass meeting of consumers for this evening and that a vote be taken at that time upon the question of whether the solicitor should go ahead with the injunction, which involved the risk of having the gas turned off, or whether it should be dropped. Councilman Croxall suggested that all who attend bring their gas cards with them in order to guard against the meeting being packed. The motion prevailed, and an adjournment was taken.

PIN HOPE TO AMERICA

Europeans Look Forward to Peace Conference to Be Held in St. Louis.

English advocates of international arbitration and disarmament predict that the wisdom of the Vienna interparliament peace conference in selecting the St. Louis exposition as the scene of its next meeting will be strikingly vindicated. America's comparative aloofness from the interparliamentary peace movement is attributed to the fact that the conferences thus far have been held in Europe. The most active work in this line has gone forward beyond the range of the immediate interests of the American people.

It is believed that the St. Louis conference, which will probably be attended by the most influential arbitrationists of Europe, will enlist the sympathies and convictions of many leading men and women of the United States, and thereby bring the republic in line with other great nations which champion international law courts and smaller armies and navies.

Headed by William Randal Cremer, the Radical member of parliament for Haggerston, who is well known as a tireless pleader for arbitration in general and for Anglo-American arbitration in particular, the peace societies of London will take steps to advance the assembling of the St. Louis meeting. They are anxious to familiarize American politicians, publicists and thinkers with the achievements of the interparliamentary movement up to date. In order that the proceedings of the conference may take place in an atmosphere of thorough knowledge of the work in hand, literature dealing with the subject of international arbitration will be freely distributed.

Official opinion on this side of the Atlantic is strongly on the side of peace. Recent utterances on the part of the czar, the kaiser, the emperor king of Austria-Hungary, President Loubet and King Edward show how tired the heads of the European nations are of the continual strain of armed preparation they are compelled to maintain. They would gladly welcome judicial arrangements looking to a scheme for reducing the burden of modern militarism.

EAST END

EAST END YOUNGSTERS LEAVE THEIR HOMES

A trio of East End lads took French leave of their families and friends last night and decamped for Minerva where it is thought they intended to find employment in the plant of the Owens China company. Their departure came as a complete surprise and the greatest of alarm was felt by their parents when they failed to return to their homes at the usual hour last night. After an anxious night Mrs. Frank Hanley, mother of Harry Hanley, one of the missing boys, appeared at the East End station and asked the officers to assist her in locating the runaway. She thought her son would make his way to Minerva where he has relatives, and asked that the officials of that town be communicated with.

Captain Terrence telephoned the information to central station and a short time later Chief Wyman was in communication with the Minerva police. He learned that the boys had not been seen there. A thorough search will be made of the town and if the boys are found they will be held until their parents can be heard from.

Young Hanley is only 17 years old and the other two, Charles McCray and Will Morgan, are under age. The cause of their flight is not known.

East Enders Declare Noise from Sewer Pipe Plant Engine to Be a Nuisance.

Many complaints are heard every day among the people who live within a radius of half a mile of the plant of the American Sewer Pipe company over the irritating noise made by the exhaust from the powerful engines that operate the machinery of the plant. The noise made by the escaping steam is said to be very trying to the nerves of the people who are compelled to hear it constantly.

The matter has been called to the attention of Dr. W. E. Mowen, the East End member of the board of health, and he will recommend to that body that necessary steps be taken to remedy the matter.

Potts Played Policeman.

"Boom" Potts, who is said to hail from Toronto, played policeman around the sewer pipe works last night and he had the employes of the plant up in the air until the arrival of Officer Fisher. "Boom," it is stated, at one time served on the Toronto force and having accumulated a few slugs of liquor imagined that he was once more one of the finest. He merely wanted to show his authority, threatening to run the men in for all sorts of imaginary crimes. Potts had taken his departure when Officer Fisher arrived and he thus escaped arrest.

Lost Purse Recovered.

The pocketbook lost yesterday morning by R. R. Dawson, the Mulberry street butcher, an account of which appeared in this column last evening, has been recovered. An employe of Mr. Dawson's establishment and several others formed a searching party a short time after the loss was discovered and succeeding in finding the purse on the road along Little Beaver creek. The purse contained $48 instead of $7, as Mr. Dawson stated at first.

Testing Electric Drill.

The East End plant of the American Sewer Pipe company is giving an electric clay drill a test in its mine north of Pennsylvania avenue. The vein of clay now being worked by the company is one of the finest in the country, and to this fact is due the great success the plant has been enjoying. The clay is so compact that it has become almost impossible to use the ordinary hand drills.

Robert L Sold.

It was reported this morning that Will Larkins had sold his fine black pacer, Robert L, to Samuel Gallagher, a well known horseman of Beaver Falls. Gallagher saw the horse at Lisbon and thought so well of him that he at once made Larkins an offer. The horse has been showing great speed this season, having lowered his mark to 2:22¼. The price paid is said to have been $800.

Rev. Mr. Potter to Lecture.

Rev. J. M. Potter, of Brilliant, one of the most eloquent ministers of eastern Ohio, has been secured to make an address at the Second Presbyterian church next Sunday evening. The service will be preparatory to the rally day exercises to be held the Sunday following. Rev. Mr. Potter is a profound thinker and his effort promises to be highly interesting and entertaining. A full attendance is requested.

Cold Weather Interfered.

Despite the cold weather those who attended the P. H. C. picnic enjoyed it immensely. The program of sports arranged for the afternoon was seriously interfered with, but the evening was just right for dancing and a large number enjoyed it until a late hour. Next year the picnic will be arranged for an earlier date.

Will Make Improvements.

Henry Neininger has commenced extensive improvements to his Mulberry street property. A 30-foot addition will be added to the room formerly occupied by Robert Maxwell and this will be used by Mr. Neininger for his billiard room. The present billiard room will be used for a saloon.

Another Contract Made.

The excavating for the foundations for the new colored Baptist church edifice, Clay street and Pennsylvania avenue, has been completed and a contract has been entered into for the stone work. O. A. Shingleton was the successful bidder and he will start his men to work Monday.

EAST END AFFAIRS.

Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Myler have returned from a brief visit to Pittsburg.

Mrs. A. J. Marshall and children visited relatives at Bridgeport yesterday.

The infant child of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Watters, of First avenue, is quite ill today.

Dr. Ferrall has returned from a 10-day vacation trip at Wheeling, Cambridge and other points.

John Horger and family, of First avenue, have returned from a visit to their old home in Gallia county, O.

The Marines and the Wellsville Athletic foot ball elevens will meet tomorrow in a gridiron conflict. This will be the first game of the season in the East End.

Mrs. J. P. Leyenberger, of Toronto, has been visiting her parents, Rev. and Mrs. J. N. Swan, of Ohio avenue, for a few days. Rev. Mr. Leyenberger arrived yesterday and will remain over Sunday at the Swan home.

CLARKE'S PERIL.

How much cold comfort does Candidate Clarke get out of the news in the Johnson organs about the Jones and Johnson dickering over in Lucas county?

The plan proposed of pulling off the regular Democratic nominess for the legislature and substituting in their stead Jones non-partisans, may mean the loss of those votes for Clarke for United States senator, should any accident happen to elect them. In order to make the change on the Democratic ticket, Johnson has to throw down the regular Democrats of Toledo and Lucas county. The great "home rule" apostle of Cleveland must undo the nominations made by the Democratic convention in Lucas county. If Johnson thus betrays the Democrats of Toledo for his own purpose, how can Clarke count upon him with any confidence if it suits Johnson's purpose to treat Clarke in the same way when the time comes.

It must be remembered that Johnson, through Niles, negotiates with Jones, the professor of nonpartisanship. Jones has a ticket of his own for the legislature not named by any primaries, nor mass convention, nor even a delegate convention, but picked out just by Jones. Jones is opposed to all parties, you know, unless he is the whole party. Having chosen those he can use, Jones has sent out solicitors into the highways and hedges to secure signatures to put his own pet candidates' names upon the official ballot. Once put there by petition there is no practical way for getting them off the ballot, so Jones and Johnson propose to substitute this Jones gang for the regular Democratic nominees for the legislature, put upon the Democratic ticket by the Democratic county convention under the rules and precedents of the party.

Should anything happen that would elect these Jones-Johnson candidates to the legislature it would be by the votes of men of all parties on the nonpartisan pretense. As such they would not be bound by the Democratic nomination of Clarke, and that would cheat Clarke. Or if they voted for Clarke, that would cheat the men of other parties that they would need to make up their majority. It is not likely that they would care for Clarke, because he is a gold-bug, and the Jones men have no use for a United States senator who would vote for gold. They could not get the Democrats to rally with any unanimity for Jones, and that would leave nobody but Tom Johnson who could combine the two elements. As he "sacrificed" himself to run for governor, being "pressed" thereto, the same sort of pressure would persuade Johnson to accept the support of such a coalition for the senatorship.

Mr. Clarke need go no further into his own history in this matter than the way he was treated by Johnson in the recent Johnson convention. If there was any sincerity in Johnson's support of Clarke, what did Johnson mean by his two strenuous attempts to persuade Bookwalter to accept his support for United States senatorship? Then again, after Johnson had openly announced himself for Clarke, Bookwalter having backed out, by whose authority did Johnson's emissaries go to Zimmerman and twice offer him Johnson's support for the senatorship the very night before Clarke was put upon the ticket?

STRAY SHOTS.

The Columbus Press quotes with apparent approval this from the Champlain Democrat, of Urbana: "The great majority of the delegates favored the endorsement of John J. Lentz, of Columbus, for senator. Mayor Johnson, however, wished a Cleveland man endorsed and the convention acquiesced in his wish." But for the boss, then, Lentz might have been nominated. Lentz Democrats will naturally help Clarke all that they can.

The Chicago single taxer imported to prepare the Johnson platform, says in his paper that the Ohio election is really for the benefit of Tom Johnsonism in Cleveland. The capture of the legislature "is necessary," according to his words, "to the municipal reform he (Johnson) has undertaken to accomplish in Cleveland." Note the words, for they will be denied when Johnson gets cornered.

Sylvanus Strode, Democratic candidate for representative in the Morgan-Noble district, marched to Washington with Coxey. If he tells the truth about the times he will endorse Coxey's recent remark that if any of his old army of the unemployed are not working now "it is their own fault, as there is plenty of work." Democratic defeat helped to do it, too.

Canton's board of review has added $454,900 to the tax duplicate, while only $5,000 was added last year by the board of equalization under the old law. Other cities make like report of the result of this purely Republican act of the last legislature.

America's comparative aloofness from the interparliamentary peace movement is attributed to the fact that the conferences thus far have been held in Europe. The most active work in this line has gone forward beyond the range of the immediate interests of the American people.

It is believed that the St. Louis conference, which will probably be attended by the most influential arbitrationists of Europe, will enlist the sympathies and convictions of many leading men and women of the United States, and thereby bring the republic in line with other great nations which champion international law courts and smaller armies and navies.

Headed by William Randal Cremer, the Radical member of parliament for Haggerston, who is well known as a tireless pleader for arbitration in general and for Anglo-American arbitration in particular, the peace societies of London will take steps to advance the assembling of the St. Louis meeting. They are anxious to familiarize American politicians, publicists and thinkers with the achievements of the interparliamentary movement up to date. In order that the proceedings of the conference may take place in an atmosphere of thorough knowledge of the work in hand, literature dealing with the subject of international arbitration will be freely distributed.

Official opinion on this side of the Atlantic is strongly on the side of peace. Recent utterances on the part of the czar, the kaiser, the emperor king of Austria-Hungary, President Loubet and King Edward show how tired the heads of the European nations are of the continual strain of armed preparation they are compelled to maintain. They would gladly welcome judicial arrangements looking to a scheme for reducing the burden of modern militarism.

The operative potters' wage scale, which has been hanging fire an unusual length of time this year, is now adjusted or in shape to be settled, agreement having been reached on all points but two, which are to be submitted to arbitration. This outcome of the final conference between committees representing the manufacturers and operatives will be hailed with unbounded satisfaction in East Liverpool and Trenton and in all other towns where potteries are located. It will have the effect of stimulating the pottery business and business in general, and East Liverpool can look forward to continued and increased prosperity. The outlook for her principal industry is bright with promise. The operative potters and the manufacturers are to be congratulated for the conservatism and wisdom with which they have handled the delicate questions presented for their decision. The agreement to arbitrate points that the committees were unable to settle is especially commendable, and sets an example that may be followed with profit in the future. Unless all signs are misleading the Philadelphia agreement will give the pottery business a tremendous impetus.

The irrigation congress meeting at Ogden, Utah, calls attention to another boundless possibility in the boundless west. It is estimated that there are in the semi-arid zones about 600,000,000 acres of vacant public lands with sufficient water available under the storage system to irrigate one-sixteenth of it. In his address to the congress President Clark stated his belief that if the government would expend $10,000,000 annually for thirty years providing reservoirs sufficient to reclaim 20,000,000 acres the land reclaimed would provide homes for 12,000,000 to 15,000,000 people. As this sum might be easily realized from the sale of reclaimed goyernment land a magnificent contribution to the wealth of the nation could thus be made with but small outlay.

Instead of killing the chauffeur or arresting the owner of a scorching automobile the farmers of Wisconsin are going to shoot buckshot into the tires of the machine. They are not going to try to catch the violators of the speed laws. They have no horses that can go sixty miles an hour, and if they did catch a scorcher there would be no officer at hand to take him into custody.

City council has wisely decided to make haste slowly with the gas problem. However much the people may rail at the gas trusts, they are fast reaching the conclusion that 25-cent gas is much better than no gas at all.

Now that the pottery scale and the gas question have been disposed of it would be well to take up the telephone proposition in earnest and find out just where and how East Liverpool can make the best bargain.

The Salvation Army, in invading the stronghold of the feudists in the Kentucky mountains, is undertaking about as risky a piece of missionary work as modern crusaders ever engaged in.

There has been a blighting frost in certain sections of the west, but it was mild in comparison with that which will strike the Tom Johnson party in Ohio in November.

Now that the scale is settled, there will be less pottering and more potting.

Premier Balfour's cabinet does not exactly resemble a happy family.

The cold weather will bring the reluctant oyster out of his shell.

Kind Expressions for the News Review from Neighbors And Friends.

The annual outing of the Evening News Review was held at Rock Springs park on Tuesday. The big program of amusements and sports was carried out to the letter, and the record-breaking attendance enjoyed the grandest outing in the history of the park. The attendance, according to street railway officials, was between 17,000 and 18,000, East Liverpool and Wellsville being almost deserted, while the neighboring towns were well represented. The News Review is to be congratulated.—Potters' Herald.

Following the example set by the News 10 years ago of furnishing to the children of Mansfield an outing each year, Tuesday the News Review, of East Liverpool, gave its first annual outing to the children of that city. It was most successful in all its details, and was attended by no less than 15,000 people from the river town. The picnic was held at Rock Springs park, just across the Ohio river, one of the most beautiful spots in all the country. Editor Brush is one of Ohio's progressive newspaper men and the wonderful outpouring of people to the News Review outing was a well deserved tribute by the people of his city to the esteem in which he is personally held and the prestige enjoyed by the News Review. East Liverpool is to be congratulated upon having such an enterprising newspaper and it is deserving of the greatest patronage by the business men and people generally of the pottery city.—Mansfield News.

The outing given at Rock Springs park, W. Va., yesterday by the East Liverpool News Review, for people of East Liverpool, Wellsville and Chester, was the biggest thing of the kind ever attempted by a newspaper in this part of the state. In fact, it is questionable if any newspaper in the country ever conducted so largely attended and enjoyable a public affair.

Quite a number of Salem people were present and the newspaper fraternity of this part of the state was well represented. The actual number of people entering the park, taking advantage of the courtesy of the News Review, was in excess of 17,500.

Numerous free attractions were extended to children, and wherever possible features at the park were made free to adults also. Fred Irey, of this city, made two fine balloon ascensions and parachute leaps from Dr. H. W. Thompson's balloon.

The street car system from East Liverpool had more than it could do to convey people to and from the park.

The crowd attending the affair was the largest ever in the park, it is believed, and, without doubt, it was the happiest lot of people ever assembled within the confines of the pleasure resort. The affair passed off without any break in the management or any accidents to mar the occasion.—Salem Daily News.

AT THE THEATER

Newark (O.) American-Tribune: The Auditorium was opened last night by the Robison Stock company. Long before the performance began standing room was at a premium. The play was "Salome," a southern romance of the period of 1861-3 and it proved to be intensely interesting to the large audience. Margaret Neville as Salome Laveigne, essayed a rather difficult roll in a manner to bring frequent applause and proved herself a very capable actress, and one of the best leading women ever seen here in repertoire.

Between acts vaudeville numbers were introduced by Miss Snowden, who did a clever singing and dancing specialty, and Pearl Sizer, who proved herself to be one of the best singers of "coon" songs that has appeared here. At the Grand all next week.

"Cozy Corners," at the Grand last evening, drew a packed house, and Lizzie Evans and a splendid company gave a delightful presentation of the popular play. The boy quartet, the dancing of the Hennings trio, and the fine scenery, as well as the faultless acting, all elicited merited applause.

The annual outing of the Evening News Review was held at Rock Springs park on Tuesday. The big program of amusements and sports was carried out to the letter, and the record-breaking attendance enjoyed the grandest outing in the history of the park. The attendance, according to street railway officials, was between 17,000 and 18,000, East Liverpool and Wellsville being almost deserted, while the neighboring towns were well represented. The News Review is to be congratulated.—Potters' Herald.

Following the example set by the News 10 years ago of furnishing to the children of Mansfield an outing each year, Tuesday the News Review, of East Liverpool, gave its first annual outing to the children of that city. It was most successful in all its details, and was attended by no less than 15,000 people from the river town. The picnic was held at Rock Springs park, just across the Ohio river, one of the most beautiful spots in all the country. Editor Brush is one of Ohio's progressive newspaper men and the wonderful outpouring of people to the News Review outing was a well deserved tribute by the people of his city to the esteem in which he is personally held and the prestige enjoyed by the News Review. East Liverpool is to be congratulated upon having such an enterprising newspaper and it is deserving of the greatest patronage by the business men and people generally of the pottery city.—Mansfield News.

The outing given at Rock Springs park, W. Va., yesterday by the East Liverpool News Review, for people of East Liverpool, Wellsville and Chester, was the biggest thing of the kind ever attempted by a newspaper in this part of the state. In fact, it is questionable if any newspaper in the country ever conducted so largely attended and enjoyable a public affair.

Quite a number of Salem people were present and the newspaper fraternity of this part of the state was well represented. The actual number of people entering the park, taking advantage of the courtesy of the News Review, was in excess of 17,500.

Numerous free attractions were extended to children, and wherever possible features at the park were made free to adults also. Fred Irey, of this city, made two fine balloon ascensions and parachute leaps from Dr. H. W. Thompson's balloon.

The street car system from East Liverpool had more than it could do to convey people to and from the park.

The crowd attending the affair was the largest ever in the park, it is believed, and, without doubt, it was the happiest lot of people ever assembled within the confines of the pleasure resort. The affair passed off without any break in the management or any accidents to mar the occasion.—Salem Daily News.

AT THE THEATER

Newark (O.) American-Tribune: The Auditorium was opened last night by the Robison Stock company. Long before the performance began standing room was at a premium. The play was "Salome," a southern romance of the period of 1861-3 and it proved to be intensely interesting to the large audience. Margaret Neville as Salome Laveigne, essayed a rather difficult roll in a manner to bring frequent applause and proved herself a very capable actress, and one of the best leading women ever seen here in repertoire.

Between acts vaudeville numbers were introduced by Miss Snowden, who did a clever singing and dancing specialty, and Pearl Sizer, who proved herself to be one of the best singers of "coon" songs that has appeared here. At the Grand all next week.

"Cozy Corners," at the Grand last evening, drew a packed house, and Lizzie Evans and a splendid company gave a delightful presentation of the popular play. The boy quartet, the dancing of the Hennings trio, and the fine scenery, as well as the faultless acting, all elicited merited applause.

assessed in the original ordinance. Following is a copy of the contract accepted by council relative to Mr. Thompson's deed:

"To the City Council of East Liverpool, O.

"Gentlemen—We propose to make the city a deed for the land as shown by the city engineer's plat, to be necessary for the completion for the 40 foot street known as Pennsylvania avenue through the lands of the estate of Josiah Thompson, deceased. The consideration being that the City of East Liverpool hold and keep the owners of the abutting land free and clear of any assessments or expense of any description for any purpose made by reason of the opening, completing and maintaining of said Pennsylvania avenue.

"Yours truly,

Will Reed Gives Signed Bond, With Mi-o-na, the Flesh-Forming Food.

With every box of Mi-o-na, the flesh-forming food, and digestion regulator, Will Reed gives the following guarantee bond, binding him to refund the money if Mi-o-na does not give an increase in weight and cure dyspepsia and all stomach troubles.

GUARANTEE BOND.

I hereby agree to refund the price paid for Mi-o-na if the purchaser tells me that it has not increased flesh and given freedom from stomach troubles. WILL REED.

For years there has been a demand for a natural means for increasing flesh, and Mi-o-na has come to supply this need.

It is not a cod liver oil preparation, but a combination of flesh-forming elements, that regulates and aids digestion and restores health. It mingles with the food you eat, aids its assimilation, tones up and strengthens the digestive organs, and puts the whole system in proper physical condition.

Every one who is troubled with dyspepsia, has that tired feeling, loss of appetite, or is losing flesh or is in a run down condition, should take the guarantee bond to Will Reed and begin the use of Miona at his risk.

Remember that treatment costs you nothing unless it does all that is claimed for it.

WELLSVILLE

COUNCIL WILL MEET IN SPECIAL SESSION

Action Will Be Taken Tonight to Drop the Gas Injunction Proceedings.

Mayor W. L. Fogo today issued a call for a special meeting of council to be held this evening. The object of the meeting will be to reconsider the action taken against the Tri-State Gas company to restrain it from raising their rates and to decide whether or not the city shall take further steps in the injunction proceedings. Other business will also be disposed of at this meeting and the contracts will be let for the paving of Lisbon road and Steubenville street.

The mayor has issued the call at the request of a number of prominent citizens and because of having received petitions signed by a large number of property holders asking council to discontinue its proceedings against the gas company.

The meeting will probably be well attended and it is thought that a few of the citizens will have a word to say to council in favor of the gas company.

HEAVY FINES IMPOSED UPON TWO BARTENDERS

They Were Charged With Having Sold Liquor to a Minor Aged 18.

James Piett, an 18-year-old lad who resides at Yellow Creek, was found yesterday by City Building Policeman William Elliott with two half pints of whisky on his person. The boy was not drunk, as he had not had an opportunity to dispose of the liquor before he was seen by the officer. He was taken to the offiec of Mayor Fogo, where he told the mayor just where he had purchased the liquor and he described the bartenders who had waited upon him.

Investigation resulted in the arrest of C. W. Sharpe, a bartender employed at the saloon of William Savers, near Ninth street, and Charles McClain, bartender for Samuel Brubaker at his Third street saloon.

When brought before the mayor last evening in the presence of the lad, the two men pleaded guiity to the charge of having sold intoxicating liquor to a minor and each of the men were fined $29.60, which they promptly paid, being afterwards released.

POOL CONTEST

Woolweaver Defeated Daughaday With Ease—Last of Tournament Tonight.

The second contest of the semi-final games in the pool tournament now going on here for the amateur championship of the city, was played last evening at the Arlington pool rooms between E. S. Woolweaver, who defeated Albert S. Knapp on Wednesday evening, and Roy Daughaday, one of the winners in the preliminary games last week. The contest resulted in a victory for Woolweaver. He defeated Daughaday by 33 points. The score follows:

	Racks.	Fouls.	Points.
E. S. Woolweaver	13	12	100
Roy Daughaday	13	6	67

Albert Knapp refereed the game and kept score. The contest to be played this evening will be the next to the last one of the tournament. It will be played between E. S. Woolweaver and Clyde Cummings. The winner of this match will play tomorrow evening with D. W. Keppel, another of the last week winners. The one who wins the contest Saturday evening will be declared the champion and will be awarded the gold medal.

Colored People's Ball.

A grand colored ball and cake walk was held last evening in the dancing hall in the city building by the members of the Bill Bailey quartette. A large crowd of the colored people of this city, East Liverpool, Steubenville, Toronto and other surrounding towns were present. Good music was furnished and refreshments were served. The committee who had the affair in charge were F. Harris, William Huston and C. Brown. It was a grand success.

No More Base Ball.

The management of the Wellsville Shops Athletic association gase ball team has decided to discontinue all games for this season. A game was scheduled for Saturday afternoon with the West End Athletics of East Liverpool, but will not be played. The association will now place its football team in active practice at the Central park grounds and a game will be played at an early date. It is the intention to bring some of the fastest amateur teams in this section to this city to play the locals.

Looks Like Suicide.

The colored man named James Stitts or Steff, who was killed by a Panhandle train at Steubenville yesterday, had in his pocket a paper bearing the words, "Notify Goldie Cavanaugh, at Wellsville." This is regarded as evidence that he purposely got in the way of tne train. No Goldie Cavanaugh is known in Wellsville.

CHESTER QUIET AFTER SENSATION

Andrew Wigner, Who Sued His Wife, Goes Back to Pleasants County.

Chester has quieted down after the excitement created over the sensational Wigner-Cunningham case in the court of Justice Johnston yesterday afternoon.

Andrew Wigner, who made the charges against his wife and Cunningham, has returned to his home in Pleasants county, W. Va., and it is hardly likely he will make his appearance in Chester again. Mrs. Wigner remained at the room of the coupe occupied at the Weaver home over night, and Cunningham, after packing his earthly belongings into an "East Liverpool," paid his obligations and has not been seen since last last night.

As Mrs. Wigner was leaving thecourt room yesterday afternoon she took occasion to give hed husband a piece of her mind. She turned to him and said:

"You lied to me, Andy. You promised that if I gave you the cow and othe rthings which belonged to me you would not follow me, nor make me any trouble. Now I want you to go home and advertise everything for sale. You have made me spend $23 and I am going to have it back."

It is said Cunningham means to prosecute Wigner on a charge of living with him (Cunningham's) wife. The couple were divorced, but Cunningham states the intimacy dates back to a period before tne divorce proceedings.

Amateurs to Perform.

Amateur night at Rock Springs park theatre tomorrow promises to be a great one. The man of Ohio City will be present and the two little cake walkers and others, who will contest for the beautiful watch, to be given away to the winner. The audience is to be the judge. Albini will give an entirely new program and the rest of the show will give new acts. The performance will commence at 8:15 on account of the length of the program.

In a Critical Condition.

Mrs. Bunton, the aged mother of Mrs. Joseph Brunson, of Indiana avenue, is very ill. The lady has been in a critical condition for several days, and it is feared she cannot recover.

Bank Soon Ready to Open.

Judge J. A. Camubell, president of the First National bank of Chester was in town today in the interest of the institution. Matters in connection with the bank are progressing well and it will be opened to the public on October 1, as announced. Considerable time was spent today in collecting stock subscriptions, and it is now assured the several amounts will all have been paid in on time.

Loud Call for Light.

There promises to be a shaking up of dry bones when the lighting question comes before the town council at its meeting tonight. It is the announced intention of a number of residents of the upper end of town to have a few words to say. They have become extremely weary of waiting for the lights to be placed in position and say they will make a vigorous protest against further delay.

The Case Not Smallpox.

The card indicating that the home of Andrew Johnston was under quarantine has been taken down and the county health board has at last coincided with Dr. George E. Lewis in the opinion that the case is not smallpox.

WAYNESBURG SENT FOR REINFORCEMENTS

PITCHER AND SHORTSTOP SUMMONED IN HOT HASTE.

Against the Strengthened Team Will Appear Kid Barker and John Godwin.

When "Bib" Webb captured Collins' skyscraper for the third out in the ninth inning of yesterday's game, leaving the locals in the lead by a comfortable margin, Captain Haller, of the Waynesburg bunch, rushed over to the players' bench where his manager was sitting. "Give me the price of a long distance message to Waynesburg," Haller demanded and the manager produced the coin.

Then Haller took a sneak through the back gate and double-quicked it to the nearest long distance pay station. His message must have burned the wires, for Haller was boiling over with wrath. That the team that sent the Pirate pitcher, Wilhelm, to the woods, made almost an even break with Homestead and bested other renowned teams, should be made monkeys of by an aggregation of preachers, was too much for Haller. In fact, the whole bunch were looking for an easy thing but they realized that they were "up against it" before the game was two innings old.

That message last night brought Shortstop Kenney and Pitcher Williams to the city, and one or maybe both will be in the game this afternoon. Either Williams or Collins will do the twirling and Kenney will relieve Ganier at short field. If Collins pitches today Williams will go in tomorrow. Against him will be pitted Kid Barker, who is just home from a most successful season with the Bloomington team of the "Three I" league. It is almost a certainty that John Godwin will be in the game Saturday, and if he is the team will be the strongest that has represented the city this season.

The attendance yesterday shows that the people are greatly interested in the closing games of the season and the patronage from now on will be the largest of the season. The many friends of Godwin and Barker will take advantage of the opportunity to see them work out.

The manufacturers have refused to sanction the ten per cent increase for plain edged jiggered ware and the reduction of the number of cubic feet to constitute a day's work on biscuit kilns. The agreement is based on the last concessions made by the manufacturers which affect only potteries where the uniform price list is in effect. The concessions will go into effect the first full pay in October and the decision of the arbitration committee will revert back to October 1, in case the disputed points are not settled before that time.

The manufacturers were represented at the conference by W. E. Wells, H. A. Knoblock, Ed. Smith, W. L. Smith, Frank Sebring, Charles Franzheim, Col. J. N. Taylor, Archibald Maddock, John Maddock, John A. Campbell, Moses Collear, James Moses and William Burgess. The committee representing the Brotherhood comprised president T. J. Duffy, First Vice President Frank Hutchins, Henry Reed, Edward Menge, Thomas Humphrey, Enoch Wooten, Harry Hailes, John Wood, William Elder and Michael Carroll.

The first news from the conference reached here at 9:03 o'clock in a telegram from Thomas J. Duffy to H. O. Allison, manager of the Potters' Herald. The telegram is as follows:

"Settled. Propositions 9 and 12 to be arbitrated by disinterested committee. Previous concessions to manufacturers to stand."

The message was read from the stage in the opera house and by courtesy of Mr. Allison the news was soon generally known. A general feeling of relief prevailed.

assessed in the original ordinance. Following is a copy of the contract accepted by council relative to Mr. Thompson's deed:

"To the City Council of East Liverpool, O.

"Gentlemen—We propose to make the city a deed for the land as shown by the city engineer's plat, to be necessary for the completion for the 40 foot street known as Pennsylvania avenue through the lands of the estate of Josiah Thompson, deceased. The consideration being that the City of East Liverpool hold and keep the owners of the abutting land free and clear of any assessments or expense of any description for any purpose made by reason of the opening, completing and maintaining of said Pennsylvania avenue.

"Yours truly,

Queen's Life In Danger.

With every box of Mi-o-na, the flesh-forming food, and digestion regulator, Will Reed gives the following guarantee bond, binding him to refund the money if Mi-o-na does not give an increase in weight and cure dyspepsia and all stomach troubles.

GUARANTEE BOND.

I hereby agree to refund the price paid for Mi-o-na if the purchaser tells me that it has not increased flesh and given freedom from stomach troubles. WILL REED.

For years there has been a demand for a natural means for increasing flesh, and Mi-o-na has come to supply this need.

It is not a cod liver oil preparation, but a combination of flesh-forming elements, that regulates and aids digestion and restores health. It mingles with the food you eat, aids its assimilation, tones up and strengthens the digestive organs, and puts the whole system in proper physical condition.

Every one who is troubled with dyspepsia, has that tired feeling, loss of appetite, or is losing flesh or is in a run down condition, should take the guarantee bond to Will Reed and begin the use of Miona at his risk.

Remember that treatment costs you nothing unless it does all that is claimed for it.

WELLSVILLE

Action Will Be Taken Tonight to Drop the Gas Injunction Proceedings.

Mayor W. L. Fogo today issued a call for a special meeting of council to be held this evening. The object of the meeting will be to reconsider the action taken against the Tri-State Gas company to restrain it from raising their rates and to decide whether or not the city shall take further steps in the injunction proceedings. Other business will also be disposed of at this meeting and the contracts will be let for the paving of Lisbon road and Steubenville street.

The mayor has issued the call at the request of a number of prominent citizens and because of having received petitions signed by a large number of property holders asking council to discontinue its proceedings against the gas company.

The meeting will probably be well attended and it is thought that a few of the citizens will have a word to say to council in favor of the gas company.

They Were Charged With Having Sold Liquor to a Minor Aged 18.

James Piett, an 18-year-old lad who resides at Yellow Creek, was found yesterday by City Building Policeman William Elliott with two half pints of whisky on his person. The boy was not drunk, as he had not had an opportunity to dispose of the liquor before he was seen by the officer. He was taken to the office of Mayor Fogo, where he told the mayor just where he had purchased the liquor and he described the bartenders who had waited upon him.

Investigation resulted in the arrest of C. W. Sharpe, a bartender employed at the saloon of William Savers, near Ninth street, and Charles McClain, bartender for Samuel Brubaker at his Third street saloon.

When brought before the mayor last evening in the presence of the lad, the two men pleaded guilty to the charge of having sold intoxicating liquor to a minor and each of the men were fined $29.60, which they promptly paid, being afterwards released.

POOL CONTEST

Woolweaver Defeated Daughaday With Ease—Last of Tournament Tonight.

The second contest of the semi-final games in the pool tournament now going on here for the amateur championship of the city, was played last evening at the Arlington pool rooms between E. S. Woolweaver, who defeated Albert S. Knapp on Wednesday evening, and Roy Daughaday, one of the winners in the preliminary games last week. The contest resulted in a victory for Woolweaver. He defeated Daughaday by 33 points. The score follows:

	Racks.	Fouls.	Points.
E. S. Woolweaver	13	12	100
Roy Daughaday	13	6	67

Albert Knapp refereed the game and kept score. The contest to be played this evening will be the next to the last one of the tournament. It will be played between E. S. Woolweaver and Clyde Cummings. The winner of this match will play tomorrow evening with D. W. Keppel, another of the last week winners. The one who wins the contest Saturday evening will be declared the champion and will be awarded the gold medal.

Colored People's Ball.

A grand colored ball and cake walk was held last evening in the dancing hall in the city building by the members of the Bill Bailey quartette. A large crowd of the colored people of this city, East Liverpool, Steubenville, Toronto and other surrounding towns were present. Good music was furnished and refreshments were served. The committee who had the affair in charge were F. Harris, William Huston and C. Brown. It was a grand success.

No More Base Ball.

The management of the Wellsville Sheps Athletic association gase ball team has decided to discontinue all games for this season. A game was scheduled for Saturday afternoon with the West End Athletics of East Liverpool, but will not be played. The association will now place its football team in active practice at the Central park grounds and a game will be played at an early date. It is the intention to bring some of the fastest amateur teams in this section to this city to play the locals.

Looks Like Suicide.

The colored man named James Stitts or Steff, who was killed by a Panhandle train at Steubenville yesterday, had in his pocket a paper bearing the words, "Notify Goldie Cavanaugh, at Wellsville." This is regarded as evidence that he purposely got in the way of the train. No Goldie Cavanaugh is known in Wellsville.

CHESTER QUIET AFTER SENSATION

Andrew Wigner, Who Sued His Wife, Goes Back to Pleasants County.

Chester has quieted down after the excitement created over the sensational Wigner-Cunningham case in the court of Justice Johnston yesterday afternoon.

Andrew Wigner, who made the charges against his wife and Cunningham, has returned to his home in Pleasants county, W. Va., and it is hardly likely he will make his appearance in Chester again. Mrs. Wigner remained at the room of the coupe occupied at the Weaver home over night, and Cunningham, after packing his earthly belongings into an "East Liverpool," paid his obligations and has not been seen since last last night.

As Mrs. Wigner was leaving thecourt room yesterday afternoon she took occasion to give hed husband a piece of her mind. She turned to him and said:

"You lied to me, Andy. You promised that if I gave you the cow and othe rthings which belonged to me you would not follow me, nor make me any trouble. Now I want you to go home and advertise everything for sale. You have made me spend $23 and I am going to have it back."

It is said Cunningham means to prosecute Wigner on a charge of living with him (Cunningham's) wife. The couple were divorced, but Cunningham states the intimacy dates back to a period before the divorce proceedings.

Amateurs to Perform.

Amateur night at Rock Springs park theatre tomorrow promises to be a great one. The man of Ohio City will be present and the two little cake walkers and others, who will contest for the beautiful watch, to be given away to the winner. The audience is to be the judge. Albini will give an entirely new program and the rest of the show will give new acts. The performance will commence at 8:15 on account of the length of the program.

In a Critical Condition.

Mrs. Bunton, the aged mother of Mrs. Joseph Brunson, of Indiana avenue, is very ill. The lady has been in a critical condition for several days, and it is feared she cannot recover.

Bank Soon Ready to Open.

Judge J. A. Camubell, president of the First National bank of Chester was in town today in the interest of the institution. Matters in connection with the bank are progressing well and it will be opened to the public on October 1, as announced. Considerable time was spent today in collecting stock subscriptions, and it is now assured the several amounts will all have been paid in on time.

Loud Call for Light.

There promises to be a shaking up of dry bones when the lighting question comes before the town council at its meeting tonight. It is the announced intention of a number of residents of the upper end of town to have a few words to say. They have become extremely weary of waiting for the lights to be placed in position and say they will make a vigorous protest against further delay.

The Case Not Smallpox.

The card indicating that the home of Andrew Johnston was under quarantine has been taken down and the county health board has at last coincided with Dr. George E. Lewis in the opinion that the case is not smallpox.

WAYNESBURG SENT FOR REINFORCEMENTS

Against the Strengthened Team Will Appear Kid Barker and John Godwin.

When "Bib" Webb captured Collins' skyscraper for the third out in the ninth inning of yesterday's game, leaving the locals in the lead by a comfortable margin, Captain Haller, of the Waynesburg bunch, rushed over to the players' bench where his manager was sitting. "Give me the price of a long distance message to Waynesburg," Haller demanded and the manager produced the coin.

Then Haller took a sneak through the back gate and double-quicked it to the nearest long distance pay station. His message must have burned the wires, for Haller was boiling over with wrath. That the team that sent the Pirate pitcher, Wilhelm, to the woods, made almost an even break with Homestead and bested other renowned teams, should be made monkeys of by an aggregation of preachers, was too much for Haller. In fact, the whole bunch were looking for an easy thing but they realized that they were "up against it" before the game was two innings old.

That message last night brought Shortstop Kenney and Pitcher Williams to the city, and one or maybe both will be in the game this afternoon. Either Williams or Collins will do the twirling and Kenney will relieve Ganier at short field. If Collins pitches today Williams will go in tomorrow. Against him will be pitted Kid Barker, who is just home from a most successful season with the Bloomington team of the "Three I" league. It is almost a certainty that John Godwin will be in the game Saturday, and if he is the team will be the strongest that has represented the city this season.

The attendance yesterday shows that the people are greatly interested in the closing games of the season and the patronage from now on will be the largest of the season. The many friends of Godwin and Barker will take advantage of the opportunity to see them work out.

The manufacturers have refused to sanction the ten per cent increase for plain edged jiggered ware and the reduction of the number of cubic feet to constitute a day's work on biscuit kilns. The agreement is based on the last concessions made by the manufacturers which affect only potteries where the uniform price list is in effect. The concessions will go into effect the first full pay in October and the decision of the arbitration committee will revert back to October 1, in case the disputed points are not settled before that time.

The manufacturers were represented at the conference by W. E. Wells, H. A. Knoblock, Ed. Smith, W. L. Smith, Frank Sebring, Charles Franzheim, Col. J. N. Taylor, Archibald Maddock, John Maddock, John A. Campbell, Moses Collear, James Moses and William Burgess. The committee represenenting the Brotherhood comprised president T. J. Duffy, First Vice President Frank Hutchins, Henry Reed, Edward Menge, Thomas Humphrey, Enoch Wooten, Harry Hailes, John Wood, William Elder and Michael Carroll.

The first news from the conference reached here at 9:03 o'clock in a telegram from Thomas J. Duffy to H. O. Allison, manager of the Potters' Herald. The telegram is as follows:

"Settled. Propositions 9 and 12 to be arbitrated by disinterested committee. Previous concessions to manufacturers to stand."

The message was read from the stage in the opera house and by courtesy of Mr. Allison the news was soon generally known. A general feeling of relief prevailed.

REALM OF SPORTS

ALL SORTS OF PLAYS DURING THE GAME

The Raw Weather Was Bad for the Pitchers And Both Were Touched Up Rather Hard, Phillips Getting the Worst of It.

The melancholy days of the base ball season have begun at West End park. Though the day was dark and dreary and the several hundred spectators shook and shivered, the game was well worth watching. Very few ladies braved the raw weather and nearly every spectator within the grounds represented a paid admission. It was a bad day for the pitchers and Vasbinder and Phillips suffered a severe drubbing. Both teams had bad innings and more than the usual number of runs and hits were piled up. That the locals had the most at the end of the game was entirely satisfactory to the fans.

The Waynesburg bunch is certainly capable of putting up a much better article of ball than the offering yesterday. They have defeated some of the fastest teams in Pennsylvania and only a few days ago gave the Washington team an awful drubbing. Winham, of the Champion Pirates, pitched the game for Washington and the Waynesburg swatters sent him to the tall timber. They were up against another Stellar performer yesterday in the person of Vasbinder, the American league recruit. With the exception of the sixth inning, he held them safe at all times. In that round he worked under a great disadvantage, all the errors of the locals coming in a bunch. For a time it looked like the side would never be retired and a shout of joy went up when Houser handed McKeown's grounder to Webb for a force out of Haller.

The sixth round came as a genuine surprise for up to that time the locals had played one of the fastest games ever seen at West End park. Houser had been eating them up at second and Wallace, and the rest of the outfield had been doing a rushing business in the base hit killing field. It was a hard play on which to mark up a miscue but there was no way out of it.

Those wobbles kept the result in doubt until the last man was out, adding a zest to a contest that was full of all sorts of plays, from the wierdest up to the highly sensational. It was a genuine slugging match and the locals had a little bit the best of it. Wallace led with the willow, having three safeties out of five times up. Rising, the Monaca boy, who has just finished the season in the "Three I" league, had a single and a triple, while Heck, in spite of his crippled ankle, made the circuit on a long drive to left center. The drive marked Heck's entry into the home run squad. Gibby, Brown, Houser, Webb and Emmerling also wielded the willow with good effect and of the entire bunch Vasbinder was the only one who failed to connect. On the other side, C. McKeown carried off the swatting honors with four hits out of five chances. Grainer and Morehead both had pretty three-ply licks that figured in the run getting.

It looked like a walkaway for the locals when they made three in the second and the visitors were blanked inning after inning, but you can't sometimes always tell about base ball. In the start off the three visitors who came to bat met the horsehide squarely on the nose but in every case there was a fielder at the other end of the line. Ganier lined one to Wallace and Gibby had the disposal of Montgomery and Comfort. Houser singled in the locals' half, but Rising and Brown could not help him along.

In the second Vasbinder passed Morehead with two down and C. McKeown singled but Phillips failed Houser to Heck. McDonnough was put out of business trying to field Heck's hot bounder. The ball struck his hand and unluckily for Heck bounded to Ganier, who threw him out. Phillips went to the slab and all save one of the locals' hits were made off him. Webb, the first man to face Phillips, was given life when C. McKeown fumbled his grounder. Vasbinder was hit by a pitched ball and he scored with Webb on Gibby's pretty three sacker to right center. Gibby counted on a wild pitch.

Vasbinder scored in the fourth on a pass, his steal of second and L. McKeown's failure to hold Montgomery's assist on Gibby's grounder. The visitors scored twice in the fifth. Phillips walked, only to be forced by Collins. Ganier soaked one to the fence, good for three sacks, scoring Collins. Ganier went to third when Montgomery hit one along the third base line. He reached the bag just as Brown was reaching for the ball. The ball looked foul as Brown fell over Ganier trying to nail it, but Umpire Reark called it fair and it counted for two sacks, Ganier scoring.

Three hits and only one run was the record for the locals' half. Wallace started with a single and Rising sacrificed him to second. Brown's clean lick scored him. Brown was thrown out at the plate trying to score when Montgomery booted Heck's grounder. Webb laced one out for two bags but failed to see Heck perched on third. Heck vacated and run down and nailed at home.

The sixth was a hoodoo inning for both sides. L. McKeown opened with a single and Morehead followed suit. Brown left third to field C. McKeown's bunt and Vasbinder, who got the ball, cold not catch either of the trio. The bases were full and Phillips' best effort was a fly to center, which Rising nailed and by a fine throw kept McKeown at third. Houser failed on Collins' grounder and L. McKeown counted. Houser tried to catch Morehead at third after the fumble, but Brown missed his throw and Montgomery and C. McKeown scored. Vasbinder fielded Ganier's easy one but threw wild to first and Comfort added to the general discomfort by pounding out a safety, scoring Ganier. Haller popped up a fly to short right, which Wallace dropped after a hard run, but L. McKeown ended the inning by forcing him at second. Five runs, four hits and four errors.

The locals did even better in their half, touching Phillips up for five clean raps, good for 12 bases and six runs. After Vasbinder had fanned, Emmerling hit safely and Gibson advanced him to second. Houser beat out a slow bounder, sending Duff up to third. Phillips balked on a throw to second and Umpire Reark moved Houser up a bag and sent Duff on home. Wallace followed with a clean rap, scoring Houser. Rising met one on the nose and sent it on a line to left, good for three cushions, he scoring on Phillips' poor throw to second to catch Brown, who had reached first on a pass and purloined second. Heck followed with his famous sack cleaner.

Morehead started the seventh with a clean three cushion shot and C. McKeown scored him with a single. That was the visitors' last offense in the tally line. The locals scored their last in the eighth. Wallace singled, purloined second and scored on Brown's clean rap.

Features of the Game.

Big Heck seemed to have it in for the visiting slabmen and sent several hot ones straight at them.

Rising is a fast fielder, a good hitter and a good thrower. He made good with the fans yesterday.

Wallace made his first error of the season yesterday as an outer gardener. He is making the best right fielder the team has had this season.

Webb is playing the game of his life these days. His work at second is not excelled by any player in the country. Yesterday he had nine chances at second and took them all nicely.

Pitcher Phillips brought the eighth inning to a sudden stop with a lightning double. Heck drove one at him on the line and the ball stuck in his glove. Brown was caught off second.

Off for the Mountains.

T. V. Canavan, the lightning money counter in the office of the East Liverpool & Rock Springs Street Railway company, leaves Monday for a two weeks' vacation, the most of which time will be spent among the hills of Butler county, Pa. This will be the first vacation that Teddy, as he is generally known, has taken during the three years he has been employed by the above named company. Teddy is not only a competent and obliging young man in the street railway office, but also has quite a reputation as a football player and manager as well as a bird and dog fancier. It will be remembered that he once took a light eleven to Steubenville and although they played good ball, the score was overwhelmingly against them. However, he will spend much of his vacation in looking for new material and organizing a country eleven with which he hopes to win back the lost laurels.

A Game Wanted.

The Legal Stars would like to arrange a game for Saturday with either the Marines or Glasgow. Those who desire to contest are requested to communicate with Al Calhoun, 127 Jackson street.

SPORTING MISCELLANY.

The Rochester, Pa., A. A. has won 19 consecutive games.

Ned Hanlon figures Boston superior in the box, and Pittsburg in every other position.

Hanlon remarks: "You cannot build up a team in one season, even with wads of money."

Benny Yanger says he will knock out Hanlon the next time they meet, just to show his superiority.

Jimmy Gardner, of Lowell, knocked out Tommy Daly, of Brooklyn, N. Y., in the twelfth round at Boston.

Dick Harley is thinking of taking a winter flier in black diamonds. He has a chance to go into the coal business in Chicago.

Points of Interest of Historic Field Visited by President—General McClellan's Name Not Mentioned During Ceremonies.

Antietam, Md., Sept. 18.—With brave speeches, inspiring music and earnest prayer the memory of New Jersey's warriors who fell on Antietam's gory field was honored. The president of the nation and the flower of New Jersey's citizenry were there to fittingly dedicate the beautiful shaft that the state has raised to her dead sons. The special train bearing President Roosevelt, Governor Murphy, Senators Keene and Dryden and a large party of national guard officers and prominent citizens reached the little station of Antietam after an eventful night's run from Jersey City.

During the afternoon the president, with Governor Murphy, Senators Keene and Dryden and accompanied by General Carmen, who commanded the Thirteenth New Jersey volunteers in the battle, entered a carriage and drove to various points of interest on the historic field. General Carmen gave the president a vivid description of the battle, indicating every point of interest and importance. The president alighted at Burnside bridge where some desperate fighting occurred; at "Bloody Lane," a scene of frightful carnage; at the beautiful national cemetery, in the center of which stands the colossal granite statue of an American soldier keeping silent guard over the dead lying buried there, and at the quaint little Lutheran memorial church.

During the drive, which occupied about two hours and a half, a singular fact was developed by the discussion of the battle. It was that throughout the ceremonies of the day, actively participated in entirely by citizens of New Jersey with the exception of the president, the name of the commander of the union troops in the great engagement, General George B. McClellan, a citizen and afterward a governor of the state of New Jersey, was not mentioned once. Governor Murphy himself recalled this curious although quite unintentional lapse and was concerned deeply about the matter, lest the omission might be misconstrued.

In conversation with the president about General McClellan the governor recalled the fact that he now lies buried in the city of Trenton, N. J. and that a member of McClellan's staff is one of his most intimate friends. He warmly eulogized McClellan as one of the great commanders of the war and as a governor of which New Jersey had reason to be proud.

MARYLAND REPUBLICANS MEET

State Ticket Nominated and Platform Adopted—Roosevelt Endorsed.

Baltimore, Sept. 18.—The Republican state convention nominated the following ticket: Governor, Stevenson A. Williams, Harford county; attorney general, George Whitelock, Baltimore city; state comptroller, L. E. P. Dennis, Somerset county.

The platform endorses the administration of President Roosevelt and favors his nomination in 1904; the present Democratic state administration in Maryland is denounced; a reform of the present election laws is demanded, and the adoption of a corrupt practices law to prevent bribery in elections is advocated. Legislation in behalf of a sewerage system for Baltimore city and to encourage the Chesapeake bay oyster industries is favored.

Impossible to foresee an accident. Not impossible to be prepared for it. Dr. Thomas Eclectric Oil. Monarch over pain.

CHINESE DRIVEN OUT OF TOWN.

Atrocities Committed by Mob in Nevada—Many Arrests Made.

Tonopah, Nev., Sept. 18.—A mob of 12 or 15 men invaded Chinatown Wednesday afternoon and at the point of guns compelled a number of Chinamen to leave town at once. Several who did not comply were badly beaten, dragged to the outskirts of the town and told to take the road to Sodaville. Later on all but one returned to town and notified the officers. They state that Ping Ling, a 73-year-old man, and the proprietor of a washhouse, was one of the victims and they believed he had perished on the road. Searching parties were sent out and they found his horribly mutilated body three miles west of town.

The Chinamen were also robbed of several hundred dollars before being run out of town. Eighteen men, mostly cooks and waiters, have been arrested and are now in jail. Among the number is F. M. Arandall, president of a labor union.

A meeting of the citizens of Tonopah was held at which 1,000 or more persons were present, and a committee was appointed to adopt resolutions denunciatory of the action of the men.

REALM OF SPORTS

ALL SORTS OF PLAYS DURING THE GAME

The Raw Weather Was Bad for the Pitchers And Both Were Touched Up Rather Hard, Phillips Getting the Worst of It.

The melancholy days of the base ball season have begun at West End park. Though the day was dark and dreary and the several hundred spectators shook and shivered the game was well worth watching. Very few ladies braved the raw weather and nearly every spectator within the grounds represented a paid admission. It was a bad day for the pitchers and Vasbinder and Phillips suffered a severe drubbing. Both teams had bad innings and more than the usual number of runs and hits were piled up. That the locals had the most at the end of the game was entirely satisfactory to the fans.

The Waynesburg bunch is certainly capable of putting up a much better article of ball than the offering yesterday. They have defeated some of the fastest teams in Pennsylvania and only a few days ago gave the Washington team an awful drubbing. Winham, of the Champion Pirates, pitched the game for Washington and the Waynesburg swatters sent him to the tall timber. They were up against another Stellar performer yesterday in the person of Vasbinder, the American league recruit. With the exception of the sixth inning, he held them safe at all times. In that round he worked under a great disadvantage, all the errors of the locals coming in a bunch. For a time it looked like the side would never be retired and a shout of joy went up when Houser handed McKeown's grounder to Webb for a force out of Haller.

The sixth round came as a genuine surprise for up to that time the locals had played one of the fastest games ever seen at West End park. Houser had been eating them up at second and Wallace, and the rest of the outfield had been doing a rushing business in the base hit killing field. It was a hard play on which to mark up a miscue but there was no way out of it.

Those wobbles kept the result in doubt until the last man was out, adding a zest to a contest that was full of all sorts of plays, from the wierdest up to the highly sensational. It was a genuine slugging match and the locals had a little bit the best of it. Wallace led with the willow, having three safeties out of five times up. Rising, the Monaca boy, who has just finished the season in the "Three I" league, had a single and a triple, while Heck, in spite of his crippled ankle, made the circuit on a long drive to left center. The drive marked Heck's entry into the home run squad. Gibby, Brown, Houser, Webb and Emmerling also wielded the willow with good effect and of the entire bunch Vasbinder was the only one who failed to connect. On the other side, C. McKeown carried off the swatting honors with four hits out of five chances. Grainer and Morehead both had pretty three-ply licks that figured in the run getting.

It looked like a walkaway for the locals when they made three in the second and the visitors were blanked inning after inning, but you can't sometimes always tell about base ball. In the start off the three visitors who came to bat met the horsehide squarely on the nose but in every case there was a fielder at the other end of the line. Ganier lined one to Wallace and Gibby had the disposal of Montgomery and Comfort. Houser singled in the locals' half, but Rising and Brown could not help him along.

In the second Vasbinder passed Morehead with two down and C. McKeown singled but Phillips failed Houser to Heck. McDonnough was put out of business trying to field Heck's hot bounder. The ball struck his hand and unluckily for Heck bounded to Ganier, who threw him out. Phillips went to the slab and all save one of the locals' hits were made off him. Webb, the first man to face Phillips, was given life when C. McKeown fumbled his grounder. Vasbinder was hit by a pitched ball and he scored with Webb on Gibby's pretty three sacker to right center. Gibby counted on a wild pitch.

Vasbinder scored in the fourth on a pass, his steal of second and L. McKeown's failure to hold Montgomery's assist on Gibby's grounder. The visitors scored twice in the fifth. Phillips walked, only to be forced by Collins. Ganier soaked one to the fence, good for three sacks, scoring Collins. Ganier went to third when Montgomery hit one along the third base line. He reached the bag just as Brown was reaching for the ball. The ball looked foul as Brown fell over Ganier trying to nail it, but Umpire Reark called it fair and it counted for two sacks, Ganier scoring.

Three hits and only one run was the record for the locals' half. Wallace started with a single and Rising sacrificed him to second. Brown's clean lick scored him. Brown was thrown out at the plate trying to score when Montgomery booted Heck's grounder. Webb laced one out for two bags but failed to see Heck perched on third. Heck vacated and run down and nailed at home.

The sixth was a hoodoo inning for both sides. L. McKeown opened with a single and Morehead followed suit. Brown left third to field C. McKeown's bunt and Vasbinder, who got the ball, cold not catch either of the trio. The bases were full and Phillips' best effort was a fly to center, which Rising nailed and by a fine throw kept McKeown at third. Houser failed on Collins' grounder and L. McKeown counted. Houser tried to catch Morehead at third after the fumble, but Brown missed his throw and Montgomery and C. McKeown scored. Vasbinder fielded Ganier's easy one but threw wild to first and Comfort added to the general discomfort by pounding out a safety, scoring Ganier. Haller popped up a fly to short right, which Wallace dropped after a hard run, but L. McKeown ended the inning by forcing him at second. Five runs, four hits and four errors.

The locals did even better in their half, touching Phillips up for five clean raps, good for 12 bases and six runs. After Vasbinder had fanned Emmerling hit safely and Gibson advanced him to second. Houser beat out a slow bounder, sending Duff up to third. Phillips balked on a throw to second and Umpire Reark moved Houser up a bag and sent Duff on home. Wallace followed with a clean rap, scoring Houser. Rising met one on the nose and sent it on a line to left, good for three cushions, he scoring on Phillips' poor throw to second to catch Brown, who had reached first on a pass and purloined second. Heck followed with his famous sack cleaner.

Morehead started the seventh with a clean three cushion shot and C. McKeown scored him with a single. That was the visitors' last offense in the tally line. The locals scored their last in the eighth. Wallace singled, purloined second and scored on Brown's clean rap.

Features of the Game.

Big Heck seemed to have it in for the visiting slabmen and sent several hot ones straight at them.

Rising is a fast fielder, a good hitter and a good thrower. He made good with the fans yesterday.

Wallace made his first error of the season yesterday as an outer gardener. He is making the best right fielder the team has had this season.

Webb is playing the game of his life these days. His work at second is not excelled by any player in the country. Yesterday he had nine chances at second and took them all nicely.

Pitcher Phillips brought the eighth inning to a sudden stop with a lightning double. Heck drove one at him on the line and the ball stuck in his glove. Brown was caught off second.

Off for the Mountains.

T. V. Canavan, the lightning money counter in the office of the East Liverpool & Rock Springs Street Railway company, leaves Monday for a two weeks' vacation, the most of which time will be spent among the hills of Butler county, Pa. This will be the first vacation that Teddy, as he is generally known, has taken during the three years he has been employed by the above named company. Teddy is not only a competent and obliging young man in the street railway office, but also has quite a reputation as a football player and manager as well as a bird and dog fancier. It will be remembered that he once took a light eleven to Steubenville and although they played good ball, the score was overwhelmingly against them. However, he will spend much of his vacation in looking for new material and organizing a country eleven with which he hopes to win back the lost laurels.

A Game Wanted.

The Legal Stars would like to arrange a game for Saturday with either the Marines or Glasgow. Those who desire to contest are requested to communicate with Al Calhoun, 127 Jackson street.

SPORTING MISCELLANY.

The Rochester, Pa., A. A. has won 19 consecutive games.

Ned Hanlon figures Boston superior in the box, and Pittsburg in every other position.

Hanlon remarks: "You cannot build up a team in one season, even with wads of money."

Benny Yanger says he will knock out Hanlon the next time they meet, just to show his superiority.

Jimmy Gardner, of Lowell, knocked out Tommy Daly, of Brooklyn, N. Y., in the twelfth round at Boston.

Dick Harley is thinking of taking a winter flier in black diamonds. He has a chance to go into the coal business in Chicago.

The president of the nation and the flower of New Jersey's citizenry were there to fittingly dedicate the beautiful shaft that the state has raised to her dead sons. The special train bearing President Roosevelt, Governor Murphy, Senators Keene and Dryden and a large party of national guard officers and prominent citizens reached the little station of Antietam after an eventful night's run from Jersey City.

During the afternoon the president, with Governor Murphy, Senators Keene and Dryden and accompanied by General Carmen, who commanded the Thirteenth New Jersey volunteers in the battle, entered a carriage and drove to various points of interest on the historic field. General Carmen gave the president a vivid description of the battle, indicating every point of interest and importance. The president alighted at Burnside bridge where some desperate fighting occurred; at "Bloody Lane," a scene of frightful carnage; at the beautiful national cemetery, in the center of which stands the colossal granite statue of an American soldier keeping silent guard over the dead lying buried there, and at the quaint little Lutheran memorial church.

During the drive, which occupied about two hours and a half, a singular fact was developed by the discussion of the battle. It was that throughout the ceremonies of the day, actively participated in entirely by citizens of New Jersey with the exception of the president, the name of the commander of the union troops in the great engagement, General George B. McClellan, a citizen and afterward a governor of the state of New Jersey, was not mentioned once. Governor Murphy himself recalled this curious although quite unintentional lapse and was concerned deeply about the matter, lest the omission might be misconstrued.

In conversation with the president about General McClellan the governor recalled the fact that he now lies buried in the city of Trenton, N. J., and that a member of McClellan's staff is one of his most intimate friends. He warmly eulogized McClellan as one of the great commanders of the war and as a governor of which New Jersey had reason to be proud.

MARYLAND REPUBLICANS MEET

State Ticket Nominated and Platform Adopted—Roosevelt Endorsed.

Baltimore, Sept. 18.—The Republican state convention nominated the following ticket: Governor, Stevenson A. Williams, Harford county; attorney general, George Whitelock, Baltimore city; state comptroller, L. E. P. Dennis, Somerset county.

The platform endorses the administration of President Roosevelt and favors his nomination in 1904; the present Democratic state administration in Maryland is denounced; a reform of the present election laws is demanded, and the adoption of a corrupt practices law to prevent bribery in elections is advocated. Legislation in behalf of a sewerage system for Baltimore city and to encourage the Chesapeake bay oyster industries is favored.

Atrocities Committed by Mob in Nevada—Many Arrests Made.

Tonopah, Nev., Sept. 18.—A mob of 12 or 15 men invaded Chinatown Wednesday afternoon and at the point of guns compelled a number of Chinamen to leave town at once. Several who did not comply were badly beaten, dragged to the outskirts of the town and told to take the road to Sodaville. Later on all but one returned to town and notified the officers. They state that Ping Ling, a 73-year-old man, and the proprietor of a washhouse, was one of the victims and they believed he had perished on the road. Searching parties were sent out and they found his horribly mutilated body three miles west of town.

The Chinamen were also robbed of several hundred dollars before being run out of town. Eighteen men, mostly cooks and waiters, have been arrested and are now in jail. Among the number is F. M. Arandall, president of a labor union.

A meeting of the citizens of Tonopah was held at which 1,000 or more persons were present, and a committee was appointed to adopt resolutions denunciatory of the action of the men.

DON'T DELAY.

It is "Putting Off" Till Some Other Day that Causes so Many Sudden Deaths.

If its for the kidneys, liver, bladder or blood, rheumatism, dyspepsia, chronic constipation, or the weaknesses peculiar to women, the most efficient medicine known to the medical profession is Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy, and a very simple way to find out if you need it, is to put some urine in a glass tumbler and let it stand 24 hours; if it has a sediment or a milky, cloudy appearance, if it is ropy or stringy, pale or discolored, you do not need a physician to tell you that your kidneys and bladder are badly affected.

The Rev. Theodore Hunter, pastor of the Presbyterian Church, Greensburg, Ky., writes us the following:

"It gives me much pleasure to state that I have received great benefit from the use of Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy. Some time ago I had a severe attack of kidney trouble, but a few bottles of 'Favorite Remedy' have entirely removed the malady."

"Favorite Remedy" speedily cures such dangerous symptoms as pain in the back, frequent desire to urinate, especially at night, burning scalding pain in passing water, the staining of linen by your urine.

It is for sale by all druggists in the New 50 Cent Size and the regular $1.00 size bottles—less than a cent a dose.

AGAIN STORM SWEPT

Another Fierce Gale Sweeps Atlantic Coast in Vicinity of New York.

MANY VESSELS AND CREWS LOST

Fishing Smacks Still Missing—Subway In New York Flooded—Narrow Escapes from Electrocution—Inmates of Widows' Home Have Close Call.

New York, Sept. 18.—Following Wednesday's hurricane came another severe storm yesterday. In New York city the gale blew at the rate of 67 miles an hour, which was stronger than Wednesday's gale. The damage was not so widespread, however, because the storm did not last so long.

Fishing schooners brought tales of disasters from all along the coast. At least half a dozen men were drowned from these boats, and it is feared that many more men met a similar fate, as several steamers are missing, some of which are known to have foundered. Eight smacks which formed part of the fleet overtaken by the hurricane at Five Fathom bank arrived, but the Sunshine, Daisy, Mercedes, Gaffney, Emily P. Wright, Orient and the Lillian Fernald are yet to be heard from.

Find Watery Grave.

Among the men who were drowned were Captain John G. Morgan and Fisherman Ned Peterson, of the schooner Basten, and Captain Silas Latham and Fisherman Peter Barr and Fisherman Lewis Wilcox, of the schooner Esther and Antie. Both Captains Morgan and Latham hail from Noank, Conn.

The mate of the M. A. Baston, who brought the schooner into port, said that it was in the attempt to clear one of the sinking smacks that Captain Morgan was knocked overboard, the schooner being thrown on her beam ends. The names of the boats that have gone down are not at present known. It is thought, however, that they may number four, carrying in all from 40 to 50 men.

During the height of the storm one of the United States cruiser Chicago's launches, carrying the paymaster, an engineer and four men, put off from shore at Tompkinville, Staten Island. The launch was swamped and all men went overboard. The paymaster had with him a satchel containing $27,000 but according to the regulations it was attached to a buoy. The light house tender Daisy put out from shore and saved the men. The money was also found.

Clothing Burned Off.

In Staten Island the wind unroofed the widows' home, tearing it completely off. The 50 inmates and the attendants happened to be at supper at the time on the other floor and no one was injured.

In this city, the subway, under course of construction, was flooded. Many of the workmen were injured and several of them received serious shocks from the electrical currents with which portions of the subway became charged. In the presence of thousands of people who gathered on West Thirty-fourth street Carmel Saleno was nearly electrocuted. He was caught between a water main and the channel rail and transfixed by the electric current. Screaming with pain the man made vain efforts to extricate himself, and to add to his sufferings his clothing caught fire. A great crowd collected, but for 10 minutes or more all efforts to rescue the man were futile. Finally a rubber coat was thrown over him and he was dragged out of the trench. All the clothing had been burned from his back. He was taken to a hospital, where it is said he will die.

At College point John Hess, a 12-year-old boy, became entangled in a live electric light wire. His father sprang to his assistance and himself became entangled in the wire. Both were very seriously burned, but were rescued by a woman, who, before she was successful in her efforts, was knocked to the ground half a dozen times by the current.

LONG CHASE ENDED.

Alleged Highwayman Captured In Montana by Detectives.

Kansas City, Sept. 18.—Detectives McAnamy and McGuire arrived here with Carey Snyder, whom they had arrested in a small town near Billings, Mont., more than a week ago. The return of Snyder was not made without a series of dramatic incidents and his imprisonment in Kansas City now ends the chase that was commenced in May of last year and extended over a great part of the United States.

Snyder is charged with holding up and robbing O. H. Stevens and his wife on the night of May 1, when it is alleged he secured diamonds and other jewels valued at about $6,500. Charles E. Farrow, now a prisoner in the county jail, is said to have confessed to the police that he was one of the robbers and implicated Snyder as the other. Snyder denied having any connection with the robbery. He is the son of R. N. Snyder, at one time a leading banker of this city.

Three Indictments Returned.

Washington, Sept. 18.—The federal grand jury returned three indictments in the postal cases involving two people, one of them being a joint indictment. The indictments are based on a contract or agreement for the sale of certain supplies to the postoffice department. One of the parties is said to be a former chief of bureau who had to do with large contracts which have figured conspicuously in the investigation. It is expected that the indicted men will be arrested within the next 24 hours. Several cases on which action had been anticipated did not materialize, but further indictments are expected shortly.

Toledo Gets Next Meeting.

Dayton, O., Sept. 18.—The Central States Water Works association adjourned to meet next year in Toledo. The following officers were elected: President, Frank J. Kelley, Cincinnati; vice president, T. R. Cook, Toledo; state vice presidents, Emil G. Heeger, Evansville, Ind.; W. H. Glore Covington, Ky.; James E. Bradick, Chattanooga, Tenn.; A. T. Holmes Grand Rapids, Mich.; M. E. McKinney, Wheeling; secretary, W. A. Veach, Newark, O.; treasurer, Charles E. Rowe, Dayton.

Mines Closed for Two Days.

Philadelphia, Sept. 18.—Seven anthracite collieries operated by the Pennsylvania Railroad company in the Wyoming, Shamokin and Schuylkill districts will be closed down today and Saturday. About 20,000 men and boys will be idle as a result. The restriction of production is made necessary by the fact that the steam sizes of coal have been piling up lately, and while there are full orders for the prepared sizes it is thought better to close the mines for two days.

Ten Thousand Massacred.

Sofia, Bulgaria, Sept. 18.—Reliable information has been received that the Turks have destroyed the town of Kastoria, 36 miles south of Monastir, and have massacred the population. The report of the massacre comes from sources admitting of little doubt, though the details are lacking. It was received with the gravest concern by the officials here. The population of Kastoria numbers about 10,000 persons and the massacre of such a number in one place, if the report be true, exceeds anything which has yet occurred in Macedonia.

Colonel Richard Lathers Dead.

New York, Sept. 18.—Colonel Richard Lathers, 84 years old, one of the most prominent southerners of this city and the representative from the chamber of commerce and Governor Dix sent in 1860 to the people of the southern states to try to dissuade them from seceding from the union, is dead. Colonel Lathers was born in Ireland and was brought to this country when 6 months old. His parents settled in the south. His grandfather was a colonel in the British army.

Slight Damage to Orange Crop.

Savannah, Ga., Sept. 18.—Captain W. B. Denham, general superintendent of the Atlantic Coast Line railway, who has just returned from a trip through the storm swept portions of Florida, says after having visited Punta Rassa that the town suffered almost no damage, despite rumors of its destruction. Leading orange growers believe that the damage to the crop will not be more than 5 to 10 per cent, instead of 50, as previously reported.

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Don't Know it.

How To Find Out.

Fill a bottle or common glass with your water and let it stand twenty-four hours; a sediment or settling indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys; if it stains your linen it is evidence of kidney trouble; too frequent desire to pass it or pain in the back is also convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder are out of order.

What to Do.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy fulfills every wish in curing rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in 50c. and $1. sizes.

You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful discovery and a book that tells more about it, both sent absolutely free by mail. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper.

REMARKABLE SPEED ATTAINED.

Electric Car Runs at Rate of 106 4-5 Miles Per Hour.

Berlin, Sept. 18.—An electric car ran at the rate of 106 4-5 miles per hour on the Zossen military road, said to be the highest speed ever attained. The engineers in charge of the experiments expect that 125 miles per hour will be reached.

The experimenting company, which is composed of various electrical companies and banks organized for this purpose, has just resumed the trials for the third time. It was found last year, when a speed of 99½ miles was achieved, that the 70-pound rails and ordinarily ballasted roadbed would not stand the strain. Since then the roadbed has been reconstructed with broken basalt and closely set with pine ties faced with oak, so as to have the springiness of the pine and the hardness of the oak. The new rails are a little over 100 pounds. Alterations have also been made in the motor.

The Genuine vs. the Counterfeits.

The genuine is always better than a counterfeit, but the truth of this statement is never more forcibly realized or more thoroughly appreciated than when you compare the genuine DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve with the many counterfeits and worthless substitutes that are on the market. W. S. Ledbetter, of Shreveport, La., says: "After using numerous other remedies without benefit, one box of DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve cured me." For blind, bleeding, itching and protruding piles no remedy is equal to DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve.

CHAMBERLAIN QUITS

Resignation of Secretary of Colonies Accepted by King Edward.

CORRESPONDENCE WITH BALFOUR

Cause at Heart Can Be Best Promoted from Outside—Colonies' Interests Discussed—Chancellor of Exchequer and Secretary of India Also Resign.

London, Sept. 18.—The official announcement of the resignation of Mr. Chamberlain and two members of the cabinet was made at Downing street in the following communication:

"The following ministers have tendered their resignations which have been accepted by the king: Right Hon. Joseph Chamberlain, secretary of the colonies; Right Hon. C. T. Ritchie, chancellor of the exchequer, and Lord George Hamilton, secretary for India.

"The accompanying correspondence passed between the premier, Right Hon. A. J. Balfour, and Mr. Chamberlain."

Then follows Mr. Chamberlain's letter dated Birmingham, Sept. 9, commencing "My Dear Balfour," in which he sets forth his reasons for his resignation. An extremely interesting feature of the letter is the following statement concerning a preferential tariff:

Preferential Agreement.

"For the present, at any rate, a preferential agreement with our colonies involving any new duty, however small, on articles of food hitherto untaxed, even if accompanied by a reduction of taxation on other articles of food equally universal in their consumption, would be unacceptable to the majorities of the constituencies. However much we may regret the decision, however mistaken we may think it, no good government in a democratic country can ignore it. I feel, therefore, that as an immediate practical policy the question of preference to the colonies cannot be pressed with any hope of success at the present time, although there is a very strong feeling in favor of the other branch of fiscal reform which would give fuller discretion to the government in negotiating with foreign countries for a freer exchange of commodities and which would enable our representatives to retaliate if no concession was made to our just demands.

Constitution Must Be Changed.

"If, as I believe, you share these views, it seems to me that you will be absolutely justified in adopting them as the policy of your government, although it will necessarily involve some change in the constitution. As secretary for the colonies during the last eight years I have been in a special sense the representative of the policy of a closer union which I firmly believe to be equally necessary in the interests of the colonies and ourselves. I believe it is possible today and may be impossible tomorrow to make arrangements for such a union. I have had unexampled opportunities of watching events and appreciating the feelings of our kinsmen beyond the seas. I stand, therefore, in a different position to any of my colleagues and I think that I should justly be blamed if I remained in office and thus formally accepted the exclusion from my political program of so important a part thereof.

Can Work Better Outside Cabinet.

"I think that with absolute loyalty to your government and with no fear of embarrassing it in any way I can best promote the cause I have at heart from the outside, and I cannot but hope that in a perfectly independent position my arguments may be received with less prejudice than would attach to those of a party leader. Accordingly I would suggest that you limit the present policy of the government to an assertion of our freedom in the case of all commercial relations with foreign countries, and that you should agree to my tendering my resignation of my present office to his majesty and devoting myself to the work of explaining and popularizing these principles of imperial union which experience has convinced me are essential to our future welfare and prosperity."

The first portion of this letter refers to Mr. Chamberlain's first speech on the subject at Birmingham and Mr. Balfour's reply to the corn tax deputation. Mr. Balfour in a letter to Mr. Chamberlain dated Sept. 16 says:

Balfour's Reply.

"Agreeing as I do with you that the time has come when a change should be made in the fiscal canons by which we bound ourselves in our commercial dealings with other governments it seems paradoxical, indeed, that you should leave the cabinet at the same time that others of my colleagues are leaving it who disagree on the very point with us both. Yet I cannot but admit that there is some force in your arguments in support of that course, based as they are upon your specified and personal relation with that portion of the controversy which deals with colonial preference. You have done more than any man living or dead to bring home to the citizens of the empire the consciousness of imperial obligation and interdependence between the various fragments into which the empire is geographically divided. I believe you to be right in holding that this interdependence should find expression in our commercial as well as in our political and military relations."

MALARIA

Germ Infected Air.

Malaria is not confined exclusively to the swamps and marshy regions of the country, but wherever there is bad air this insidious foe to health is found. Poisonous vapors and gases from sewers, and the musty air of damp cellars are laden with the germs of this miserable disease which are breathed into the lungs and taken up by the blood and transmitted to every part of the body. Then you begin to feel out of sorts without ever suspecting the cause. No energy or appetite, dull headaches, sleepy and tired and completely fagged out from the slightest exertion, are some of the deplorable effects of this enfeebling malady. As the disease progresses and the blood becomes more deeply poisoned, boils and abscesses and dark or yellow spots appear upon the skin. When the poison is left to ferment and the microbes and germs to multiply in the blood, Liver and Kidney troubles and other serious complications often arise. As Malaria begins and develops in the blood, the treatment to be effective must begin there too. S. S. S. destroys the germs and poisons and purifies the polluted blood, and under its tonic effect the debilitated constitution rapidly recuperates and the system is soon clear of all signs of this depressing disease.

PREFERRED DEATH TO DISHONOR

Chinese Consular Clerk Resented Policeman's Insult With a Blow.

Washington, Sept. 18.—Unless the unofficial advices received by the Chinese minister regarding the suicide at San Francisco on Tuesday of Tom Kim Yung, Chinese consular clerk, are found to be untrue, action will be taken with the view to vindicating the honor of the young man. The minister already has spoken to Acting Secretary of State Adee about the case.

These unofficial advices are to the effect that the young man was not arrested for gambling, but was insulted by a policeman, who accosted him on the streets of San Francisco. In resenting the insult he struck the officer a blow, which resulted in his arrest. Feeling that his arrest under the circumstances was a disgrace and indignity to one of his station he ended his life.

DON'T DELAY.

It is "Putting Off" Till Some Other Day that Causes so Many Sudden Deaths.

If its for the kidneys, liver, bladder or blood, rheumatism, dyspepsia, chronic constipation, or the weaknesses peculiar to women, the most efficient medicine known to the medical profession is Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy, and a very simple way to find out if you need it, is to put some urine in a glass tumbler and let it stand 24 hours; if it has a sediment or a milky, cloudy appearance, if it is ropy or stringy, pale or discolored, you do not need a physician to tell you that your kidneys and bladder are badly affected.

The Rev. Theodore Hunter, pastor of the Presbyterian Church, Greensburg, Ky., writes us the following:

"It gives me much pleasure to state that I have received great benefit from the use of Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy. Some time ago I had a severe attack of kidney trouble, but a few bottles of 'Favorite Remedy' have entirely removed the malady."

"Favorite Remedy" speedily cures such dangerous symptoms as pain in the back, frequent desire to urinate, especially at night, burning scalding pain in passing water, the staining of linen by your urine.

It is for sale by all druggists in the New 50 Cent Size and the regular $1.00 size bottles—less than a cent a dose.

Another Fierce Gale Sweeps Atlantic Coast in Vicinity of New York.

MANY VESSELS AND CREWS LOST

Fishing Smacks Still Missing—Subway In New York Flooded—Narrow Escapes from Electrocution—Inmates of Widows' Home Have Close Call.

New York, Sept. 18.—Following Wednesday's hurricane came another severe storm yesterday. In New York city the gale blew at the rate of 67 miles an hour, which was stronger than Wednesday's gale. The damage was not so widespread, however, because the storm did not last so long.

Fishing schooners brought tales of disasters from all along the coast. At least half a dozen men were drowned from these boats, and it is feared that many more men met a similar fate, as several steamers are missing, some of which are known to have foundered. Eight smacks which formed part of the fleet overtaken by the hurricane at Five Fathom bank arrived, but the Sunshine, Daisy, Mercedes, Gaffney, Emily P. Wright, Orient and the Lillian Fernald are yet to be heard from.

Find Watery Grave.

Among the men who were drowned were Captain John G. Morgan and Fisherman Ned Peterson, of the schooner Basten, and Captain Silas Latham and Fisherman Peter Barr and Fisherman Lewis Wilcox, of the schooner Esther and Antie. Both Captains Morgan and Latham hail from Noank, Conn.

The mate of the M. A. Baston, who brought the schooner into port, said that it was in the attempt to clear one of the sinking smacks that Captain Morgan was knocked overboard, the schooner being thrown on her beam ends. The names of the boats that have gone down are not at present known. It is thought, however, that they may number four, carrying in all from 40 to 50 men.

During the height of the storm one of the United States cruiser Chicago's launches, carrying the paymaster, an engineer and four men, put off from shore at Tompkinville, Staten Island. The launch was swamped and all men went overboard. The paymaster had with him a satchel containing $27,000 but according to the regulations it was attached to a buoy. The light house tender Daisy put out from shore and saved the men. The money was also found.

Clothing Burned Off.

In Staten Island the wind unroofed the widows' home, tearing it completely off. The 50 inmates and the attendants happened to be at supper at the time on the other floor and no one was injured.

In this city, the subway, under course of construction, was flooded Many of the workmen were injured and several of them received serious shocks from the electrical currents with which portions of the subway became charged. In the presence of thousands of people who gathered on West Thirty-fourth street Carmel Salino was nearly electrocuted. He was caught between a water main and the channel rail and transfixed by the electric current. Screaming with pain the man made vain efforts to extricate himself, and to add to his sufferings his clothing caught fire. A great crowd collected, but for 10 minutes or more all efforts to rescue the man were futile. Finally a rubber coat was thrown over him and he was dragged out of the trench. All the clothing had been burned from his back. He was taken to a hospital, where it is said he will die.

At College point John Hess, a 12 year-old boy, became entangled in a live electric light wire. His father sprang to his assistance and himself became entangled in the wire. Both were very seriously burned, but were rescued by a woman, who, before she was successful in her efforts, was knocked to the ground half a dozen times by the current.

LONG CHASE ENDED.

Alleged Highwayman Captured In Montana by Detectives.

Kansas City, Sept. 18.—Detectives McAnamy and McGuire arrived here with Carey Snyder, whom they had arrested in a small town near Billings, Mont., more than a week ago. The return of Snyder was not made without a series of dramatic incidents and his imprisonment in Kansas City now ends the chase that was commenced in May of last year and extended over a great part of the United States.

Snyder is charged with holding up and robbing O. H. Stevens and his wife on the night of May 1, when it is alleged he secured diamonds and other jewels valued at about $6,500. Charles E. Farrow, now a prisoner in the county jail, is said to have confessed to the police that he was one of the robbers and implicated Snyder as the other. Snyder denied having any connection with the robbery. He is the son of R. N. Snyder, at one time a leading banker of this city.

Three Indictments Returned.

Washington, Sept. 18.—The federal grand jury returned three indictments in the postal cases involving two people, one of them being a joint indictment. The indictments are based on a contract or agreement for the sale of certain supplies to the postoffice department. One of the parties is said to be a former chief of bureau who had to do with large contracts which have figured conspicuously in the investigation. It is expected that the indicted men will be arrested within the next 24 hours. Several cases on which action had been anticipated did not materialize, but further indictments are expected shortly.

Toledo Gets Next Meeting.

Mines Closed for Two Days.

Philadelphia, Sept. 18.—Seven anthracite collieries operated by the Pennsylvania Railroad company in the Wyoming, Shamokin and Schuylkill districts will be closed down today and Saturday. About 20,000 men and boys will be idle as a result. The restriction of production is made necessary by the fact that the steam sizes of coal have been piling up lately, and while there are full orders for the prepared sizes it is thought better to close the mines for two days.

Ten Thousand Massacred.

Sofia, Bulgaria, Sept. 18.—Reliable information has been received that the Turks have destroyed the town of Kastoria, 36 miles south of Monastir, and have massacred the population. The report of the massacre comes from sources admitting of little doubt, though the details are lacking. It was received with the gravest concern by the officials here. The population of Kastoria numbers about 10,000 persons and the massacre of such a number in one place, if the report be true, exceeds anything which has yet occurred in Macedonia.

Colonel Richard Lathers Dead.

New York, Sept. 18.—Colonel Richard Lathers, 84 years old, one of the most prominent southerners of this city and the representative from the chamber of commerce and Governor Dix sent in 1860 to the people of the southern states to try to dissuade them from seceding from the union, is dead. Colonel Lathers was born in Ireland and was brought to this country when 6 months old. His parents settled in the south. His grandfather was a colonel in the British army.

Slight Damage to Orange Crop.

Savannah, Ga., Sept. 18.—Captain W. B. Denham, general superintendent of the Atlantic Coast Line railway, who has just returned from a trip through the storm swept portions of Florida, says after having visited Punta Rassa that the town suffered almost no damage, despite rumors of its destruction. Leading orange growers believe that the damage to the crop will not be more than 5 to 10 per cent, instead of 50, as previously reported.

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Don't Know it.

How To Find Out.

Fill a bottle or common glass with your water and let it stand twenty-four hours; a sediment or settling indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys; if it stains your linen it is evidence of kidney trouble; too frequent desire to pass it or pain in the back is also convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder are out of order.

What to Do.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy fulfills every wish in curing rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in 50c. and $1. sizes.

You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful discovery and a book that tells more about it, both sent absolutely free by mail. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper.

REMARKABLE SPEED ATTAINED.

Electric Car Runs at Rate of 106 4-5 Miles Per Hour.

Berlin, Sept. 18.—An electric car ran at the rate of 106 4-5 miles per hour on the Zossen military road, said to be the highest speed ever attained. The engineers in charge of the experiments expect that 125 miles per hour will be reached.

The experimenting company, which is composed of various electrical companies and banks organized for this purpose, has just resumed the trials for the third time. It was found last year, when a speed of 99½ miles was achieved, that the 70-pound rails and ordinarily ballasted roadbed would not stand the strain. Since then the roadbed has been reconstructed with broken basalt and closely set with pine ties faced with oak, so as to have the springiness of the pine and the hardness of the oak. The new rails are a little over 100 pounds. Alterations have also been made in the motor.

The Genuine vs. the Counterfeits.

The genuine is always better than a counterfeit, but the truth of this statement is never more forcibly realized or more thoroughly appreciated than when you compare the genuine DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve with the many counterfeits and worthless substitutes that are on the market. W. S. Ledbetter, of Shreveport, La., says: "After using numerous other remedies without benefit, one box of DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve cured me." For blind, bleeding, itching and protruding piles no remedy is equal to DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve.

Resignation of Secretary of Colonies Accepted by King Edward.

CORRESPONDENCE WITH BALFOUR

Cause at Heart Can Be Best Promoted from Outside—Colonies' Interests Discussed—Chancellor of Exchequer and Secretary of India Also Resign.

London, Sept. 18.—The official announcement of the resignation of Mr. Chamberlain and two members of the cabinet was made at Downing street in the following communication:

"The following ministers have tendered their resignations which have been accepted by the king: Right Hon. Joseph Chamberlain, secretary of the colonies; Right Hon. C. T. Ritchie, chancellor of the exchequer, and Lord George Hamilton, secretary for India.

"The accompanying correspondence passed between the premier, Right Hon. A. J. Balfour, and Mr. Chamberlain."

Then follows Mr. Chamberlain's letter dated Birmingham, Sept. 9, commencing "My Dear Balfour," in which he sets forth his reasons for his resignation. An extremely interesting feature of the letter is the following statement concerning a preferential tariff:

Preferential Agreement.

"For the present, at any rate, a preferential agreement with our colonies involving any new duty, however small, on articles of food hitherto untaxed, even if accompanied by a reduction of taxation on other articles of food equally universal in their consumption, would be unacceptable to the majorities of the constituencies. However much we may regret the decision, however mistaken we may think it, no good government in a democratic country can ignore it. I feel, therefore, that as an immediate practical policy the question of preference to the colonies cannot be pressed with any hope of success at the present time, although there is a very strong feeling in favor of the other branch of fiscal reform which would give fuller discretion to the government in negotiating with foreign countries for a freer exchange of commodities and which would enable our representatives to retaliate if no concession was made to our just demands.

Constitution Must Be Changed.

"If, as I believe, you share these views, it seems to me that you will be absolutely justified in adopting them as the policy of your government, although it will necessarily involve some change in the constitution. As secretary for the colonies during the last eight years I have been in a special sense the representative of the policy of a closer union which I firmly believe to be equally necessary in the interests of the colonies and ourselves. I believe it is possible today and may be impossible tomorrow to make arrangements for such a union. I have had unexampled opportunities of watching events and appreciating the feelings of our kinsmen beyond the seas. I stand, therefore, in a different position to any of my colleagues and I think that I should justly be blamed if I remained in office and thus formally accepted the exclusion from my political program of so important a part thereof.

Can Work Better Outside Cabinet.

"I think that with absolute loyalty to your government and with no fear of embarrassing it in any way I can best promote the cause I have at heart from the outside, and I cannot but hope that in a perfectly independent position my arguments may be received with less prejudice than would attach to those of a party leader. Accordingly I would suggest that you limit the present policy of the government to an assertion of our freedom in the case of all commercial relations with foreign countries, and that you should agree to my tendering my resignation of my present office to his majesty and devoting myself to the work of explaining and popularizing these principles of imperial union which experience has convinced me are essential to our future welfare and prosperity."

The first portion of this letter refers to Mr. Chamberlain's first speech on the subject at Birmingham and Mr. Balfour's reply to the corn tax deputation. Mr. Balfour in a letter to Mr. Chamberlain dated Sept. 16 says:

Balfour's Reply.

"Agreeing as I do with you that the time has come when a change should be made in the fiscal canons by which we bound ourselves in our commercial dealings with other governments it seems paradoxical, indeed, that you should leave the cabinet at the same time that others of my colleagues are leaving it who disagree on the very point with us both. Yet I cannot but admit that there is some force in your arguments in support of that course, based as they are upon your specified and personal relation with that portion of the controversy which deals with colonial preference. You have done more than any man living or dead to bring home to the citizens of the empire the consciousness of imperial obligation and interdependence between the various fragments into which the empire is geographically divided. I believe you to be right in holding that this interdependence should find expression in our commercial as well as in our political and military relations."

MALARIA

Germ Infected Air.

Malaria is not confined exclusively to the swamps and marshy regions of the country, but wherever there is bad air this insidious foe to health is found. Poisonous vapors and gases from sewers, and the musty air of damp cellars are laden with the germs of this miserable disease which are breathed into the lungs and taken up by the blood and transmitted to every part of the body. Then you begin to feel out of sorts without ever suspecting the cause. No energy or appetite, dull headaches, sleepy and tired and completely fagged out from the slightest exertion, are some of the deplorable effects of this enfeebling malady. As the disease progresses and the blood becomes more deeply poisoned, boils and abscesses and dark or yellow spots appear upon the skin. When the poison is left to ferment and the microbes and germs to multiply in the blood, Liver and Kidney troubles and other serious complications often arise. As Malaria begins and develops in the blood, the treatment to be effective must begin there too. S. S. S. destroys the germs and poisons and purifies the polluted blood, and under its tonic effect the debilitated constitution rapidly recuperates and the system is soon clear of all signs of this depressing disease.

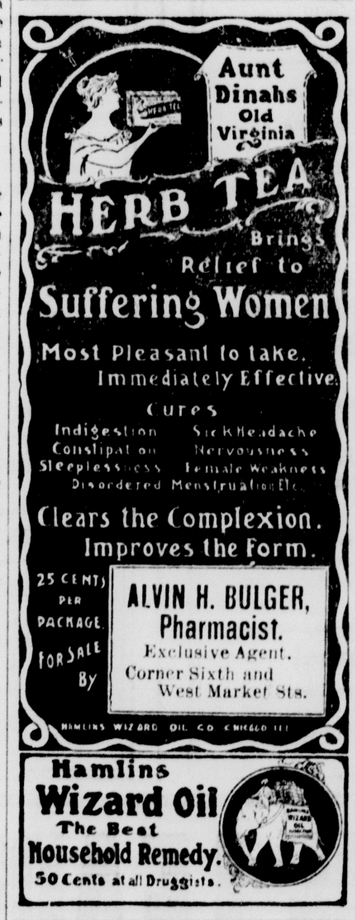
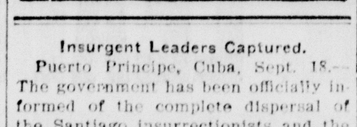
REFERRED DEATH TO DISHONOR

Chinese Consular Clerk Resented Policeman's Insult With a Blow.

Washington, Sept. 18.—Unless the unofficial advices received by the Chinese minister regarding the suicide at San Francisco on Tuesday of Tom Kim Yung, Chinese consular clerk, are found to be untrue, action will be taken with the view to vindicating the honor of the young man. The minister already has spoken to Acting Secretary of State Adee about the case.

These unofficial advices are to the effect that the young man was not arrested for gambling, but was insulted by a policeman, who accosted him on the streets of San Francisco. In resenting the insult he struck the officer a blow, which resulted in his arrest. Feeling that his arrest under the circumstances was a disgrace and indignity to one of his station he ended his life.





Insurgent Leaders Captured.

Puerto Principe, Cuba, Sept. 18.—The government has been officially informed of the complete dispersal of the Santiago insurrectionists and the capture of their leaders. Secretary of the Interior Yero has telegraphed orders for two troops of the rural guards to continue in pursuit of the fugitive insurrectionists until they are all captured or killed.

Scott Out of Danger.

Denver, Sept. 18.—United States Senator Nathan B. Scott, of West Virginia, who has been seriously ill at the Brown Palace hotel since Sunday night, is pronounced out of danger by the attending physicians.

SOCIAL EVENTS

Golden Wedding at Salem.

Salem, September 18.—Mr. and Mrs. John R. Wallace celebrated, at the hall of Amity lodge, I. O. O. F., their golden wedding, 150 members of Amity lodge and Home lodge, degree of Rebekah, being guests. Mr. Wallace is one of the oldest members of the former and Mrs. Wallace of the latter. John R. Wallace and Elizabeth M. Gardner were united in marriage at Pittsburg September 15, 1853, by Rev. A. M. Brian, pastor of the Cumberland Presbyterian church. They came to Salem in 1857. Three children of the union are living: Mrs. Mary Dunlap, Pittsburg; Charles Wallace, New Castle, and George Wallace, Salem. Mrs. Dunlap and daughter, Miss Mabel, of Pittsburg, were present at the celebration.

Sock Social.

A pleasant event in church social circles took place last evening in the First Christian church, when a large number were present to participate in the sock social. During the evening a brief but enjoyable program was rendered, as one of the prominent features of the entertainment. Simple and appropriate decorations were arranged in the large room where the social was held. The social proved to be a source of pleasure to all present and a financial benefit to the society.

Barlow-Cassidy.

Lisbon, September 18.—(Special.)—Edward H. Cassidy, of Pittsburg, and Miss Linnie M. Barlow, were married last evening at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Barlow a mile south of Lisbon. Rev. George Fowler, pastor of the Christian church, performed the ceremony in the presence of the family and a few friends. Mr. and Mrs. Cassidy went to Pittsburg today, where they will reside. Mr. Cassidy is identified with mercantile interests in Pittsburg.

Arrangements Completed.

The Ladies' auxiliary of the Y. M. C. A. have their arrangements almost completed for the mock trial, "Breach of Promise," which will be presented in the Grand opera house October 1 under the direction of Col. Newton of Worcester, Mass. A large number of tickets have already been sold. The trial will no doubt be a success, as Col. Newton is noted as a humorist of marked ability.

Reiss-Greenwood.

Lisbon, September 18.—(Special.)—Louis Greenwood, of Youngstown, formerly a clothing merchant at Lisbon, on Tuesday married Miss Hattie Reiss, a prominent lady of Cleveland. Mr. Greenwood has charge of the clothing department in a big store in Youngstown.

Wedded at Steubenville.

STRUCK BY A TRAIN AND HIS BACK BROKEN

A Lisbon Man Meets With a Mishap Likely to Result Fatally.

Lisbon, September 18.—(Special)—Frank Fisher, of a local grocery firm, received word from Canton yesterday that his father, John Fisher, had been struck by a locomotive Wednesday night and was in a precarious condition.

He is supposed to have been asleep on the track. He was removed to a hospital where it was found his back was broken.

Fisher was employed on a farm north of Lisbon. He is a middle aged man. He has not been living with his wife for several years.

LISBON RAILROAD KILLED A MAN

An Unknown Walking the Track Run Over By an Excursion Train.

Lisbon, September 18.—(Special.)—An unknown man was killed at Watt's mill, near the Pennsylvania line, by the east bound Pittsburg, Lisbon & Western fair excursion train late Wednesday evening.

The man was apparently drunk and walking on the track.

The body has been identified as that of Thomas Harper, aged 45, of Cannelton, Pa. He is said to have been unmarried.

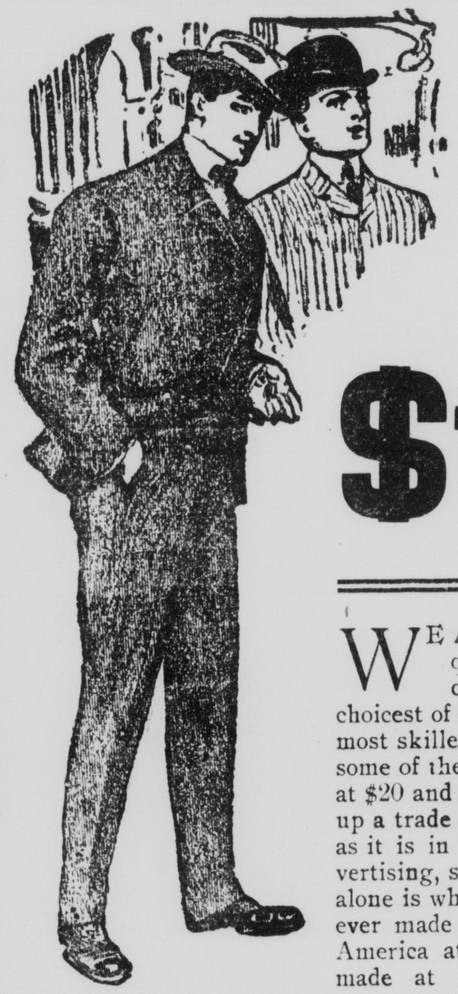
In Boys' Clothing

We did as much business the first week of September, 1903, as we did in the whole month of September, 1902. That's gratifying isn't it? Not from the standpoint of money making alone, but because it indicates that our efforts have been appreciated, and we truly have made efforts to surpass all former season's showings—to supply better grades, better styles and better values. It is a convenient thing for the boys and the boys parents to have a store in their midst carrying all the leading styles and offering them, too, at prices as favorable as can be found in any store in America

Boys' Suits as Low as $1.50.

Young Men's Suits as Low as $5.00.

Elegance in Boys' Knee Pants Suits $3 to $8.



Surpassingly Good Clothes For Men

WE ARE opening the season with the most exquisite selection of men's suits and top coats. Made of the purest of woolens—the choicest of designs or in plain weaves. Made by the most skilled tailors in America—the same precisely as some of the large eastern houses have on their counters at $20 and $25. We realize it is not so easy to build up a trade and hold it in a town like East Liverpool as it is in more cosmopolitan cities. Bombastic advertising, sensation won't do in East Liverpool. Merit alone is what counts. It is the best display we have ever made at the price. It is the best display in America at the price. Alteration, if necessary, is made at our expense. Perfect fit is assured.

HOME AFFAIRS

Brief Notes of a Personal Nature and of Matters About Town.

May Succeed Stephens—Prof. E. J. State, of Akron, will be in this city next week to look over the ground and consider a proposition to succeed P. J. Stephens as physical director of the Y. M. C. A.

Great Interest—The tent meetings that are being conducted on Fifth street by Evangelists Johnson and Taylor are largely attended and full of interest. Both the preaching and the singing are spirited and vigorous.

Councilman a Grandfather — A son has been born to Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Gavin, of Toronto. Mrs. Gavin was formerly Miss Nellie Cannon, of this city, daughter of Councilman Thomas Cannon, who visited the new and only grandson yesterday.

Mrs. Brock Set Free—The case of Ohio versus Mrs. Charles Brock, who was charged with stealing $65 from Nicholas Surroco, a Roumanian, while he was on her houseboat, was dismissed last evening by Mayor Weaver, who did not think the evidence sufficient to hold her for court.

Important Conference—A meeting of the quarterly conference of the First M. E. church has been called for this evening. Important church affairs will be discussed, and officers elected for the ensuing year. They will include the board of trustees, the stewards and officers of the church and Sunday school.

Big Picnic September 24 — At the meeting of the Patriarchs Militant to be held this evening, two new members will be initiated. Arrangements for the big picnic are progressing nicely. Word has been received here that special trains are to be run from Dennison, Mingo and New Cumberland The outing will be held September 24.

Cut His Arm—Charles Walsh, of the Walsh hotel, sustained several severe cuts on his left hand and wrist yesterday. The accident was caused by a bottle falling from a shelf, several of the pieces striking Mr. Walsh's hand and arm. An artery was severed just above the wrist.

Peru Wants Engineers.

Ogden, Utah, Sept. 18.—Chief Engineer Wolsott, of the United States geological survey, has received a letter from the Peruvian government asking that he appoint two engineers to take charge of the reclamation work in Peru. The positions are permanent and carry a large salary.

Prominent Educator Dead.

Marshall, Minn., Sept. 18.—Clarence Miles Boutelle, superintendent of the Marshall public schools for eight years and one of the leading educators of Minnesota, is dead of apoplexy. He was a native of New Hampshire, coming to Minnesota in 1859. He was an author of some reputation.

A pleasant event in church social circles took place last evening in the First Christian church, when a large number were present to participate in the sock social. During the evening a brief but enjoyable program was rendered, as one of the prominent features of the entertainment. Simple and appropriate decorations were arranged in the large room where the social was held. The social proved to be a source of pleasure to all present and a financial benefit to the society.

Barlow-Cassidy.

Lisbon, September 18.—(Special.)—Edward H. Cassidy, of Pittsburg, and Miss Linnie M. Barlow, were married last evening at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Barlow a mile south of Lisbon. Rev. George Fowler, pastor of the Christian church, performed the ceremony in the presence of the family and a few friends. Mr. and Mrs. Cassidy went to Pittsburg today, where they will reside. Mr. Cassidy is identified with mercantile interests in Pittsburg.

Arrangements Completed.

The Ladies' auxiliary of the Y. M. C. A. have their arrangements almost completed for the mock trial, "Breach of Promise," which will be presented in the Grand opera house October 1 under the direction of Col. Newton of Worcester, Mass. A large number of tickets have already been sold. The trial will no doubt be a success, as Col. Newton is noted as a humorist of marked ability.

Reiss-Greenwood.

Lisbon, September 18.—(Special.)—Louis Greenwood, of Youngstown, formerly a clothing merchant at Lisbon, on Tuesday married Miss Hattie Reiss, a prominent lady of Cleveland. Mr. Greenwood has charge of the clothing department in a big store in Youngstown.

Wedded at Steubenville.

STRUCK BY A TRAIN AND HIS BACK BROKEN

A Lisbon Man Meets With a Mishap Likely to Result Fatally.

Lisbon, September 18.—(Special)—Frank Fisher, of a local grocery firm, received word from Canton yesterday that his father, John Fisher, had been struck by a locomotive Wednesday night and was in a precarious condition.

He is supposed to have been asleep on the track. He was removed to a hospital where it was found his back was broken.

Fisher was employed on a farm north of Lisbon. He is a middle aged man. He has not been living with his wife for several years.

LISBON RAILROAD KILLED A MAN

An Unknown Walking the Track Run Over By an Excursion Train.

Lisbon, September 18.—(Special.)—An unknown man was killed at Watt's mill, near the Pennsylvania line, by the east bound Pittsburg, Lisbon & Western fair excursion train late Wednesday evening.

The man was apparently drunk and walking on the track.

The body has been identified as that of Thomas Harper, aged 45, of Canneiton, Pa. He is said to have been unmarried.

In Boys' Clothing

We did as much business the first week of September, 1903, as we did in the whole month of September, 1902. That's gratifying isn't it? Not from the standpoint of money making alone, but because it indicates that our efforts have been appreciated, and we truly have made efforts to surpass all former season's showings—to supply better grades, better styles and better values. It is a convenient thing for the boys and the boys parents to have a store in their midst carrying all the leading styles and offering them, too, at prices as favorable as can be found in any store in America

Boys' Suits as Low as $1.50.

Young Men's Suits as Low as $5.00.

WE ARE opening the season with the most exquisite selection of men's suits and top coats. Made of the purest of woolens—the choicest of designs or in plain weaves. Made by the most skilled tailors in America—the same precisely as some of the large eastern houses have on their counters at $20 and $25. We realize it is not so easy to build up a trade and hold it in a town like East Liverpool as it is in more cosmopolitan cities. Bombastic advertising, sensation won't do in East Liverpool. Merit alone is what counts. It is the best display we have ever made at the price. It is the best display in America at the price. Alteration, if necessary, is made at our expense. Perfect fit is assured.

HOME AFFAIRS

May Succeed Stephens—Prof. E. J. State, of Akron, will be in this city next week to look over the ground and consider a proposition to succeed P. J. Stephens as physical director of the Y. M. C. A.

Great Interest—The tent meetings that are being conducted on Fifth street by Evangelists Johnson and Taylor are largely attended and full of interest. Both the preaching and the singing are spirited and vigorous.

Councilman a Grandfather — A son has been born to Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Gavin, of Toronto. Mrs. Gavin was formerly Miss Nellie Cannon, of this city, daughter of Councilman Thomas Cannon, who visited the new and only grandson yesterday.

Mrs. Brock Set Free—The case of Ohio versus Mrs. Charles Brock, who was charged with stealing $65 from Nicholas Surroco, a Roumanian, while he was on her houseboat, was dismissed last evening by Mayor Weaver, who did not think the evidence sufficient to hold her for court.

Important Conference—A meeting of the quarterly conference of the First M. E. church has been called for this evening. Important church affairs will be discussed, and officers elected for the ensuing year. They will include the board of trustees, the stewards and officers of the church and Sunday school.

Big Picnic September 24 — At the meeting of the Patriarchs Militant to be held this evening, two new members will be initiated. Arrangements for the big picnic are progressing nicely. Word has been received here that special trains are to be run from Dennison, Mingo and New Cumberland. The outing will be held September 24.

A BIG REAL ESTATE DEAL PRESAGES BUILDING BOOM

Though the gentlemen refused to confirm the report when approached today, it is announced upon the very best authority that Geo. H. Owen & Co have closed the deal for the purchase of the Odd Fellows building, at the corner of Washington and Fifth streets.

It will be remembered that Mr. Owen obtained a 90-day option on the building several weeks ago and it was thought at the time the deal would be closed within a short time. The building is one of the best business blocks in the city, and the location is particularly desirable.

The consideration is being kept in the background, though it is known the order to which the structure belongs has repeatedly refused a figure in the neighborhood of $25,000.

The East Liverpool order of Odd Fellows, which is one of the richest in the state of Ohio, has owned a lot 40x130 on Sixth street for some time, it being a part of the Nagle estate. It is stated the lodge will commence the erection of a fine new business block on the site early next spring.

It can be stated with a reasonable degree of certainty that the Dollar Savings bank will occupy the Odd Fellows' building just as soon as the leases held by the Potters' Building and Savings association and others expire. The banking company has been looking for a permanent home ever since its organization, and it was stated when the institution opened its doors for business that the present quarters at Sixth street and Broadway were only temporary. The lease of the Potters' Building & Savings association, it is understood, does not expire until 1906, and the present deal will not interfere with the plans of the latter in any way, as the loan association will have plenty of time to carry out any plan its officials may now or hereafter have in contemplation.

J. J. Purinton sold to the Building and Savings association several months ago, a tract adjoining the corner lot owned by the Odd Fellows, and the former company will doubtless begin at once upon the construction of a building for its use on the new purchase. The Building and Savings people paid $19,000 for the Purinton property and with that amount invested will put up a block that will be a credit to the business section.

The latest deal is considered one of the most important in years, since it involves the construction of at least two up-to-date buildings—one for the Odd Fellows, to be located on Sixth street, and the other to be occupied by the Potters' Building and Savings association on Washington street, and the actual investment will be well up in six figures.

All But Two Points Settled and They Will Be Arbitrated. News Hailed With Joy in Industrial and Business Circles.

After a session which lasted from 10 o'clock yesterday morning until late in the evening, the conference over the wage scale between the committees representing the National Brotherhood of Operative Potters and the United States Manufacturers' association at Philadelphia was adjourned and the announcement made by both committees that all the matters in dispute, with two exceptions, had been satisfactorily adjusted. The two propositions upon which the committees failed to agree are known as Nos. 9 and 12, and it was agreed that they be submitted to an arbitration board, to be composed of five members, two to be named by the Brotherhood, two by the manufacturers and the four select the fifth.

The announcements mean that the threatened rupture over the demands made by the Brotherhood for better wages in some instances and better working conditions in others has been averted, both sides yielding to avert any action that would cause a suspension of the industry. The manufacturers and the Brotherhood have made good the declaration given to the public when the first conference was held last June that the differences would be adjusted without resorting to a strike. The rejection of the propositions submitted by the manufacturers led a number of people to doubt that a peaceful settlement could be effected, and the announcement from the Philadelphia conference comes as the most cheering bit of news heard in many months. Business will at once resume normal conditions for all that remains is the arranging of the details of the settlement, every element of doubt having been eliminated.

In submitting propositions Nos. 9 and 12 to arbitrators both sides agree to abide by the result. These two questions have been the bone of contention at all the conferences and have prevented an earlier settlement. Proposition No. 9 affects the jiggermen, they asking for an increase aggregating ten per cent on a number of articles of jiggered ware. The manufacturers offered to grant an advance, to pay for which the price of other jiggered articles was to be reduced. A settlement by a disinterested committee will not be a difficult matter.

Proposition No. 12 affects the kilnmen, who at the Wheeling convention had a resolution passed asking for a reduction in bisque kiln measurement from 212 to 200 cubic feet. The

It is certain that the revolution of sentiment in the gas controversy has at last struck the private consumer, and he is now as strongly in favor of staying the injunction proceedings as he was firm in the belief that the restraining order should be asked when the agitation first began. The city council is placed in a peculiar position and refuses to assume the responsibility of instructing the city solicitor to proceeding with the securing of an injunction. A mass meeting has been called for this evening at city hall, and an effort will be made to secure an expression from the citizens generally.

About 30 citizens met with the council last night, and if their views can be taken as an indication of how the remainder of the people feel, it can be announced with absolute certainty there will be no injunction asked. Councilman Moon was the only member absent last night when President Horwell announced the object of the meeting was to get some further insight into the gas question. The council desired to obtain an idea of what the people thought, and the first speaker called upon was E. D. Moore, who said:

"Mr. President and Members of Council: I believe I have never before had the pleasure of addressing your honorable body and only do so now because of the invitation which I have read in the city papers in which the citizens are asked to come here and express their views on the gas question.

"I do not stand here as the advocate of any gas company and am willing to admit, for the sake of argument, that the companies may be unjust and selfish and almost anything you may see fit to call them; but, even if they are all their opponents claim against them, that is still not the problem with which we have to do. A certain line of Shakespeare says, 'To be or not to be; that's the question?' Are we to go back to coal? If so, how are we to use it? So far as we are concerned in our home, we would have to go to $25 or $30 expense before we could even begin to use coal for heating, to say nothing of cooking. We have practically a new gas range which cost us $20 or $25. That must be thrown aside and a new coal stove purchased at say $20 or $25. It will cost us in plumber's bills several dollars to connect for hot water. Then, where are we to get our coal, and at what price? Certainly not by rail, for the C. & P. railroad does not have proper facilities to take care of its present ordinary business and it will not be able to do more until its double track system is completed.

"Again, as serious a phase of the difficulty as any is the matter of light. Shall we go back to the use of kerosene oil, the tallow candle or the pine knot? There are hundreds of school children who have to prepare their

COSTLY WORK FOR NOTHING

An interview with James Hague and Arthur Underwood, members of the Pennsylvania avenue equalization board, this morning reveals the startling information that action will undoubtedly be taken in the near future to have the assessing ordinance annulled. The result of such a step, that is if it proves successful, can mean but one thing—the hundreds of dollars expended since the improvement for the purpose of getting the cost equally distributed among those benefited thereby will be a total loss and the entire cost will be cast onto the general tax duplicate for payment.

No blame whatever can be attached to the present board for the existing conditions. They were appointed to equalize the assessments according to the assessing ordinance passed a short time after the work was completed. The brunt of it all will rest on those who drafted the ordinance and those who subsequently passed it. Messrs. Hague and Underwood state that the ordinance is preposterous, an imposition on scores of people, who own property abutting on the avenue and incomplete from many standpoints. According to the two gentlemen there are lots stationed along the line of improvement which are actually adjacent to the avenue that were not included in the assessing ordinance. There are plots containing a number of lots in which two lots are assessed and the remainder not mentioned in the ordinance. On Ravine street it seems that the greatest difference is noted. Every lot adjacent to the street from the west side is assessed fully and every lot adjacent from the east side, said to be much more valuable and more benefited, are not assessed.

In consideration of this unfairness the owners of the property assessed declare that they will institute a fight immediately after the present board completes its work for the purpose of killing the assessing ordinance and that they will carry the matter into the courts if necessary. Another very important point will be forced by certain property owners, who claim that they have been treated unjustly. Prior to the improving of the avenue the city appealed to W. L. Thompson for a strip of land, which it was thought absolutely necessary to complete the avenue. Mr. Thompson finally agreed to make a deed for the land and did so. In consideration of the deed the city promised to leave abutting property holders exempt from any expense whatever. Instead of complying with the contract, every man owning adjacent property was

Man With a Black Record Now Charged With Having Four Wives.

EXPLOITS IN THIS COUNTY

Columbus, September 18.—(Special)—The Columbus police have learned that Harold C. Mills, who served a term of four years in the Ohio penitentiary for horse stealing from Columbiana county early in the 90's, and who is a much-married man, is now on trial for bigamy in Chicago. When the courts of Illinois get through with him he will be brought back to Columbus to answer a charge of embezzlement of $400 preferred against him there several years ago. Mills has had an eventful career. He is the son of a farmer and was raised near Dell Roy, Carroll county. He has figured some as a "promoter." He is known to have served three terms in the penitentiary. In this city he was the agent of a Cleveland building and loan association.

It is understood he was married to women in St. Louis, Indianapolis, Chicago, Detroit and Steubenville. He used the name of Howard C. Reed in the latter city. The name of the woman is suppressed. It is understood he soon left her in Pittsburg. He is now on trial in Chicago and three of his wives were present. On May 12 in Chicago, as H. C. Reed, he became involved with Miss Laura C. Steickler, a Y. W. C. A. girl, who, to escape him, was forced to jump from the third story window of the Newport hotel. This led to his arrest and subsequent indictment for bigamy.

Columbus, September 18.—A remarkable situation exists in the Sixteenth congressional district, where a successor is to be chosen to Congressman J. J. Gill, resigned. As a result of the Republican primaries, W. C. Weems, of Belmont, and D. A. Hollingsworth, of Harrison county, each have 71 delegates to the convention at Steubenville next Tuesday. There is a contest on the remaining 16 delegates, being the Monroe county delegation. Success will attend the one who can gain one more vote, 72 being necessary to seat the delegation from Monroe favorable to him.

The Steubenville Herald Star, the Republican organ, comments that the Dunbar delegates in Jefferson county are to be turned over to Weems, and says it would be discreditable to carry out any such deal, as Weems is eliminated as far as the vote is concerned, and Hollingsworth, by the vote, is second choice.

SECRET CONFAB WITH MR. MORRIS

WHISTLES FOR POLICEMEN

The regular meeting of the board of public safety held last evening in the office of City Auditor Davidson was a very important one, notwithstanding that there was but little business transacted. Three members, President Grafton, Ogilvie and Taylor, were present, Dawson being the only absentee.

For 30 minutes prior to the calling of the meeting to order the board held a secret conference with Officer Homer Morris, a candidate for appointment to the chief of policeship. Rumors are rife as to the meaning of the conference, and there are none who know to a certainty the object of the confab. Some think it was relative to his application for appointment, but this is not considered likely by others who feel positive that the talk meant a renewal of the officer's litigation with Harry Palmer. The board would not make public the business with Officer Morris, saying it was a private affair.

Clerk Huntsman reported that he had received two dozen police whistles and that they were in perfect condition. It will be remembered that the board decided to equip the entire police force and firemen with whistles some time ago, it being deemed a very necessary step. The board argues that the whistles will be of great value to the preservers of the peace and once the officers get accustomed to them there will be no doing without them. The whistles will be divided among the police and firemen during the next few weeks, a meeting having been ordered for that purpose.

A communication was received from the Dawson company, a concern that manufactures police alarm boxes. The company stated that it would be willing to confer with the board relative to furnishing the city with a strictly up-to-date system and that the boxes would undoubtedly give entire satisfaction. Though the board will not inaugurate the system at once, definite steps will be taken soon to that end, and the clerk was instructed to notify the company accordingly. The main object in purchasing the boxes will be to keep tab on the policemen. It will be the duty of the officers after the system is in working order to ring up from certain boxes every hour. Through this means it will be known at central station where the officers are at all times of the night.

A number of bills were rendered and after careful consideration they were ordered paid. Considerable attention was then given to a resume of the examination of the officers that have been held during the past week, after which the board adjourned.

THE BOND SALE STILL HANGS FIRE

City Auditor Davidson reports that no favorable word has been received from J. R. Williams & Co., of Pittsburg, relative to the sale of the $92,000 worth of bonds. It is now the opinion of the auditor and council that they are being fooled by the Pittsburg concern, and though they have threatened to take action in the matter for a week, it has been decided now to do so, and at the first opportunity.

It has been learned that the Pittsburg firm is merely a brokerage firm. Its business is to buy bonds and then sell them. When the company agreed to take the city's bonds it made the pretense of being anxious for them within a very short period. This, it is believed, was done simply to blind the councilmen. The bonds were prepared for transmission to the company, but the company has never called for them. The belief is general that the company has been unable to find buyers and is holding the city council off until they can be secured.

Three weeks have elapsed since the bonds were awarded to the above company. During that time the city has been paying the regular 7 per cent interest, aggregating about $150. There is no assurance given the councilmen that the bonds will be taken and the money turned over to the city at any early date, and it is considered folly to trifle longer with the Pittsburg people.

Council may not take action until the regular meeting night, next Tuesday, but when it does another proposition will confront it. The bid offered by George Gaston, of Cleveland, which was turned down once, will again be submitted. Attorney Gaston arrived in the city last evening and wanted to place the offer before council at its special meeting, but it could not be done, owing to the objection of a member of council, evidently in favor of continuing the deal with J. R. Williams & Co. The offer of Mr. Gaston is to furnish buyers for the bonds, providing the city will give him $175 for his work. He says he can have the transaction complete and the money in the hands of the city within three days.

HON. J. P. JONES HAS BEEN ARRESTED

Ex-Legislator of Stark County to Be Tried for Assault And Battery.

Canton, September 18.—J. P. Jones ex-state representative and former state labor commissioner, has been arrested on a warrant sworn out by C Pennel charging him with assault and battery.

Pennel at one time was one of Jones' political lieutenants, but recently a personal grievance made both men the bitteriest of enemies. Last Saturday night Pennel and his son were standing on the street in North Lawrence. Without any provocation Attorney Pennel alleges, Jones attempted to beat the plaintiff and his son. Jones, however, says that Pennel had "laid" for him, and on Saturday night, with the assistance of his son, attempted the assault. Jones underwent a preliminary hearing before 'Squire Sibila yesterday and pleaded not guilty to the charge. Pennel is a member of the old Foraker guard in Stark, and during the famous Foraker-Hanna fight supported Jones in his fight against Hanna.

Both sides have determined to fight the case to the end.

Salem Man Seeks Divorce.

Lisbon, September 18.—(Special.)—Charles Alfred West, through Attorney K. L. Cobourn, of Salem, has filed suit for divorce from Florence, his wife. He charges wilful absence and total disregard of marital duty. They were married in Salem in 1898 and have had but one child, which died in infancy.

William Campbell Beaten at the Jethro Bridge Until He We Was Unconscious All Night.

Unconscious, numerous cuts about his head and shoulders and his face besmeared with blood, William Campbell, aged about 50 years, was found a short distance west of the Jethro bridge on Wednesday night between 11 and 12 o'clock. Though Mr. Campbell can give no accurate account of how he came to be in such a terrible condition, remembering only that he received a blow from behind, it is believed that the dastardly deed was committed by thugs who were after money.

Campbell is the husband of the woman who was drowned at Pittsburg a few months ago. Since that time he has been unable to do any work, the shock having completely shattered his nerves and rendered him in almost a helpless condition. He has a son who is married and on Wednesday the son and his wife visited at his house, which is located at the extreme west end of the city. At about 11 o'clock they decided to return home and the elder Campbell volunteered to go a piece with them. He walked with them to the Jethro bridge and then started on his return home.

The road leading to his home from the bridge is dark and in some places very secluded. Upon the arrival of Campbell at one of the darkest spots, some person or persons noiselessly approached him from the rear and with one blow rendered him perfectly unconscious. He remembers nothing further than that until the following morning when he was awakened while lying on the front door step at his home.

The belief is that the thugs cruelly dealt blow after blow on his face and shoulders after he was knocked to the ground and then left him to his fate. He has not the least idea as to how he reached home and the theory is advanced that he was carried to his steps by the robbers or by some passerby.

When awakened the following morning Campbell was suffering awfully and it was feared he might not recover. However, he is able to be around, and further than a badly swollen face he has recovered.

Report of another terrible fight on the Jethro bridge last night was made to Officer Aufderheide. Three men were seen in a murderous melee at about 10 o'clock. One man, stated the officer's informant, was knocked to the floor of the bridge, where he remained for several minutes unconscious.

GIFT WILL HAVE A PLACE IN THE WHITE HOUSE

Tankard Jug Presented By Letter Carriers Much Appreciated by President.

President Roosevelt has acknowledged the gift of a tankard jug, given him at the Syracuse convention of the National Assocation of Mail Carriers by local branch No. 547. William Carey, who was the delegate to the convention from No. 547, is in receipt of a copy of the following letter sent to James C. Kelly, president of the N. A. of L. C., by the president's secretary:

"The president directs me to express his sincere appreciation and thanks for your kind remembrance of him at Syracuse, and furthermore that he will accept the vase as a gift to be placed in the white house. With best wishes for success and prosperity, I am, sincerely yours."

From the tone of the letter it can be seen that the president was highly pleased with the gift. That it is to have a place in the white house is pleasing to the donors.

News and Notes About The Potteries

INTERESTING DATA.

The New Jersey archives, soon to be issued from the press, containing some very interesting pottery data. The volume consists of newspaper extracts printed in 1778 and it is set forth that in that year Trenton's first pottery was operated by Benjamin Hanlon. The product of the establishment were earthen jugs. In the New Jersey Gazette for November 4, 1778 then printed in Trenton, Bernard Hanlon advertises a reward of "Ten dollars for the return of a strayed or stolen horse." The person seeking the reward was directed to take the animal to the "subscriber's stoneware potting manufactory at Trenton," or to Hanlon's neighbor, Samuel Henry, who conducted an iron works where East State street crosses the Assanpink creek. Unfortunately no description of this pottery or of its exact location is known to be extant except that it was located near Clinton avenue.

The Hanlon pottery forms one link in the chain between Dr. Daniel Coxe's pottery, erected in Burlington or its vicinity about 1685, and the McCully enterprises near the "Head of the Town," between 1783 and 1800. Hanlon's pottery was one of a number of local industries of mid-revolutionary days. Prominent among these were Potts' tanyard, a paper mill erected in the latter part of 1778 by Stacy Potts and John Reynolds; Henry's iron mill; a gun repair establishment and a flour mill near the mouth of the Assanpink.

As Trenton then contained about 1,000 inhabitants, this number and variety of industries shows that the then village had entered upon her present career of industrial progress.

DANISH POTTERY.

The manufacture of fine ware in Denmark is represented by the famous Royal pottery, whose porcelain is known over the world. There is also a private firm which makes excellent ware. A notable feature of the Royal product is the excellence, hardness and brilliancy of the glaze, some of the most successful pieces taking the form of animals, such as polar bears, otters with fish, and other similar subjects, all beautifully modeled without being extravagant.

The earthenware factory is also an excellent and well-appointed concern, the proprietors of which have shown a most enterprising spirit. They have succeeded in doing that which has so long been desideratum in the potteries, viz., firing ware by gas, and so completely consuming their own smoke. There are a number of terra cotta makers in Denmark, some of whom are very successfully introducing on their ware colored glazes, splashed, mottled and agate effects; somewhat old in treatment, but very pleasing.

BIGGER AND BETTER.

The Potters' Herald, as announced several weeks ago, made its appearance this week in enlarged form, a six-column quarto, instead of a five-column. The increase in size is proof positive of the success of the paper under the present management and since it was adopted as the official organ of the N. B. of O. P. The Herald has been gaining in both circulation and advertising patronage and certainly is deserving of its prosperity.

POTTERY NOTES.

Frank McCullough has accepted a pressing bench at Laughlin No. 2.

Columbus, September 18.—The state may bring actions against foreign corporations to oust them from doing business in Ohio on account of alleged false returns. Foreign corporations are required to make a report to the secretary of state in which is set forth the amount of capital invested in the state, as compared with investments outside the state. This is used as a basis for collecting fees.

Attorney General Sheets and Secretary Laylin held a conference in which falsification of returns was considered. It develops that many companies have placed Ohio investments at a figure away below their true value, thus decreasing the state's income.

RULE DISCOVERED FOR SQUARING THE CIRCLE

A Columbus Mathematician Claims to Have Accomplished a Difficult Task.

J. H. Evans, of 62½ East Spring street, believes he has discovered a rule for squaring a circle, a mathematical accomplishment that men have been trying to reach since the history of the science of numbers began, says the Columbus Citizen. He is not a theoretical mathematician, but a practical builder, familiar only with geometrical rules needed in his work. His attention was called to the hitherto impossible proposition only recently, and he set about devising a solution of it. The demonstration which he has devised, and the rule that he has evolved from it, he has presented to Prof. R. D. Bohannan, of the state university. Prof. Bohannan was much interested in the proposition presented by Mr. Evans, and said that while he would not say that it was correct or incorrect, he would like to see a hypothetical demonstration of it.

This Mr. Evans has arranged in a novel way, figuring out by his rule and making a square and a circle of fine cardboard, supposed to be of equal area and on weighing them on apothecary scales they prove to be the same. This is regarded as the best corroborative test that could be applied.

Mr. Evans approached the proposition from a novel direction. He took into consideration what he calls the "gather in of volume of the circle over that of a square figure," the sum of whose sides are equal to the circle's circumference. This he ascertains by inspection and establishes the rule that dividing the diameter of any circle by 16 and multiplying the quotient by 14.2, will give a square whose area is exactly equal to that of the circle. He takes, for instance, a circle of 8,000 feet diameter. Dividing by 16 gives 500, and multiplying that by 14.2, gives 7,100.

Mr. Evans found by measurement that a right angled triangle, having 16 inches for base and 5 inches for altitude, has a hypotenuse of 16¾ inches. From this he reasons thus: "The cube root of this, which is 14.2, is the one side of a square, the area of which is equal to the area of a circle, the diameter of which is 16 inches. The longest side of this triangle, which is 16¾ inches, multiplied by 3, gives the exact circumference of a circle, the diameter of which is 16 inches; therefore to square a circle, giving its exact area in the form of a square, divide its diameter by 16 and multiply the quotient by 14.2, and to get the exact circumference of a circle divide diameter by 1 and multiply by 10¼."

NATIONAL CONVENTION OF THE O. U. A. M.

All Parts of the Country Will Be Represented at Wheeling Next Week.

Wheeling, September 18.—The National Council of the O. U. A. M. will convene in this city next week. The convention will be opened on Tuesday morning and will continue in session four days. The meeting will probably be the largest and best ever held in the history of the order, owing to its growth since last year.

On Tuesday the session will be very short, only the regular opening business being attended to. In the afternoon will be held the big parade, and headed by Meister's full band, the procession will parade through the principal streets of the town. In the parade will be the Uniformed Ranks of Muncie, Ind., Warren, O., Bellaire, O., McMechan and all of the subordinate councils of the neighborhood. It will be one of the largest lodge demonstrations ever seen in Wheeling. The parade will be in charge of Major General Dickinson, of the Loyal Legion, and his staff, whose experience will enable him to handle the immense procession in true military order.

The reception at the Arion hall on Wednesday evening will be one of the most enjoyable events of their entire stay in the city. Everything will be done for the comfort and convenience of the visitors, and the program mapped out is a very elegant one. The citizens of the city earnestly welcome the convention here, and will make every possible effort to make the delegates feel at home. Their headquarters during their sojourn will be at the McLure. The convention will be attended by delegates from almost every state in the Union.

THE AMENDMENTS TO OHIO'S CONSTITUTION

The decision of the supreme court as to the validity of the intended method of printing the pending constitutional amendments on the official ballot probably will determine the fate of the suggested changes in the state's organic law.

The plan of presenting the amendments to the voters was devised in order that a straight Republican or a straight Democratic vote might be counted as favoring such of the constitutional changes as received the approval of the respective state conventions. Past experience has shown, says the Ohio State Journal, that it is practically impossible to secure a majority of the votes cast at a general election for a proposed amendment printed on a separate ballot. The trouble has been that many thousands of voters have not taken enough interest in the questions presented to declare themselves upon them. This difficulty the Longworth act, providing for the printing of amendments indorsed by one of the state conventions in the party ticket, sought to obviate.

The Republican convention indorsed the three amendments, giving the governor the veto power, doing away with the double liability of holders of stock in Ohio corporations, and allowing each county at least one representative in the lower house of the general assembly. Of these three, the Democratic convention approved the last two named and also indorsed the amendment empowering the legislature to classify subjects for taxation.

If the method of printing the amendments is upheld by the court, the two approved by both conventions are practically certain of enactment; that giving the governor the veto power will have an excellent chance, while that providing for the classification of taxable property might receive the requisite majority vote.

It is to be hoped that the supreme court will pass upon the test case before the official ballot is printed. To have the method of presenting the amendments declared unconstitutional in advance would not cause the confusion which would result from such a decision after the election.

The second day in camp his little boy was taken with cramp colic. The first dose of this remedy gave relief and the second dose effected a cure. Think of the pain and suffering this boy would have had to endure without this remedy at hand to relieve him. Such cases often result fatally. For sale by Alvin H. Bulger.

THE NEW AIRSHIP

Built By Santos Dumont Is Cylindrical And Has Three Compartments.

The new balloon of Santos-Dumont (No. 10) is 48 meters long, and has a capacity for gas of 2,010 cubic meters. The gas bag is in the form of a cylinder, with rounded ends, that of the front tapering to a point. It is divided into three compartments by partitions, which keep the gas from sudden displacement. There are also two small gas bags inside the main one, to preserve the shape of the latter. The balloon carries two aerial propellers, one at the prow, the other at the stern. They are driven independent from a 60 horse-power petrol motor, weighing 160 kilograms, and situated between them. The framework of wood and steel wire is not unlike a lattice girder, with a triangular section, and weighs 100 kilograms.

This framework supports the motor, helices, rudder and basket of the pilot or aeronaut—that is to say, M. Dumont. Beneath it are suspended four basket cars for three passengers and a second aeronaut, who looks after the stopping arrangements and the passengers. The basket of M. Dumont, the driver, and the second aeronaut are conical, with a square bottom, and those of the passengers are conical, and about a meter in size. The new balloon having attracted the notice of the French military authorities, M. Dumont has offered it to the ministry of war in the event of war with any foreign power save Brazil and the United States.

EAST END

EAST END YOUNGSTERS LEAVE THEIR HOMES

Anxious Mothers Appeal to Police Authorities to Locate Their Missing Sons.

A trio of East End lads took French leave of their families and friends last night and decamped for Minerva, where it is thought they intended to find employment in the plant of the Owens China company. Their departure came as a complete surprise and the greatest of alarm was felt by their parents when they failed to return to their homes at the usual hour last night. After an anxious night Mrs. Frank Hanley, mother of Harry Hanley, one of the missing boys, appeared at the East End station and asked the officers to assist her in locating the runaway. She thought her son would make his way to Minerva where he has relatives, and asked that the officials of that town be communicated with.

Captain Terrence telephoned the information to central station and a short time later Chief Wyman was in communication with the Minerva police. He learned that the boys had not been seen there. A thorough search will be made of the town and if the boys are found they will be held until their parents can be heard from.

Young Hanley is only 17 years old and the other two, Charles McCray and Will Morgan, are under age. The cause of their flight is not known.

East Enders Declare Noise from Sewer Pipe Plant Engine to Be a Nuisance.

Many complaints are heard every day among the people who live within a radius of half a mile of the plant of the American Sewer Pipe company over the irritating noise made by the exhaust from the powerful engines that operate the machinery of the plant. The noise made by the escaping steam is said to be very trying to the nerves of the people who are compelled to hear it constantly.

The matter has been called to the attention of Dr. W. E. Mowen, the East End member of the board of health, and he will recommend to that body that necessary steps be taken to remedy the matter.

Potts Played Policeman.

"Boom" Potts, who is said to hail from Toronto, played policeman around the sewer pipe works last night and he had the employes of the plant up in the air until the arrival of Officer Fisher. "Boom," it is stated, at one time served on the Toronto force and having accumulated a few slugs of liquor imagined that he was once more one of the finest. He merely wanted to show his authority, threatening to run the men in for all sorts of imaginary crimes. Potts had taken his departure when Officer Fisher arrived and he thus escaped arrest.

Lost Purse Recovered.

The pocketbook lost yesterday morning by R. R. Dawson, the Mulberry street butcher, an account of which appeared in this column last evening, has been recovered. An employe of Mr. Dawson's establishment and several others formed a searching party a short time after the loss was discovered and succeeding in finding the purse on the road along Little Beaver creek. The purse contained $48 instead of $7, as Mr. Dawson stated at first.

Testing Electric Drill.

The East End plant of the American Sewer Pipe company is giving an electric clay drill a test in its mine north of Pennsylvania avenue. The vein of clay now being worked by the company is one of the finest in the country, and to this fact is due the great success the plant has been enjoying. The clay is so compact that it has become almost impossible to use the ordinary hand drills.

Robert L Sold.

It was reported this morning that Will Larkins had sold his fine black pacer, Robert L, to Samuel Gallagher, a well known horseman of Beaver Falls. Gallagher saw the horse at Lisbon and thought so well of him that he at once made Larkins an offer. The horse has been showing great speed this season, having lowered his mark to 2:22¼. The price paid is said to have been $800.

Rev. Mr. Potter to Lecture.

Rev. J. M. Potter, of Brilliant, one of the most eloquent ministers of eastern Ohio, has been secured to make an address at the Second Presbyterian church next Sunday evening. The service will be preparatory to the rally day exercises to be held the Sunday following. Rev. Mr. Potter is a profound thinker and his effort promises to be highly interesting and entertaining. A full attendance is requested.

Cold Weather Interfered.

Despite the cold weather those who attended the P. H. C. picnic enjoyed it immensely. The program of sports arranged for the afternoon was seriously interfered with, but the evening was just right for dancing and a large number enjoyed it until a late hour. Next year the picnic will be arranged for an earlier date.

Will Make Improvements.

Henry Neininger has commenced extensive improvements to his Mulberry street property. A 30-foot addition will be added to the room formerly occupied by Robert Maxwell and this will be used by Mr. Neininger for his billiard room. The present billiard room will be used for a saloon.

Another Contract Made.

The excavating for the foundations for the new colored Baptist church edifice, Clay street and Pennsylvania avenue, has been completed and a contract has been entered into for the stone work. O. A. Shingleton was the successful bidder and he will start his men to work Monday.

EAST END AFFAIRS.

Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Myler have returned from a brief visit to Pittsburg.

Mrs. A. J. Marshall and children visited relatives at Bridgeport yesterday.

The infant child of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Watters, of First avenue, is quite ill today.

Dr. Ferrall has returned from a 10-day vacation trip at Wheeling, Cambridge and other points.

John Horger and family, of First avenue, have returned from a visit to their old home in Gallia county, O.

The Marines and the Wellsville Athletic foot ball elevens will meet tomorrow in a gridiron conflict. This will be the first game of the season in the East End.

Mrs. J. P. Leyenberger, of Toronto, has been visiting her parents, Rev. and Mrs. J. N. Swan, of Ohio avenue, for a few days. Rev. Mr. Leyenberger arrived yesterday and will remain over Sunday at the Swan home.

CLARKE'S PERIL.

How much cold comfort does Candidate Clarke get out of the news in the Johnson organs about the Jones and Johnson dickering over in Lucas county?

The plan proposed of pulling off the regular Democratic nominess for the legislature and substituting in their stead Jones non-partisans, may mean the loss of those votes for Clarke for United States senator, should any accident happen to elect them. In order to make the change on the Democratic ticket, Johnson has to throw down the regular Democrats of Toledo and Lucas county. The great "home rule" apostle of Cleveland must undo the nominations made by the Democratic convention in Lucas county. If Johnson thus betrays the Democrats of Toledo for his own purpose, how can Clarke count upon him with any confidence if it suits Johnson's purpose to treat Clarke in the same way when the time comes.

It must be remembered that Johnson, through Niles, negotiates with Jones, the professor of nonpartisanship. Jones has a ticket of his own for the legislature not named by any primaries, nor mass convention, nor even a delegate convention, but picked out just by Jones. Jones is opposed to all parties, you know, unless he is the whole party. Having chosen those he can use, Jones has sent out solicitors into the highways and hedges to secure signatures to put his own pet candidates' names upon the official ballot. Once put there by petition there is no practical way for getting them off the ballot, so Jones and Johnson propose to substitute this Jones gang for the regular Democratic nominees for the legislature, put upon the Democratic ticket by the Democratic county convention under the rules and precedents of the party.

Should anything happen that would elect these Jones-Johnson candidates to the legislature it would be by the votes of men of all parties on the nonpartisan pretense. As such they would not be bound by the Democratic nomination of Clarke, and that would cheat Clarke. Or if they voted for Clarke, that would cheat the men of other parties that they would need to make up their majority. It is not likely that they would care for Clarke, because he is a gold-bug, and the Jones men have no use for a United States senator who would vote for gold. They could not get the Democrats to rally with any unanimity for Jones, and that would leave nobody but Tom Johnson who could combine the two elements. As he "sacrificed" himself to run for governor, being "pressed" thereto, the same sort of pressure would persuade Johnson to accept the support of such a coalition for the senatorship.

Mr. Clarke need go no further into his own history in this matter than the way he was treated by Johnson in the recent Johnson convention. If there was any sincerity in Johnson's support of Clarke, what did Johnson mean by his two strenuous attempts to persuade Bookwalter to accept his support for United States senatorship? Then again, after Johnson had openly announced himself for Clarke, Bookwalter having backed out, by whose authority did Johnson's emissaries go to Zimmerman and twice offer him Johnson's support for the senatorship the very night before Clarke was put upon the ticket?

STRAY SHOTS.

The Columbus Press quotes with apparent approval this from the Champlain Democrat, of Urbana: "The great majority of the delegates favored the endorsement of John J. Lentz, of Columbus, for senator. Mayor Johnson, however, wished a Cleveland man endorsed and the convention acquiesced in his wish." But for the boss, then, Lentz might have been nominated. Lentz Democrats will naturally help Clarke all that they can.

The Chicago single taxer imported to prepare the Johnson platform, says in his paper that the Ohio election is really for the benefit of Tom Johnsonism in Cleveland. The capture of the legislature "is necessary," according to his words, "to the municipal reform he (Johnson) has undertaken to accomplish in Cleveland." Note the words, for they will be denied when Johnson gets cornered.

Sylvanus Strode, Democratic candidate for representative in the Morgan-Noble district, marched to Washington with Coxey. If he tells the truth about the times he will endorse Coxey's recent remark that if any of his old army of the unemployed are not working now "it is their own fault, as there is plenty of work." Democratic defeat helped to do it, too.

Canton's board of review has added $454,900 to the tax duplicate, while only $5,000 was added last year by the board of equalization under the old law. Other cities make like report of the result of this purely Republican act of the last legislature.

No outside speakers of any shade of Democracy are wanted in Ohio by the Johnsonites. If Tom wins he wants the glory all for himself, particularly in the next national convention of the Democrats.

VERY SNRONG SENTIMENT IN FAVOR OF NO ACTION

lessons at night; are we to take away from them the Welsbach light with all its brilliancy and convenience; and, if so, are we prepared to go to the extra expense of say $50 a house for electricity? In recent years hundreds of homes have been built with no reference whatever to a coal supply. Are we ready, just as winter sets in to spend from $25 to $100 each for a coal house?

"Let us also remember as we go along if the gas is shut off it will likely mean that the potteries will at times be completely closed down for lack of coal and of course great hardship will ensue to many of us who are in private life.

"We are told that the gas companies are only bluffing and that the gas will not be shut off. I have felt that they may not be bluffing. I feel personally very seriously concerned, and have spoken to many people in the past few days who feel as I do. My gas costs me about $60 a year. I surely do not wish to pay $75 if I can get it for $60. I confess I prefer to pay only a dollar and a half if I can get it for that; but I know this, that I cannot afford to impose the additional burden of the coal problem upon my wife, who has already as many household cares as I think she needs, and I therefore trust you will either make any honorable compromise necessary, or else withdraw your application for an injunction. This I advise strictly from the motive of self interest and comfort to myself and family and of those of many of my friends in this city who are similarly situated."

City Solicitor George E. Davidson was called on, and stated he did not believe the supply would be withdrawn from East Liverpool. The company has probably $500,000 tied up in this city, the amount being invested in pipe lines and other equipment, and they would not be justified in sacrificing this amount. That was not the question, however, as the corporation, if he understood aright, did not propose to abandon the territory, but rather to shut off the supply for a period of 30 days, and in that time it was calculated the people would be so inconvenienced they would make haste to have the supply turned back into the mains on any terms.

By this course the company would lose perhaps $35,000, but it could well afford to sacrifice that amount in order to bring about the desired end. The demand was unjust and there was no argument in favor of the demands made by the corporation, but it had the power to execute what it threatened, and it was for the people to decide whether they would prefer to pay the $1 minimum to having the supply taken away even for a month.

The solicitor advocated the plan of securing an expression from the people. They have urged the council on in the matter of securing an ipjunction, and it now seems many of them have changed their minds. It was for the citizens to say whether the movement should be carried on to the point of obtaining a decision from the court or withdrawing the application.

Mr. Davidson was followed by Thomas Hodge, who asked that provided the people did submit to the demands of the combination had the city anything by which it could hold the company to its word. Had the people any guarantee that the rate would remain where they had now placed it for any length of time?

Mr. Hodge was informed that J. H. Brookes, representing the corporation, had been construed as saying the company would be willing to sign a contract for ten years. If they would do this, it might be well to consider it, since it was at all times wise to look into the future.

H. W. Smith, who had been a member of the citizens' committee, talked upos the ten-year contract feature. It had impressed him very forcibly that as a simple business proposition, the citizens might do well to accept the arbitrary terms of the company. It might be only a few years until things would have so adjusted themselves and conditions so changed that 25 cent gas and a $1 minimum would be a very cheap proposition. With a ten-year contract to bind the gas trust the people of East Liverpool might, at the end of four of five years, be getting the cheapest gas in the state of Ohio.

It occurred to Attorney H. E. Grosshans, who next took the floor, that the gas monopoly was even more powerful than most people supposed. From a legal standpoint their rights in the present instance were unassailable. The officers of the combination, he understood, were non-residents of the state of Ohio. He also understood their main taps for the East Liverpool supply was located across the river in West Virginia. There was no law on any statute book to prevent the officials of the company from turning the valve in West Virginia and in that way cutting East Liverpool's supply completely out.

Thomas C. Neal, who is acting as the plaintiff in the case against the Fort Pitt company, made a strong plea for something that would afford relief from the exorbitant demands of the gas trust. He had at one time thought, and it was the general belief among fireigners, that this was the land of the free, but he feared it was changing about.

Robert Burford and George C. Thompson took up the argument from the manufacturers' standpoint. Mr. Thompson stated the shutting off of the gas from the factories and adopting coal could not fail to result disastrously to both the manufacturers and the workmen as well. A conservative estimate of the amount of coal it would require to supply East Liverpool had placed the amount at nearly two train loads per day. With the river a doubtful proposition at all times, and the railroad facilities in their present cramped condition, it would be a physical impossibility to get the coal here in the quantities it would require. Mr. Thompson had not been informed on the ten-year contract phase of the question, but thought the citizens would be fortunate indeed if they could obtain a contract at the increased rate for a period of ten years. He explained that when the $1 minimum demand was figured out, it was not such a serious matter after all. The cost per meal even at a dollar was a trifle over one cent, and he was not sure but what anyone who used gas at all would not consume $1 worth the hottest month of the year.

C. E. Macrum, though a disitnerested party, gave it as his opinion that if the citizens could secure a ten-year contract, it was an excellent business proposition, and they should not hesitate a moment in accepting it.

Several other consumers made remarks, and by motion of Bullock it was decided to call a mass meeting of consumers for this evening and that a vote be taken at that time upon the question of whether the solicitor should go ahead with the injunction, which involved the risk of having the gas turned off, or whether it should be dropped. Councilman Croxall suggested that all who attend bring their gas cards with them in order to guard against the meeting being packed. The motion prevailed, and an adjournment was taken.

Immediately afterward those present were called to order as a mass convention and a vote taken upon whether or not the restraining order should be asked for. The vote resulted in 24 persons favoring the withdrawal of the application for an injunction and three against.

English advocates of international arbitration and disarmament predict that the wisdom of the Vienna interparliament peace conference in selecting the St. Louis exposition as the scene of its next meeting will be strikingly vindicated. America's comparative aloofness from the interparliamentary peace movement is attributed to the fact that the conferences thus far have been held in Europe. The most active work in this line has gone forward beyond the range of the immediate interests of the American people.

It is believed that the St. Louis conference, which will probably be attended by the most influential arbitrationists of Europe, will enlist the sympathies and convictions of many leading men and women of the United States, and thereby bring the republic in line with other great nations which champion international law courts and smaller armies and navies.

Headed by William Randal Cremer, the Radical member of parliament for Haggerston, who is well known as a tireless pleader for arbitration in general and for Anglo-American arbitration in particular, the peace societies of London will take steps to advance the assembling of the St. Louis meeting. They are anxious to familiarize American politicians, publicists and thinkers with the achievements of the interparliamentary movement up to date. In order that the proceedings of the conference may take place in an atmosphere of thorough knowledge of the work in hand, literature dealing with the subject of international arbitration will be freely distributed.

Official opinion on this side of the Atlantic is strongly on the side of peace. Recent utterances on the part of the czar, the kaiser, the emperor king of Austria-Hungary, President Loubet and King Edward show how tired the heads of the European nations are of the continual strain of armed preparation they are compelled to maintain. They would gladly welcome judicial arrangements looking to a scheme for reducing the burden of modern militarism.

The operative potters' wage scale, which has been hanging fire an unusual length of time this year, is now adjusted or in shape to be settled, agreement having been reached on all points but two, which are to be submitted to arbitration. This outcome of the final conference between committees representing the manufacturers and operatives will be hailed with unbounded satisfaction in East Liverpool and Trenton and in all other towns where potteries are located. It will have the effect of stimulating the pottery business and business in general, and East Liverpool can look forward to continued and increased prosperity. The outlook for her principal industry is bright with promise. The operative potters and the manufacturers are to be congratulated for the conservatism and wisdom with which they have handled the delicate questions presented for their decision. The agreement to arbitrate points that the committees were unable to settle is especially commendable, and sets an example that may be followed with profit in the future. Unless all signs are misleading the Philadelphia agreement will give the pottery business a tremendous impetus.

The irrigation congress meeting at Ogden, Utah, calls attention to another boundless possibility in the boundless west. It is estimated that there are in the semi-arid zones about 600,000,000 acres of vacant public lands with sufficient water available under the storage system to irrigate one-sixteenth of it. In his address to the congress President Clark stated his belief that if the government would expend $10,000,000 annually for thirty years providing reservoirs sufficient to reclaim 20,000,000 acres the land reclaimed would provide homes for 12,000,000 to 15,000,000 people. As this sum might be easily realized from the sale of reclaimed goverment land a magnificent contribution to the wealth of the nation could thus be made with but small outlay.

Instead of killing the chauffeur or arresting the owner of a scorching automobile the farmers of Wisconsin are going to shoot buckshot into the tires of the machine. They are not going to try to catch the violators of the speed laws. They have no horses that can go sixty miles an hour, and if they did catch a scorcher there would be no officer at hand to take him into custody.

City council has wisely decided to make haste slowly with the gas problem. However much the people may rail at the gas trusts, they are fast reaching the conclusion that 25-cent gas is much better than no gas at all.

Now that the pottery scale and the gas question have been disposed of, it would be well to take up the telephone proposition in earnest and find out just where and how East Liverpool can make the best bargain.

The Salvation Army, in invading the stronghold of the feudists in the Kentucky mountains, is undertaking about as risky a piece of missionary work as modern crusaders ever engaged in.

There has been a blighting frost in certain sections of the west, but it was mild in comparison with that which will strike the Tom Johnson party in Ohio in November.

Now that the scale is settled, there will be less pottering and more potting.

Premier Balfour's cabinet does not exactly resemble a happy family.

The cold weather will bring the reluctant oyster out of his shell.

The annual outing of the Evening News Review was held at Rock Springs park on Tuesday. The big program of amusements and sports was carried out to the letter, and the record-breaking attendance enjoyed the grandest outing in the history of the park. The attendance, according to street railway officials, was between 17,000 and 18,000, East Liverpool and Wellsville being almost deserted, while the neighboring towns were well represented. The News Review is to be congratulated.—Potters' Herald.

Following the example set by the News 10 years ago of furnishing to the children of Mansfield an outing each year, Tuesday the News Review, of East Liverpool, gave its first annual outing to the children of that city. It was most successful in all its details, and was attended by no less than 15,000 people from the river town. The picnic was held at Rock Springs park, just across the Ohio river, one of the most beautiful spots in all the country. Editor Brush is one of Ohio's progressive newspaper men and the wonderful outpouring of people to the News Review outing was a well deserved tribute by the people of his city to the esteem in which he is personally held and the prestige enjoyed by the News Review. East Liverpool is to be congratulated upon having such an enterprising newspaper and it is deserving of the greatest patronage by the business men and people generally of the pottery city.—Mansfield News.

The outing given at Rock Springs park, W. Va., yesterday by the East Liverpool News Review, for people of East Liverpool, Wellsville and Chester, was the biggest thing of the kind ever attempted by a newspaper in this part of the state. In fact, it is questionable if any newspaper in the country ever conducted so largely attended and enjoyable a public affair.

Quite a number of Salem people were present and the newspaper fraternity of this part of the state was well represented. The actual number of people entering the park, taking advantage of the courtesy of the News Review, was in excess of 17,500.

Numerous free attractions were extended to children, and wherever possible features at the park were made free to adults also. Fred Irey, of this city, made two fine balloon ascensions and parachute leaps from Dr. H. W. Thompson's balloon.

The street car system from East Liverpool had more than it could do to convey people to and from the park.

The crowd attending the affair was the largest ever in the park, it is believed, and, without doubt, it was the happiest lot of people ever assembled within the confines of the pleasure resort. The affair passed off without any break in the management or any accidents to mar the occasion.—Salem Daily News.

AT THE THEATER

Newark (O.) American-Tribune: The Auditorium was opened last night by the Robison Stock company. Long before the performance began standing room was at a premium. The play was "Salome," a southern romance of the period of 1861-3 and it proved to be intensely interesting to the large audience. Margaret Neville as Salome Laveigne, essayed a rather difficult roll in a manner to bring frequent applause and proved herself a very capable actress, and one of the best leading women ever seen here in repertoire.

Between acts vaudeville numbers were introduced by Miss Snowden, who did a clever singing and dancing specialty, and Pearl Sizer, who proved herself to be one of the best singers of "coon" songs that has appeared here. At the Grand all next week.

"Cozy Corners," at the Grand last evening, drew a packed house, and Lizzie Evans and a splendid company gave a delightful presentation of the popular play. The boy quartet, the dancing of the Hennings trio, and the fine scenery, as well as the faultless acting, all elicited merited applause.

assessed in the original ordinance. Following is a copy of the contract accepted by council relative to Mr. Thompson's deed:

"To the City Council of East Liverpool, O.

"Gentlemen—We propose to make the city a deed for the land as shown by the city engineer's plat, to be necessary for the completion for the 40 foot street known as Pennsylvania avenue through the lands of the estate of Josiah Thompson, deceased. The consideration being that the City of East Liverpool hold and keep the owners of the abutting land free and clear of any assessments or expense of any description for any purpose made by reason of the opening, completing and maintaining of said Pennsylvania avenue.

"Yours truly,

Queen's Life In Danger.

With every box of Mi-o-na, the flesh-forming food, and digestion regulator, Will Reed gives the following guarantee bond, binding him to refund the money if Mi-o-na does not give an increase in weight and cure dyspepsia and all stomach troubles.

GUARANTEE BOND.

I hereby agree to refund the price paid for Mi-o-na if the purchaser tells me that it has not increased flesh and given freedom from stomach troubles. WILL REED.

For years there has been a demand for a natural means for increasing flesh, and Mi-o-na has come to supply this need.

It is not a cod liver oil preparation, but a combination of flesh-forming elements, that regulates and aids digestion and restores health. It mingles with the food you eat, aids its assimilation, tones up and strengthens the digestive organs, and puts the whole system in proper physical condition.

Every one who is troubled with dyspepsia, has that tired feeling, loss of appetite, or is losing flesh or is in a run down condition, should take the guarantee bond to Will Reed and begin the use of Miona at his risk.

Remember that treatment costs you nothing unless it does all that is claimed for it.

WELLSVILLE

Action Will Be Taken Tonight to Drop the Gas Injunction Proceedings.

Mayor W. L. Fogo today issued a call for a special meeting of council to be held this evening. The object of the meeting will be to reconsider the action taken against the Tri-State Gas company to restrain it from raising their rates and to decide whether or not the city shall take further steps in the injunction proceedings. Other business will also be disposed of at this meeting and the contracts will be let for the paving of Lisbon road and Steubenville street.

The mayor has issued the call at the request of a number of prominent citizens and because of having received petitions signed by a large number of property holders asking council to discontinue its proceedings against the gas company.

The meeting will probably be well attended and it is thought that a few of the citizens will have a word to say to council in favor of the gas company.

They Were Charged With Having Sold Liquor to a Minor Aged 18.

James Piett, an 18-year-old lad who resides at Yellow Creek, was found yesterday by City Building Policeman William Elliott with two half pints of whisky on his person. The boy was not drunk, as he had not had an opportunity to dispose of the liquor before he was seen by the officer. He was taken to the office of Mayor Fogo, where he told the mayor just where he had purchased the liquor and he described the bartenders who had waited upon him.

Investigation resulted in the arrest of C. W. Sharpe, a bartender employed at the saloon of William Savers, near Ninth street, and Charles McClain, bartender for Samuel Brubaker at his Third street saloon.

When brought before the mayor last evening in the presence of the lad, the two men pleaded guiity to the charge of having sold intoxicating liquor to a minor and each of the men were fined $29.60, which they promptly paid, being afterwards released.

POOL CONTEST

Woolweaver Defeated Daughaday With Ease—Last of Tournament Tonight.

The second contest of the semi-final games in the pool tournament now going on here for the amateur championship of the city, was played last evening at the Arlington pool rooms between E. S. Woolweaver, who defeated Albert S. Knapp on Wednesday evening, and Roy Daughaday, one of the winners in the preliminary games last week. The contest resulted in a victory for Woolweaver. He defeated Daughaday by 33 points. The score follows:

	Racks.	Fouls.	Points.
E. S. Woolweaver	13	12	100
Roy Daughaday	13	6	67

Albert Knapp refereed the game and kept score. The contest to be played this evening will be the next to the last one of the tournament. It will be played between E. S. Woolweaver and Clyde Cummings. The winner of this match will play tomorrow evening with D. W. Keppel, another of the last week winners. The one who wins the contest Saturday evening will be declared the champion and will be awarded the gold medal.

Colored People's Ball.

A grand colored ball and cake walk was held last evening in the dancing hall in the city building by the members of the Bill Bailey quartette. A large crowd of the colored people of this city, East Liverpool, Steubenville, Toronto and other surrounding towns were present. Good music was furnished and refreshments were served. The committee who had the affair in charge were F. Harris, William Huston and C. Brown. It was a grand success.

No More Base Ball.

The management of the Wellsville Shops Athletic association gase ball team has decided to discontinue all games for this season. A game was scheduled for Saturday afternoon with the West End Athletics of East Liverpool, but will not be played. The association will now place its football team in active practice at the Central park grounds and a game will be played at an early date. It is the intention to bring some of the fastest amateur teams in this section to this city to play the locals.

Looks Like Suicide.

The colored man named James Stitts or Steff, who was killed by a Panhandle train at Steubenville yesterday, had in his pocket a paper bearing the words, "Notify Goldie Cavanaugh, at Wellsville." This is regarded as evidence that he purposely got in the way of the train. No Goldie Cavanaugh is known in Wellsville.

CHESTER QUIET AFTER SENSATION

Andrew Wigner, Who Sued His Wife, Goes Back to Pleasants County.

Chester has quieted down after the excitement created over the sensational Wigner-Cunningham case in the court of Justice Johnston yesterday afternoon.

Andrew Wigner, who made the charges against his wife and Cunningham, has returned to his home in Pleasants county, W. Va., and it is hardly likely he will make his appearance in Chester again. Mrs. Wigner remained at the room of the couple occupied at the Weaver home over night, and Cunningham, after packing his earthly belongings into an "East Liverpool," paid his obligations and has not been seen since last last night.

As Mrs. Wigner was leaving thecourt room yesterday afternoon she took oc casion to give hed husband a piece of her mind. She turned to him and said:

"You lied to me, Andy. You promised that if I gave you the cow and othe rthings which belonged to me you would not follow me, nor make me any trouble. Now I want you to go home and advertise everything for sale. You have made me spend $23 and I am going to have it back."

It is said Cunningham means to prosecute Wigner on a charge of living with him (Cunningham's) wife. The couple were divorced, but Cunningham states the intimacy dates back to a period before the divorce proceedings.

Amateurs to Perform.

Amateur night at Rock Springs park theatre tomorrow promises to be a great one. The man of Ohio City will be present and the two little cake walkers and others, who will contest for the beautiful watch, to be given away to the winner. The audience is to be the judge. Albini will give an entirely new program and the rest of the show will give new acts. The performance will commence at 8:15 on account of the length of the program.

In a Critical Condition.

Mrs. Bunton, the aged mother of Mrs. Joseph Brunson, of Indiana avenue, is very ill. The lady has been in a critical condition for several days, and it is feared she cannot recover.

Bank Soon Ready to Open.

Judge J. A. Camubell, president of the First National bank of Chester was in town today in the interest of the institution. Matters in connection with the bank are progressing well and it will be opened to the public on October 1, as announced. Considerable time was spent today in collecting stock subscriptions, and it is now assured the several amounts will all have been paid in on time.

Loud Call for Light.

There promises to be a shaking up of dry bones when the lighting question comes before the town council at its meeting tonight. It is the announced intention of a number of residents of the upper end of town to have a few words to say. They have become extremely weary of waiting for the lights to be placed in position and say they will make a vigorous protest against further delay.

The Case Not Smallpox.

The card indicating that the home of Andrew Johnston was under quarantine has been taken down and the county health board has at last decided with Dr. George E. Lewis in the opinion that the case is not smallpox.

WAYNESBURG SENT FOR REINFORCEMENTS

Against the Strengthened Team Will Appear Kid Barker and John Godwin.

When "Bib" Webb captured Collins' skyscraper for the third out in the ninth inning of yesterday's game, leaving the locals in the lead by a comfortable margin, Captain Haller, of the Waynesburg bunch, rushed over to the players' bench where his manager was sitting. "Give me the price of a long distance message to Waynesburg," Haller demanded and the manager produced the coin.

Then Haller took a sneak through the back gate and double-quicked it to the nearest long distance pay station. His message must have burned the wires, for Haller was boiling over with wrath. That the team that sent the Pirate pitcher, Wilhelm, to the woods, made almost an even break with Homestead and bested other renowned teams, should be made monkeys of by an aggregation of preachers, was too much for Haller. In fact, the whole bunch were looking for an easy thing but they realized that they were "up against it" before the game was two innings old.

That message last night brought Shortstop Kenney and Pitcher Williams to the city, and one or maybe both will be in the game this afternoon. Either Williams or Collins will do the twirling and Kenney will relieve Ganier at short field. If Collins pitches today Williams will go in tomorrow. Against him will be pitted Kid Barker, who is just home from a most successful season with the Bloomington team of the "Three I" league. It is almost a certainty that John Godwin will be in the game Saturday, and if he is the team will be the strongest that has represented the city this season.

The attendance yesterday shows that the people are greatly interested in the closing games of the season and the patronage from now on will be the largest of the season. The many friends of Godwin and Barker will take advantage of the opportunity to see them work out.

The manufacturers have refused to sanction the ten per cent increase for plain edged jiggered ware and the reduction of the number of cubic feet to constitute a day's work on biscuit kilns. The agreement is based on the last concessions made by the manufacturers which affect only potteries where the uniform price list is in effect. The concessions will go into effect the first full pay in October and the decision of the arbitration committee will revert back to October 1, in case the disputed points are not settled before that time.

The manufacturers were represented at the conference by W. E. Wells, H. A. Knoblock, Ed. Smith, W. L. Smith, Frank Sebring, Charles Franzheim, Col. J. N. Taylor, Archibald Maddock, John Maddock, John A. Campbell, Moses Collear, James Moses and William Burgess. The committee reprres enting the Brotherhood comprised president T. J. Duffy, First Vice President Frank Hutchins, Henry Reed, Edward Menge, Thomas Humphrey, Enoch Wooten, Harry Hailes, John Wood, William Elder and Michael Carroll.

The first news from the conference reached here at 9:03 o'clock in a telegram from Thomas J. Duffy to H. O. Allison, manager of the Potters' Herald. The telegram is as follows:

"Settled. Propositions 9 and 12 to be arbitrated by disinterested committee. Previous concessions to manufacturers to stand."

The message was read from the stage in the opera house and by courtesy of Mr. Allison the news was soon generally known. A general feeling of relief prevailed.

REALM OF SPORTS

ALL SORTS OF PLAYS DURING THE GAME

The Raw Weather Was Bad for the Pitchers And Both Were Touched Up Rather Hard, Phillips Getting the Worst of It.

The melancholy days of the base ball season have begun at West End park. Though the day was dark and dreary and the several hundred spectators shook and shivered, the game was well worth watching. Very few ladies braved the raw weather and nearly every spectator within the grounds represented a paid admission. It was a bad day for the pitchers and Vasbinder and Phillips suffered a severe drubbing. Both teams had bad innings and more than the usual number of runs and hits were piled up. That the locals had the most at the end of the game was entirely satisfactory to the fans.

The Waynesburg bunch is certainly capable of putting up a much better article of ball than the offering yesterday. They have defeated some of the fastest teams in Pennsylvania and only a few days ago gave the Washington team an awful drubbing. Winham, of the Champion Pirates, pitched the game for Washington and the Waynesburg swatters sent him to the tall timber. They were up against another Stellar performer yesterday in the person of Vasbinder, the American league recruit. With the exception of the sixth inning, he held them safe at all times. In that round he worked under a great disadvantage, all the errors of the locals coming in a bunch. For a time it looked like the side would never be retired and a shout of joy went up when Houser handed McKeown's grounder to Webb for a force out of Haller.

The sixth round came as a genuine surprise for up to that time the locals had played one of the fastest games ever seen at West End park. Houser had been eating them up at second and Wallace, and the rest of the outfield had been doing a rushing business in the base hit killing field. It was a hard play on which to mark up a miscue but there was no way out of it.

Those wobbles kept the result in doubt until the last man was out, adding a zest to a contest that was full of all sorts of plays, from the wierdest up to the highly sensational. It was a genuine slugging match and the locals had a little bit the best of it. Wallace led with the willow, having three safeties out of five times up. Rising, the Monaca boy, who has just finished the season in the "Three I" league, had a single and a triple, while Heck, in spite of his crippled ankle, made the circuit on a long drive to left center. The drive marked Heck's entry into the home run squad. Gibby, Brown, Houser, Webb and Emmerling also wielded the willow with good effect and of the entire bunch Vasbinder was the only one who failed to connect. On the other side, C. McKeown carried off the swatting honors with four hits out of five chances. Grainer and Morehead both had pretty three-ply licks that figured in the run getting.

It looked like a walkaway for the locals when they made three in the second and the visitors were blanked inning after inning, but you can't sometimes always tell about base ball. In the start off the three visitors who came to bat met the horschide squarely on the nose but in every case there was a fielder at the other end of the line. Ganier lined one to Wallace and Gibby had the disposal of Montgomery and Comfort. Houser singled in the locals' half, but Rising and Brown could not help him along.

In the second Vasbinder passed Morehead with two down and C. McKeown singled but Phillips failed Houser to Heck. McDonnough was put out of business trying to field Heck's hot bounder. The ball struck his hand and unluckily for Heck bounded to Ganier, who threw him out. Phillips went to the slab and all save one of the locals' hits were made off him. Webb, the first man to face Phillips, was given life when C. McKeown fumbled his grounder. Vasbinder was hit by a pitched ball and he scored with Webb on Gibby's pretty three sacker to right center. Gibby counted on a wild pitch.

Vasbinder scored in the fourth on a pass, his steal of second and L. McKeown's failure to hold Montgomery's assist on Gibby's grounder. The visitors scored twice in the fifth. Phillips walked, only to be forced by Collins. Ganier soaked one to the fence, good for three sacks, scoring Collins. Ganier went to third when Montgomery hit one along the third base line. He reached the bag just as Brown was reaching for the ball. The ball looked foul as Brown fell over Ganier trying to nail it, but Umpire Reark called it fair and it counted for two sacks, Ganier scoring.

Three hits and only one run was the record for the locals' half. Wallace started with a single and Rising sacrificed him to second. Brown's clean lick scored him. Brown was thrown out at the plate trying to score when Montgomery booted Heck's grounder. Webb laced one out for two bags but failed to see Heck perched on third. Heck vacated and run down and nailed at home.

The sixth was a hoodoo inning for both sides. L. McKeown opened with a single and Morehead followed suit. Brown left third to field C. McKeown's bunt and Vasbinder, who got the ball, cold not catch either of the trio. The bases were full and Phillips' best effort was a fly to center, which Rising nailed and by a fine throw kept McKeown at third. Houser failed on Collins' grounder and L. McKeown counted. Houser tried to catch Morehead at third after the fumble, but Brown missed his throw and Montgomery and C. McKeown scored. Vasbinder fielded Ganier's easy one but threw wild to first and Comfort added to the general discomfort by pounding out a safety, scoring Ganier. Haller popped up a fly to short right, which Wallace dropped after a hard run, but L. McKeown ended the inning by forcing him at second. Five runs, four hits and four errors.

The locals did even better in their half, touching Phillips up for five clean raps, good for 12 bases and six runs. After Vasbinder had fanned, Emmerling hit safely and Gibson advanced him to second. Houser beat out a slow bounder, sending Duff up to third. Phillips balked on a throw to second and Umpire Reark moved Houser up a bag and sent Duff on home. Wallace followed with a clean rap, scoring Houser. Rising met one on the nose and sent it on a line to left, good for three cushions, he scoring on Phillips' poor throw to second to catch Brown, who had reached first on a pass and purloined second. Heck followed with his famous sack cleaner.

Morehead started the seventh with a clean three cushion shot and C. McKeown scored him with a single. That was the visitors' last offense in the tally line. The locals scored their last in the eighth. Wallace singled, purloined second and scored on Brown's clean rap.

Features of the Game.

Big Heck seemed to have it in for the visiting slabmen and sent several hot ones straight at them.

Rising is a fast fielder, a good hitter and a good thrower. He made good with the fans yesterday.

Wallace made his first error of the season yesterday as an outer gardener. He is making the best right fielder the team has had this season.

Webb is playing the game of his life these days. His work at second is not excelled by any player in the country. Yesterday he had nine chances at second and took them all nicely.

Pitcher Phillips brought the eighth inning to a sudden stop with a lightning double. Heck drove one at him on the line and the ball stuck in his glove. Brown was caught off second.

Off for the Mountains.

T. V. Canavan, the lightning money counter in the office of the East Liverpool & Rock Springs Street Railway company, leaves Monday for a two weeks' vacation, the most of which time will be spent among the hills of Butler county, Pa. This will be the first vacation that Teddy, as he is generally known, has taken during the three years he has been employed by the above named company. Teddy is not only a competent and obliging young man in the street railway office, but also has quite a reputation as a football player and manager as well as a bird and dog fancier. It will be remembered that he once took a light eleven to Steubenville and although they played good ball, the score was overwhelmingly against them. However, he will spend much of his vacation in looking for new material and organizing a country eleven with which he hopes to win back the lost laurels.

A Game Wanted.

The Legal Stars would like to arrange a game for Saturday with either the Marines or Glasgow. Those who desire to contest are requested to communicate with Al Calhoun, 127 Jackson street.

SPORTING MISCELLANY.

The Rochester, Pa., A. A. has won 19 consecutive games.

Ned Hanlon figures Boston superior in the box, and Pittsburg in every other position.

Hanlon remarks: "You cannot build up a team in one season, even with wads of money."

Benny Yanger says he will knock out Hanlon the next time they meet, just to show his superiority.

Jimmy Gardner, of Lowell, knocked out Tommy Daly, of Brooklyn, N. Y., in the twelfth round at Boston.

Dick Harley is thinking of taking a winter flier in black diamonds. He has a chance to go into the coal business in Chicago.

A Purgative Pleasure.

If you ever took DeWitt's Little Early Risers for biliousness or constipation you know what a purgative pleasure is. These famous little pills cleanse the liver and rid the system of all bile without producing unpleasant effects. They do not gripe, sicken or weaken, but give tone and strength to the tissues and organs involved. W. H. Howell, of Houston, Texas, says: "No better pill can be used than Little Early Risers for constipation, sick headache, etc."

MONUMENT UNVEILED

Antietam, Md., Sept. 18.—With brave speeches, inspiring music and earnest prayer the memory of New Jersey's warriors who fell on Antietam's gory field was honored. The president of the nation and the flower of New Jersey's citizenry were there to fittingly dedicate the beautiful shaft that the state has raised to her dead sons. The special train bearing President Roosevelt, Governor Murphy, Senators Keene and Dryden and a large party of national guard officers and prominent citizens reached the little station of Antietam after an eventful night's run from Jersey City.

During the afternoon the president, with Governor Murphy, Senators Keene and Dryden and accompanied by General Carmen, who commanded the Thirteenth New Jersey volunteers in the battle, entered a carriage and drove to various points of interest on the historic field. General Carmen gave the president a vivid description of the battle, indicating every point of interest and importance. The president alighted at Burnside bridge where some desperate fighting occurred; at "Bloody Lane," a scene of frightful carnage; at the beautiful national cemetery, in the center of which stands the colossal granite statue of an American soldier keeping silent guard over the dead lying buried there, and at the quaint little Lutheran memorial church.

During the drive, which occupied about two hours and a half, a singular fact was developed by the discussion of the battle. It was that throughout the ceremonies of the day, actively participated in entirely by citizens of New Jersey with the exception of the president, the name of the commander of the union troops in the great engagement, General George B. McClellan, a citizen and afterward a governor of the state of New Jersey, was not mentioned once. Governor Murphy himself recalled this curious although quite unintentional lapse and was concerned deeply about the matter, lest the omission might be misconstrued.

In conversation with the president about General McClellan the governor recalled the fact that he now lies buried in the city of Trenton, N. J. and that a member of McClellan's staff is one of his most intimate friends. He warmly eulogized McClellan as one of the great commanders of the war and as a governor of which New Jersey had reason to be proud.

MARYLAND REPUBLICANS MEET

State Ticket Nominated and Platform Adopted—Roosevelt Endorsed.

Baltimore, Sept. 18.—The Republican state convention nominated the following ticket: Governor, Stevenson A. Williams, Harford county; attorney general, George Whitelock, Baltimore city; state comptroller, L. E. P. Dennis, Somerset county.

The platform endorses the administration of President Roosevelt and favors his nomination in 1904; the present Democratic state administration in Maryland is denounced; a reform of the present election laws is demanded, and the adoption of a corrupt practices law to prevent bribery in elections is advocated. Legislation in behalf of a sewerage system for Baltimore city and to encourage the Chesapeake bay oyster industries is favored.

Atrocities Committed by Mob in Nevada—Many Arrests Made.

Tonopah, Nev., Sept. 18.—A mob of 12 or 15 men invaded Chinatown Wednesday afternoon and at the point of guns compelled a number of Chinamen to leave town at once. Several who did not comply were badly beaten, dragged to the outskirts of the town and told to take the road to Sodaville. Later on all but one returned to town and notified the officers. They state that Ping Ling, a 73-year-old man, and the proprietor of a washhouse, was one of the victims and they believed he had perished on the road. Searching parties were sent out and they found his horribly mutilated body three miles west of town.

The Chinamen were also robbed of several hundred dollars before being run out of town. Eighteen men, mostly cooks and waiters, have been arrested and are now in jail. Among the number is F. M. Arandall, president of a labor union.

A meeting of the citizens of Tonopah was held at which 1,000 or more persons were present, and a committee was appointed to adopt resolutions denunciatory of the action of the men.

Eight Injured by Collapsed Building.

New York, Sept. 18.—A five-story brick building under course of construction at the corner of Madison and Rutgers streets collapsed, injuring eight workmen. DON'T DELAY.

It is "Putting Off" Till Some Other Day that Causes so Many Sudden Deaths.

If its for the kidneys, liver, bladder or blood, rheumatism, dyspepsia, chronic constipation, or the weaknesses peculiar to women, the most efficient medicine known to the medical profession is Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy, and a very simple way to find out if you need it, is to put some urine in a glass tumbler and let it stand 24 hours; if it has a sediment or a milky, cloudy appearance, if it is ropy or stringy, pale or discolored, you do not need a physician to tell you that your kidneys and bladder are badly affected.

The Rev. Theodore Hunter, pastor of the Presbyterian Church, Greensburg, Ky., writes us the following:

"It gives me much pleasure to state that I have received great benefit from the use of Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy. Some time ago I had a severe attack of kidney trouble, but a few bottles of 'Favorite Remedy' have entirely removed the malady."

"Favorite Remedy" speedily cures such dangerous symptoms as pain in the back, frequent desire to urinate, especially at night, burning scalding pain in passing water, the staining of linen by your urine.

It is for sale by all druggists in the New 50 Cent Size and the regular $1.00 size bottles—less than a cent a dose.

Another Fierce Gale Sweeps Atlantic Coast in Vicinity of New York.

MANY VESSELS AND CREWS LOST

Fishing Smacks Still Missing—Subway In New York Flooded—Narrow Escapes from Electrocution—Inmates of Widows' Home Have Close Call.

New York, Sept. 18.—Following Wednesday's hurricane came another severe storm yesterday. In New York city the gale blew at the rate of 67 miles an hour, which was stronger than Wednesday's gale. The damage was not so widespread, however, because the storm did not last so long.

Fishing schooners brought tales of disasters from all along the coast. At least half a dozen men were drowned from these boats, and it is feared that many more men met a similar fate, as several steamers are missing, some of which are known to have foundered. Eight smacks which formed part of the fleet overtaken by the hurricane at Five Fathom bank arrived, but the Sunshine, Daisy, Mercedes, Gaffney, Emily P. Wright, Orient and the Lillian Fernald are yet to be heard from.

Find Watery Grave.

Among the men who were drowned were Captain John G. Morgan and Fisherman Ned Peterson, of the schooner Basten, and Captain Silas Latham and Fisherman Peter Barr and Fisherman Lewis Wilcox, of the schooner Esther and Antie. Both Captains Morgan and Latham hail from Noank, Conn.

The mate of the M. A. Baston, who brought the schooner into port, said that it was in the attempt to clear one of the sinking smacks that Captain Morgan was knocked overboard, the schooner being thrown on her beam ends. The names of the boats that have gone down are not at present known. It is thought, however, that they may number four, carrying in all from 40 to 50 men.

During the height of the storm one of the United States cruiser Chicago's launches, carrying the paymaster, an engineer and four men, put off from shore at Tompkinville, Staten Island. The launch was swamped and all men went overboard. The paymaster had with him a satchel containing $27,000 but according to the regulations it was attached to a buoy. The light house tender Daisy put out from shore and saved the men. The money was also found.

Clothing Burned Off.

In Staten Island the wind unroofed the widows' home, tearing it completely off. The 50 inmates and the attendants happened to be at supper at the time on the other floor and no one was injured.

In this city, the subway, under course of construction, was flooded Many of the workmen were injured and several of them received serious shocks from the electrical currents with which portions of the subway became charged. In the presence of thousands of people who gathered on West Thirty-fourth street Carmel Saleno was nearly electrocuted. He was caught between a water main and the channel rail and transfixed by the electric current. Screaming with pain the man made vain efforts to extricate himself, and to add to his sufferings his clothing caught fire. A great crowd collected, but for 10 minutes or more all efforts to rescue the man were futile. Finally a rubber coat was thrown over him and he was dragged out of the trench. All the clothing had been burned from his back. He was taken to a hospital, where it is said he will die.

At College point John Hess, a 12-year-old boy, became entangled in a live electric light wire. His father sprang to his assistance and himself became entangled in the wire. Both were very seriously burned, but were rescued by a woman, who, before she was successful in her efforts, was knocked to the ground half a dozen times by the current.

LONG CHASE ENDED.

Alleged Highwayman Captured in Montana by Detectives.

Kansas City, Sept. 18.—Detectives McAnamy and McGuire arrived here with Carey Snyder, whom they had arrested in a small town near Billings, Mont., more than a week ago. The return of Snyder was not made without a series of dramatic incidents and his imprisonment in Kansas City now ends the chase that was commenced in May of last year and extended over a great part of the United States.

Snyder is charged with holding up and robbing O. H. Stevens and his wife on the night of May 1, when it is alleged he secured diamonds and other jewels valued at about $6,500. Charles E. Farrow, now a prisoner in the county jail, is said to have confessed to the police that he was one of the robbers and implicated Snyder as the other. Snyder denied having any connection with the robbery. He is the son of R. N. Snyder, at one time a leading banker of this city.

REMARKABLE SPEED ATTAINED.

Electric Car Runs at Rate of 106 4-5 Miles Per Hour.

Berlin, Sept. 18.—An electric car ran at the rate of 106 4-5 miles per hour on the Zossen military road, said to be the highest speed ever attained. The engineers in charge of the experiments expect that 125 miles per hour will be reached.

The experimenting company, which is composed of various electrical companies and banks organized for this purpose, has just resumed the trials for the third time. It was found last year, when a speed of 99½ miles was achieved, that the 70-pound rails and ordinarily ballasted roadbed would not stand the strain. Since then the roadbed has been reconstructed with broken basalt and closely set with pine ties faced with oak, so as to have the springiness of the pine and the hardness of the oak. The new rails are a little over 100 pounds. Alterations have also been made in the motor.

The Genuine vs. the Counterfeits.

The genuine is always better than a counterfeit, but the truth of this statement is never more forcibly realized or more thoroughly appreciated than when you compare the genuine DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve with the many counterfeits and worthless substitutes that are on the market. W. S. Ledbetter, of Shreveport, La., says: "After using numerous other remedies without benefit, one box of DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve cured me." For blind, bleeding, itching and protruding piles no remedy is equal to DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve.

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Don't Know it.

How To Find Out.

Fill a bottle or common glass with your water and let it stand twenty-four hours; a sediment or settling indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys; if it stains your linen it is evidence of kidney trouble; too frequent desire to pass it or pain in the back is also convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder are out of order.

What to Do.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy fulfills every wish in curing rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in 50c. and $1. sizes.

You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful discovery and a book that tells more about it, both sent absolutely free by mail. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper.

CORRESPONDENCE WITH BALFOUR

Cause at Heart Can Be Best Promoted from Outside—Colonies' Interests Discussed—Chancellor of Exchequer and Secretary of India Also Resign.

London, Sept. 18.—The official announcement of the resignation of Mr. Chamberlain and two members of the cabinet was made at Downing street in the following communication:

"The following ministers have tendered their resignations which have been accepted by the king: Right Hon. Joseph Chamberlain, secretary of the colonies; Right Hon. C. T. Ritchie, chancellor of the exchequer, and Lord George Hamilton, secretary for India.

"The accompanying correspondence passed between the premier, Right Hon. A. J. Balfour, and Mr. Chamberlain."

Then follows Mr. Chamberlain's letter dated Birmingham, Sept. 9, commencing "My Dear Balfour," in which he sets forth his reasons for his resignation. An extremely interesting feature of the letter is the following statement concerning a preferential tariff:

Preferential Agreement.

"For the present, at any rate, a preferential agreement with out colonies involving any new duty, however small, on articles of food hitherto untaxed, even if accompanied by a reduction of taxation on other articles of food equally universal in their consumption, would be unacceptable to the majorities of the constituencies. However much we may regret the decision, however mistaken we may think it, no good government in a democratic country can ignore it. I feel, therefore, that as an immediate practical policy the question of preference to the colonies cannot be pressed with any hope of success at the present time, although there is a very strong feeling in favor of the other branch of fiscal reform which would give fuller discretion to the government in negotiating with foreign countries for a freer exchange of commodities and which would enable our representatives to retaliate if no concession was made to our just demands.

Constitution Must Be Changed.

"If, as I believe, you share these views, it seems to me that you will be absolutely justified in adopting them as the policy of your government, although it will necessarily involve some change in the constitution. As secretary for the colonies during the last eight years I have been in a special sense the representative of the policy of a closer union which I firmly believe to be equally necessary in the interests of the colonies and ourselves. I believe it is possible today and may be impossible tomorrow to make arrangements for such a union. I have had unexampled opportunities of watching events and appreciating the feelings of our kinsmen beyond the seas. I stand, therefore, in a different position to any of my colleagues and I think that I should justly be blamed if I remained in office and thus formally accepted the exclusion from my political program of so important a part thereof.

Can Work Better Outside Cabinet.

"I think that with absolute loyalty to your government and with no fear of embarrassing it in any way I can best promote the cause I have at heart from the outside, and I cannot but hope that in a perfectly independent position my arguments may be received with less prejudice than would attach to those of a party leader. Accordingly I would suggest that you limit the present policy of the government to an assertion of our freedom in the case of all commercial relations with foreign countries, and that you should agree to my tendering my resignation of my present office to his majesty and devoting myself to the work of explaining and popularizing these principles of imperial union which experience has convinced me are essential to our future welfare and prosperity."

The first portion of this letter refers to Mr. Chamberlain's first speech on the subject at Birmingham and Mr. Balfour's reply to the corn tax deputation. Mr. Balfour in a letter to Mr. Chamberlain dated Sept. 16 says:

Balfour's Reply.

"Agreeing as I do with you that the time has come when a change should be made in the fiscal canons by which we bound ourselves in our commercial dealings with other governments it seems paradoxical, indeed, that you should leave the cabinet at the same time that others of my colleagues are leaving it who disagree on the very point with us both. Yet I cannot but admit that there is some force in your arguments in support of that course, based as they are upon your specified and personal relation with that portion of the controversy which deals with colonial preference. You have done more than any man living or dead to bring home to the citizens of the empire the consciousness of imperial obligation and interdependence between the various fragments into which the empire is geographically divided. I believe you to be right in holding that this interdependence should find expression in our commercial as well as in our political and military relations."

MALARIA

Germ Infected Air.

Malaria is not confined exclusively to the swamps and marshy regions of the country, but wherever there is bad air this insidious foe to health is found. Poisonous vapors and gases from sewers, and the musty air of damp cellars are laden with the germs of this miserable disease, which are breathed into the lungs and taken up by the blood and transmitted to every part of the body. Then you begin to feel out of sorts without ever suspecting the cause. No energy or appetite, dull headaches, sleepy and tired and completely fagged out from the slightest exertion, are some of the deplorable effects of this enfeebling malady. As the disease progresses and the blood becomes more deeply poisoned, boils and abscesses and dark or yellow spots appear upon the skin. When the poison is left to ferment and the microbes and germs to multiply in the blood, Liver and Kidney troubles and other serious complications often arise. As Malaria begins and develops in the blood, the treatment to be effective must begin there too. S. S. S. destroys the germs and poisons and purifies the polluted blood, and under its tonic effect the debilitated constitution rapidly recuperates and the system is soon clear of all signs of this depressing disease.

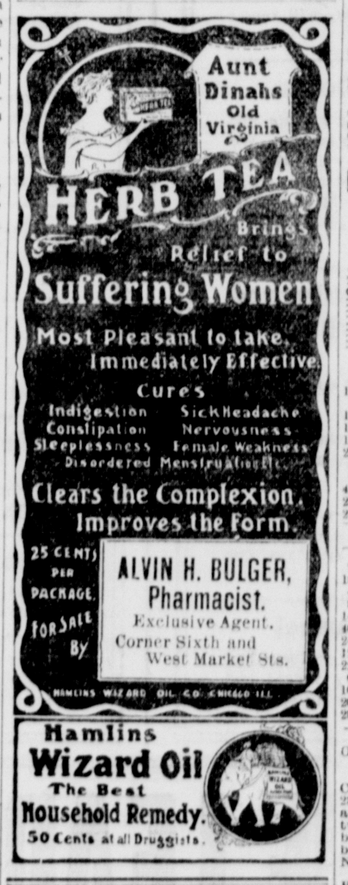
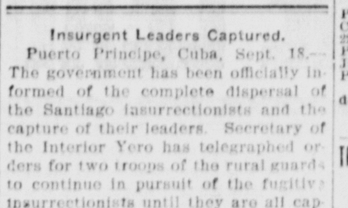
Chinese Consular Clerk Resented Policeman's Insult With a Blow.

Washington, Sept. 18.—Unless the unofficial advices received by the Chinese minister regarding the suicide at San Francisco on Tuesday of Tom Kim Yung, Chinese consular clerk, are found to be untrue, action will be taken with the view to vindicating the honor of the young man. The minister already has spoken to Acting Secretary of State Adee about the case.

These unofficial advices are to the effect that the young man was not arrested for gambling, but was insulted by a policeman, who accosted him on the streets of San Francisco. In resenting the insult he struck the officer a blow, which resulted in his arrest. Feeling that his arrest under the circumstances was a disgrace and indignity to one of his station he ended his life.





Insurgent Leaders Captured.

Puerto Principe, Cuba, Sept. 18.—The government has been officially informed of the complete dispersal of the Santiago insurrectionists and the capture of their leaders. Secretary of the Interior Yero has telegraphed orders for two troops of the rural guards to continue in pursuit of the fugitive insurrectionists until they are all captured or killed.

Scott Out of Danger.

Denver, Sept. 18.—United States Senator Nathan B. Scott, of West Virginia, who has been seriously ill at the Brown Palace hotel since Sunday night, is pronounced out of danger by the attending physicians.

Golden Wedding at Salem.

Salem, September 18.—Mr. and Mrs. John R. Wallace celebrated, at the hall of Amity lodge, I. O. O. F., their golden wedding, 150 members of Amity lodge and Home lodge, degree of Rebekah, being guests. Mr. Wallace is one of the oldest members of the former and Mrs. Wallace of the latter. John R. Wallace and Elizabeth M. Gardner were united in marriage at Pittsburg September 15, 1853, by Rev. A. M. Brian, pastor of the Cumberland Presbyterian church. They came to Salem in 1857. Three children of the union are living: Mrs. Mary Dunlap, Pittsburg; Charles Wallace, New Castle, and George Wallace, Salem. Mrs. Dunlap and daughter, Miss Mabel, of Pittsburg, were present at the celebration.

Sock Social.

A pleasant event in church social circles took place last evening in the First Christian church, when a large number were present to participate in the sock social. During the evening a brief but enjoyable program was rendered, as one of the prominent features of the entertainment. Simple and appropriate decorations were arranged in the large room where the social was held. The social proved to be a source of pleasure to all present and a financial benefit to the society.

Barlow-Cassidy.

Lisbon, September 18.—(Special.)—Edward H. Cassidy, of Pittsburg, and Miss Linnie M. Barlow, were married last evening at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Barlow a mile south of Lisbon. Rev. George Fowler, pastor of the Christian church, performed the ceremony in the presence of the family and a few friends. Mr. and Mrs. Cassidy went to Pittsburg today, where they will reside. Mr. Cassidy is identified with mercantile interests in Pittsburg.

Arrangements Completed.

The Ladies' auxiliary of the Y. M. C. A. have their arrangements almost completed for the mock trial, "Breach of Promise," which will be presented in the Grand opera house October 1 under the direction of Col. Newton of Worcester, Mass. A large number of tickets have already been sold. The trial will no doubt be a success, as Col. Newton is noted as a humorist of marked ability.

Reiss-Greenwood.

Lisbon, September 18.—(Special.)—Louis Greenwood, of Youngstown, formerly a clothing merchant at Lisbon, on Tuesday married Miss Hattie Reiss, a prominent lady of Cleveland. Mr. Greenwood has charge of the clothing department in a big store in Youngstown.

Wedded at Steubenville.

STRUCK BY A TRAIN AND HIS BACK BROKEN

A Lisbon Man Meets With a Mishap Likely to Result Fatally.

Lisbon, September 18.—(Special)—Frank Fisher, of a local grocery firm, received word from Canton yesterday that his father, John Fisher, had been struck by a locomotive Wednesday night and was in a precarious condition.

He is supposed to have been asleep on the track. He was removed to a hospital where it was found his back was broken.

Fisher was employed on a farm north of Lisbon. He is a middle aged man. He has not been living with his wife for several years.

LISBON RAILROAD KILLED A MAN

An Unknown Walking the Track Run Over By an Excursion Train.

Lisbon, September 18.—(Special.)—An unknown man was killed at Watt's mill, near the Pennsylvania line, by the east bound Pittsburg, Lisbon & Western fair excursion train late Wednesday evening.

The man was apparently drunk and walking on the track.

The body has been identified as that of Thomas Harper, aged 45, of Cannelton, Pa. He is said to have been unmarried.

In Boys' Clothing

We did as much business the first week of September, 1903, as we did in the whole month of September, 1902. That's gratifying is'nt it? Not from the standpoint of money making alone, but because it indicates that our efforts have been appreciated, and we truly have made efforts to surpass all former season's showings—to supply better grades, better styles and better values. It is a convenient thing for the boys and the boys parents to have a store in their midst carrying all the leading styles and offering them, too, at prices as favorable as can be found in any store in America

Boys' Suits as Low as $1.50.

Young Men's Suits as Low as $5.00.

WE ARE opening the season with the most exquisite selection of men's suits and top coats. Made of the purest of woolens—the choicest of designs or in plain weaves. Made by the most skilled tailors in America—the same precisely as some of the large eastern houses have on their counters at $20 and $25. We realize it is not so easy to build up a trade and hold it in a town like East Liverpool as it is in more cosmopolitan cities. Bombastic advertising, sensation won't do in East Liverpool. Merit alone is what counts. It is the best display we have ever made at the price. It is the best display in America at the price. Alteration, if necessary, is made at our expense. Perfect fit is assured.

HOME AFFAIRS

May Succeed Stephens—Prof. E. J. State, of Akron, will be in this city next week to look over the ground and consider a proposition to succeed P. J. Stephens as physical director of the Y. M. C. A.

Great Interest—The tent meetings that are being conducted on Fifth street by Evangelists Johnson and Taylor are largely attended and full of interest. Both the preaching and the singing are spirited and vigorous.

Councilman a Grandfather — A son has been born to Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Gavin, of Toronto. Mrs. Gavin was formerly Miss Nellie Cannon, of this city, daughter of Councilman Thomas Cannon, who visited the new and only grandson yesterday.

Mrs. Brock Set Free—The case of Ohio versus Mrs. Charles Brock, who was charged with stealing $65 from Nicholas Surroco, a Roumanian, while he was on her houseboat, was dismissed last evening by Mayor Weaver, who did not think the evidence sufficient to hold her for court.

Important Conference—A meeting of the quarterly conference of the First M. E. church has been called for this evening. Important church affairs will be discussed, and officers elected for the ensuing year. They will include the board of trustees, the stewards and officers of the church and Sunday school.

Big Picnic September 24—At the meeting of the Patriarchs Militant to be held this evening, two new members will be initiated. Arrangements for the big picnic are progressing nicely. Word has been received here that special trains are to be run from Dennison, Mingo and New Cumberland The outing will be held September 24.

A BIG REAL ESTATE DEAL PRESAGES BUILDING BOOM

Though the gentlemen refused to confirm the report when approached today, it is announced upon the very best authority that Geo. H. Owen & Co have closed the deal for the purchase of the Odd Fellows building, at the corner of Washington and Fifth streets.

It will be remembered that Mr. Owen obtained a 90-day option on the building several weeks ago and it was thought at the time the deal would be closed within a short time. The building is one of the best business blocks in the city, and the location is particularly desirable.

The consideration is being kept in the background, though it is known the order to which the structure belongs has repeatedly refused a figure in the neighborhood of $25,000.

The East Liverpool order of Odd Fellows, which is one of the richest in the state of Ohio, has owned a lot 40x130 on Sixth street for some time, it being a part of the Nagle estate. It is stated the lodge will commence the erection of a fine new business block on the site early next spring.

It can be stated with a reasonable degree of certainty that the Dollar Savings bank will occupy the Odd Fellows' building just as soon as the leases held by the Potters' Building and Savings association and others expire. The banking company has been looking for a permanent home ever since its organization, and it was stated when the institution opened its doors for business that the present quarters at Sixth street and Broadway were only temporary. The lease of the Potters' Building & Savings association, it is understood, does not expire until 1906, and the present deal will not interfere with the plans of the latter in any way, as the loan association will have plenty of time to carry out any plan its officials may now or hereafter have in contemplation.

J. J. Purinton sold to the Building and Savings association several months ago, a tract adjoining the corner lot owned by the Odd Fellows, and the former company will doubtless begin at once upon the construction of a building for its use on the new purchase. The Building and Savings people paid $19,000 for the Purinton property and with that amount invested will put up a block that will be a credit to the business section.

The latest deal is considered one of the most important in years, since it involves the construction of at least two up-to-date buildings—one for the Odd Fellows, to be located on Sixth street, and the other to be occupied by the Potters' Building and Savings association on Washington street, and the actual investment will be well up in six figures.

All But Two Points Settled and They Will Be Arbitrated. News Hailed With Joy in Industrial and Business Circles.

After a session which lasted from 10 o'clock yesterday morning until late in the evening, the conference over the wage scale between the committees representing the National Brotherhood of Operative Potters and the United States Manufacturers' association at Philadelphia was adjourned and the announcement made by both committees that all the matters in dispute, with two exceptions, had been satisfactorily adjusted. The two propositions upon which the committees failed to agree are known as Nos. 9 and 12, and it was agreed that they be submitted to an arbitration board, to be composed of five members, two to be named by the Brotherhood, two by the manufacturers and the four select the fifth.

The announcements mean that the threatened rupture over the demands made by the Brotherhood for better wages in some instances and better working conditions in others has been averted, both sides yielding to avert any action that would cause a suspension of the industry. The manufacturers and the Brotherhood have made good the declaration given to the public when the first conference was held last June that the differences would be adjusted without resorting to a strike. The rejection of the propositions submitted by the manufacturers led a number of people to doubt that a peaceful settlement could be effected, and the announcement from the Philadelphia conference comes as the most cheering bit of news heard in many months. Business will at once resume normal conditions for all that remains is the arranging of the details of the settlement, every element of doubt having been eliminated.

In submitting propositions Nos. 9 and 12 to arbitrators both sides agree to abide by the result. These two questions have been the bone of contention at all the conferences and have prevented an earlier settlement. Proposition No. 9 affects the jiggermen, they asking for an increase aggregating ten per cent on a number of articles of jiggered ware. The manufacturers offered to grant an advance, to pay for which the price of other jiggered articles was to be reduced. A settlement by a disinterested committee will not be a difficult matter.

Proposition No. 12 affects the kilnmen, who at the Wheeling convention had a resolution passed asking for a reduction in bisque kiln measurement from 212 to 200 cubic feet. The

Gas Question In All Its Phases Argued And Injunction Proceedings Will Likely Be Dropped.

It is certain that the revolution of sentiment in the gas controversy has at last struck the private consumer, and he is now as strongly in favor of staying the injunction proceedings as he was firm in the belief that the restraining order should be asked when the agitation first began. The city council is placed in a peculiar position and refuses to assume the responsibility of instructing the city solicitor to proceeding with the securing of an injunction. A mass meeting has been called for this evening at city hall, and an effort will be made to secure an expression from the citizens generally.

About 30 citizens met with the council last night, and if their views can be taken as an indication of how the remainder of the people feel, it can be announced with absolute certainty there will be no injunction asked. Councilman Moon was the only member absent last night when President Horwell announced the object of the meeting was to get some further insight into the gas question. The council desired to obtain an idea of what the people thought, and the first speaker called upon was E. D. Moore, who said:

"Mr. President and Members of Council: I believe I have never before had the pleasure of addressing your honorable body and only do so now because of the invitation which I have read in the city papers in which the citizens are asked to come here and express their views on the gas question.

"I do not stand here as the advocate of any gas company and am willing to admit, for the sake of argument, that the companies may be unjust and selfish and almost anything you may see fit to call them; but, even if they are all their opponents claim against them, that is still not the problem with which we have to do. A certain line of Shakespeare says, 'To be or not to be; that's the question?' Are we to go back to coal? If so, how are we to use it? So far as we are concerned in our home, we would have to go to $25 or $30 expense before we could even begin to use coal for heating, to say nothing of cooking. We have practically a new gas range which cost us $20 or $25. That must be thrown aside and a new coal stove purchased at say $20 or $25. It will cost us in plumber's bills several dollars to connect for hot water. Then, where are we to get our coal, and at what price? Certainly not by rail, for the C. & P. railroad does not have proper facilities to take care of its present ordinary business and it will not be able to do more until its double track system is completed.

"Again, as serious a phase of the difficulty as any is the matter of light. Shall we go back to the use of kerosene oil, the tallow candle or the pine knot? There are hundreds of school children who have to prepare their

City Auditor Davidson reports that no favorable word has been received from J. R. Williams & Co., of Pittsburg, relative to the sale of the $93,000 worth of bonds. It is now the opinion of the auditor and council that they are being fooled by the Pittsburg concern, and though they have threatened to take action in the matter for a week, it has been decided now to do so, and at the first opportunity.

It has been learned that the Pittsburg firm is merely a brokerage firm. Its business is to buy bonds and then sell them. When the company agreed to take the city's bonds it made the pretense of being anxious for them within a very short period. This, it is believed, was done simply to blind the councilmen. The bonds were prepared for transmission to the company, but the company has never called for them. The belief is general that the company has been unable to find buyers and is holding the city council off until they can be secured.

Three weeks have elapsed since the bonds were awarded to the above company. During that time the city has been paying the regular 7 per cent interest, aggregating about $150. There is no assurance given the councilmen that the bonds will be taken and the money turned over to the city at any early date, and it is considered folly to trifle longer with the Pittsburg people.

Council may not take action until the regular meeting night, next Tuesday, but when it does another proposition will confront it. The bid offered by George Gaston, of Cleveland, which was turned down once, will again be submitted. Attorney Gaston arrived in the city last evening and wanted to place the offer before council at its special meeting, but it could not be done, owing to the objection of a member of council, evidently in favor of continuing the deal with J. R. Williams & Co. The offer of Mr. Gaston is to furnish buyers for the bonds, providing the city will give him $175 for his work. He says he can have the transaction complete and the money in the hands of the city within three days.

HON. J. P. JONES HAS BEEN ARRESTED

Canton, September 18.—J. P. Jones ex-state representative and former state labor commissioner, has been arrested on a warrant sworn out by C Pennel charging him with assault and battery.

Pennel at one time was one of Jones' political lieutenants, but recently a personal grievance made both men the bitteriest of enemies. Last Saturday night Pennel and his son were standing on the street in North Lawrence. Without any provocation Attorney Pennel alleges, Jones attempted to beat the plaintiff and his son. Jones, however, says that Pennel had "laid" for him, and on Saturday night, with the assistance of his son, attempted the assault. Jones underwent a preliminary hearing before 'Squire Sibila yesterday and pleaded not guilty to the charge. Pennel is a member of the old Foraker guard in Stark, and during the famous Foraker-Hanna fight supported Jones in his fight against Hanna.

Both sides have determined to fight the case to the end.

Salem Man Seeks Divorce.

Lisbon, September 18.—(Special.)—Charles Alfred West, through Attorney K. L. Cobourn, of Salem, has filed suit for divorce from Florence, his wife. He charges wilful absence and total disregard of marital duty. They were married in Salem in 1898 and have had but one child, which died in infancy.

COSTLY WORK FOR NOTHING

An interview with James Hague and Arthur Underwood, members of the Pennsylvania avenue equalization board, this morning reveals the startling information that action will undoubtedly be taken in the near future to have the assessing ordinance annulled. The result of such a step, that is if it proves successful, can mean but one thing—the hundreds of dollars expended since the improvement for the purpose of getting the cost equally distributed among those benefited thereby will be a total loss and the entire cost will be cast onto the general tax duplicate for payment.

No blame whatever can be attached to the present board for the existing conditions. They were appointed to equalize the assessments according to the assessing ordinance passed a short time after the work was completed. The brunt of it all will rest on those who drafted the ordinance and those who subsequently passed it. Messrs. Hague and Underwood state that the ordinance is preposterous, an imposition on scores of people, who own property abutting on the avenue and incomplete from many standpoints. According to the two gentlemen there are lots stationed along the line of improvement which are actually adjacent to the avenue that were not included in the assessing ordinance. There are plots containing a number of lots in which two lots are assessed and the remainder not mentioned in the ordinance. On Ravine street it seems that the greatest difference is noted. Every lot adjacent to the street from the west side is assessed fully and every lot adjacent from the east side, said to be much more valuable and more benefited, are not assessed.

In consideration of this unfairness the owners of the property assessed declare that they will institute a fight immediately after the present board completes its work for the purpose of killing the assessing ordinance and that they will carry the matter into the courts if necessary. Another very important point will be forced by certain property owners, who claim that they have been treated unjustly. Prior to the improving of the avenue the city appealed to W. L. Thompson for a strip of land, which it was thought absolutely necessary to complete the avenue. Mr. Thompson finally agreed to make a deed for the land and did so. In consideration of the deed the city promised to leave abutting property holders exempt from any expense whatever. Instead of complying with the contract, every man owning adjacent property was

Man With a Black Record Now Charged With Having Four Wives.

EXPLOITS IN THIS COUNTY

Columbus, September 18.—(Special)—The Columbus police have learned that Harold C. Mills, who served a term of four years in the Ohio peritentiary for horse stealing from Columbiana county early in the 90's, and who is a much-married man, is now on trial for bigamy in Chicago. When the courts of Illinois get through with him he will be brought back to Columbus to answer a charge of embezzlement of $400 preferred against him there several years ago. Mills has had an eventful career. He is the son of a farmer and was raised near Del Roy, Carroll county. He has figured some as a "promoter." He is known to have served three terms in the penitentiary. In this city he was the agent of a Cleveland building and loan association.

It is understood he was married to women in St. Louis, Indianapolis, Chicago, Detroit and Steubenville. He used the name of Howard C. Reed in the latter city. The name of the woman is suppressed. It is understood he soon left her in Pittsburg. He is now on trial in Chicago and three of his wives were present. On May 12 in Chicago, as H. C. Reed, he became involved with Miss Laura C. Steickler, a Y. W. C. A. girl, who, to escape him, was forced to jump from the third story window of the Newport hotel. This led to his arrest and subsequent indictment for bigamy.

Columbus, September 18.—A remarkable situation exists in the Sixteenth congressional district, where a successor is to be chosen to Congressman J. J. Gill, resigned. As a result of the Republican primaries, W. C. Weems, of Belmont, and D. A. Hollingsworth, of Harrison county, each have 71 delegates to the convention at Steubenville next Tuesday. There is a contest on the remaining 16 delegates, being the Monroe county delegation. Success will attend the one who can gain one more vote, 72 being necessary to seat the delegation from Monroe favorable to him.

The Steubenville Herald Star, the Republican organ, comments that the Dunbar delegates in Jefferson county are to be turned over to Weems, and says it would be discreditable to carry out any such deal, as Weems is eliminated as far as the vote is concerned, and Hollingsworth, by the vote, is second choice.

SECRET CONFAB WITH MR. MORRIS

WHISTLES FOR POLICEMEN

The regular meeting of the board of public safety held last evening in the office of City Auditor Davidson was a very important one, notwithstanding that there was but little business transacted. Three members, President Grafton, Ogilvie and Taylor, were present, Dawson being the only absentee.

For 30 minutes prior to the calling of the meeting to order the board held a secret conference with Officer Homer Morris, a candidate for appointment to the chief of policeship. Rumors are rife as to the meaning of the conference, and there are none who know to a certainty the object of the confab. Some think it was relative to his application for appointment, but this is not considered likely by others who feel positive that the talk meant a renewal of the officer's litigation with Harry Palmer. The board would not make public the business with Officer Morris, saying it was a private affair.

Clerk Huntsman reported that he had received two dozen police whistles and that they were in perfect condition. It will be remembered that the board decided to equip the entire police force and firemen with whistles some time ago, it being deemed a very necessary step. The board argues that the whistles will be of great value to the preservers of the peace and once the officers get accustomed to them there will be no doing without them. The whistles will be divided among the police and firemen during the next few weeks, a meeting having been ordered for that purpose.

A communication was received from the Dawson company, a concern that manufactures police alarm boxes. The company stated that it would be willing to confer with the board relative to furnishing the city with a strictly up-to-date system and that the boxes would undoubtedly give entire satisfaction. Though the board will not inaugurate the system at once, definite steps will be taken soon to that end, and the clerk was instructed to notify the company accordingly. The main object in purchasing the boxes will be to keep tab on the policemen. It will be the duty of the officers after the system is in working order to ring up from certain boxes every hour. Through this means it will be known at central station where the officers are at all times of the night.

A number of bills were rendered and after careful consideration they were ordered paid. Considerable attention was then given to a resume of the examination of the officers that have been held during the past week, after which the board adjourned.

William Campbell Beaten at the Jethro Bridge Until He We Was Unconscious All Night.

Unconscious, numerous cuts about his head and shoulders and his face besmeared with blood, William Campbell, aged about 50 years, was found a short distance west of the Jethro bridge on Wednesday night between 11 and 12 o'clock. Though Mr. Campbell can give no accurate account of how he came to be in such a terrible condition, remembering only that he received a blow from behind, it is believed that the dastardly deed was committed by thugs who were after money.

Campbell is the husband of the woman who was drowned at Pittsburg a few months ago. Since that time he has been unable to do any work, the shock having completely shattered his nerves and rendered him in almost a helpless condition. He has a son who is married and on Wednesday the son and his wife visited at his house, which is located at the extreme west end of the city. At about 11 o'clock they decided to return home and the elder Campbell volunteered to go a piece with them. He walked with them to the Jethro bridge and then started on his return home.

The road leading to his home from the bridge is dark and in some places very secluded. Upon the arrival of Campbell at one of the darkest spots, some person or persons noiselessly approached him from the rear and with one blow rendered him perfectly unconscious. He remembers nothing further than that until the following morning when he was awakened while lying on the front door step at his home.

The belief is that the thugs cruelly dealt blow after blow on his face and shoulders after he was knocked to the ground and then left him to his fate. He has not the least idea as to how he reached home and the theory is advanced that he was carried to his steps by the robbers or by some passerby.

When awakened the following morning Campbell was suffering awfully and it was feared he might not recover. However, he is able to be around, and further than a badly swollen face he has recovered.

Report of another terrible fight on the Jethro bridge last night was made to Officer Aufderheide. Three men were seen in a murderous melee at about 10 o'clock. One man, stated the officer's informant, was knocked to the floor of the bridge, where he remained for several minutes unconscious.

GIFT WILL HAVE A PLACE IN THE WHITE HOUSE

Tankard Jug Presented By Letter Carriers Much Appreciated by President.

President Roosevelt has acknowledged the gift of a tankard jug, given him at the Syracuse convention of the National Assocation of Mail Carriers by local branch No. 547. William Carey, who was the delegate to the convention from No. 547, is in receipt of a copy of the following letter sent to James C. Kelly, president of the N. A. of L. C., by the president's secretary:

"The president directs me to express his sincere appreciation and thanks for your kind remembrance of him at Syracuse, and furthermore that he will accept the vase as a gift to be placed in the white house. With best wishes for success and prosperity, I am, sincerely yours."

From the tone of the letter it can be seen that the president was highly pleased with the gift. That it is to have a place in the white house is pleasing to the donors.

Arrested Fair Visitors.

Lisbon, September 18.—(Special.)—A number of drunks were arrested during the fair yesterday. Charles and George Kibler, George Roberts, Albert Wise and Simon Weisenstein were each fined $1 and costs by Mayor Farrell last evening.

News and Notes About The Potteries

INTERESTING DATA.

The New Jersey archives, soon to be issued from the press, containing some very interesting pottery data. The volume consists of newspaper extracts printed in 1778 and it is set forth that in that year Trenton's first pottery was operated by Benjamin Hanlon. The product of the establishment were earthen jugs. In the New Jersey Gazette for November 4, 1778 then printed in Trenton, Bernard Hanlon advertises a reward of "Ten dollars for the return of a strayed or stolen horse." The person seeking the reward was directed to take the animal to the "subscriber's stoneware potting manufactory at Trenton," or to Hanlon's neighbor, Samuel Henry, who conducted an iron works where East State street crosses the Assanpink creek. Unfortunately no description of this pottery or of its exact location is known to be extant except that it was located near Clinton avenue.

The Hanlon pottery forms one link in the chain between Dr. Daniel Coxe's pottery, erected in Burlington or its vicinity about 1685, and the McCully enterprises near the "Head of the Town," between 1783 and 1800. Hanlon's pottery was one of a number of local industries of mid-revolutionary days. Prominent among these were Potts' tanyard, a paper mill erected in the latter part of 1778 by Stacy Potts and John Reynolds; Henry's iron mill; a gun repair establishment and a flour mill near the mouth of the Assanpink.

As Trenton then contained about 1,000 inhabitants, this number and variety of industries shows that the then village had entered upon her present career of industrial progress.

DANISH POTTERY.

The manufacture of fine ware in Denmark is represented by the famous Royal pottery, whose porcelain is known over the world. There is also a private firm which makes excellent ware. A notable feature of the Royal product is the excellence, hardness and brilliancy of the glaze, some of the most successful pieces taking the form of animals, such as polar bears, otters with fish, and other similar subjects, all beautifully modeled without being extravagant.

The earthenware factory is also an excellent and well-appointed concern, the proprietors of which have shown a most enterprising spirit. They have succeeded in doing that which has so long been desideratum in the potteries, viz., firing ware by gas, and so completely consuming their own smoke. There are a number of terra cotta makers in Denmark, some of whom are very successfully introducing on their ware colored glazes, splashed, mottled and agate effects; somewhat old in treatment, but very pleasing.

BIGGER AND BETTER.

The Potters' Herald, as announced several weeks ago, made its appearance this week in enlarged form, a six-column quarto, instead of a five column. The increase in size is proof positive of the success of the paper under the present management and since it was adopted as the official organ of the N. B. of O. P. The Herald has been gaining in both circulation and advertising patronage and certainly is deserving of its prosperity.

POTTERY NOTES.

Frank McCullough has accepted a pressing bench at Laughlin No. 2.

Several of the operatives at McNicol's took a day to attend the Lisbon fair.

Will Turner, of East Palestine, has accepted a position with the new Cameron plant.

Charles Miller, recently of the Globe, has accepted a position in Wheeling and will move his family there.

Fletcher Massey has resigned as dishmaker at the East Liverpool to take a job in Wellsville. Claude Wilson takes his bench at the East Liverpool.

For 40 years Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry has been curing summer complaint, dysentery, diarrhoea, bloody flux, pain in the stomach, and it has never yet failed to do everything claimed for it.

Columbus, September 18.—The state may bring actions against foreign corporations to oust them from doing business in Ohio on account of alleged false returns. Foreign corporations are required to make a report to the secretary of state in which is set forth the amount of capital invested in the state, as compared with investments outside the state. This is used as a basis for collecting fees.

Attorney General Sheets and Secretary Laylin held a conference in which falsification of returns was considered. It develops that many companies have placed Ohio investments at a figure away below their true value, thus decreasing the state's income.

A Columbus Mathematician Claims to Have Accomplished a Difficult Task.

J. H. Evans, of 621½ East Spring street, believes he has discovered a rule for squaring a circle, a mathematical accomplishment that men have been trying to reach since the history of the science of numbers began, says the Columbus Citizen. He is not a theoretical mathematician, but a practical builder, familiar only with geometrical rules needed in his work. His attention was called to the hitherto impossible proposition only recently, and he set about devising a solution of it. The demonstration which he has devised, and the rule that he has evolved from it, he has presented to Prof. R. D. Bohannan, of the state university. Prof. Bohannan was much interested in the proposition presented by Mr. Evans, and said that while he would not say that it was correct or incorrect, he would like to see a hypothetical demonstration of it.

This Mr. Evans has arranged in a novel way, figuring out by his rule and making a square and a circle of fine cardboard, supposed to be of equal area and on weighing them on apothecary scales they prove to be the same. This is regarded as the best corroborative test that could be applied.

Mr. Evans approached the proposition from a novel direction. He took into consideration what he calls the "gather in of volume of the circle over that of a square figure," the sum of whose sides are equal to the circle's circumference. This he ascertains by inspection and establishes the rule that dividing the diameter of any circle by 16 and multiplying the quotient by 14.2, will give a square whose area is exactly equal to that of the circle. He takes, for instance, a circle of 8,000 feet diameter. Dividing by 16 gives 500, and multiplying that by 14.2, gives 7,100.

Mr. Evans found by measurement that a right angled triangle, having 16 inches for base and 5 inches for altitude, has a hypotenuse of 16¾ inches. From this he reasons thus: "The cube root of this, which is 14.2, is the one side of a square, the area of which is equal to the area of a circle, the diameter of which is 16 inches. The longest side of this triangle, which is 16¾ inches, multiplied by 3, gives the exact circumference of a circle, the diameter of which is 16 inches; therefore to square a circle, giving its exact area in the form of a square, divide its diameter by 16 and multiply the quotient by 14.2, and to get the exact circumference of a circle divide diameter by 1 and multiply by 10¼."

NATIONAL CONVENTION OF THE O. U. A. M.

Wheeling, September 18.—The National Council of the O. U. A. M. will convene in this city next week. The convention will be opened on Tuesday morning and will continue in session four days. The meeting will probably be the largest and best ever held in the history of the order, owing to its growth since last year.

On Tuesday the session will be very short, only the regular opening business being attended to. In the afternoon will be held the big parade, and headed by Meister's full band, the procession will parade through the principal streets of the town. In the parade will be the Uniformed Ranks of Muncie, Ind., Warren, O., Bellaire, O., McMechan and all of the subordinate councils of the neighborhood. It will be one of the largest lodge demonstrations ever seen in Wheeling. The parade will be in charge of Major General Dickinson, of the Loyal Legion, and his staff, whose experience will enable him to handle the immense procession in true military order.

The reception at the Arion hall on Wednesday evening will be one of the most enjoyable events of their entire stay in the city. Everything will be done for the comfort and convenience of the visitors, and the program mapped out is a very elegant one. The citizens of the city earnestly welcome the convention here, and will make every possible effort to make the delegates feel at home. Their headquarters during their sojourn will be at the McLure. The convention will be attended by delegates from almost every state in the Union.

The decision of the supreme court as to the validity of the intended method of printing the pending constitutional amendments on the official ballot probably will determine the fate of the suggested changes in the state's organic law.

The plan of presenting the amendments to the voters was devised in order that a straight Republican or a straight Democratic vote might be counted as favoring such of the constitutional changes as received the approval of the respective state conventions. Past experience has shown, says the Ohio State Journal, that it is practically impossible to secure a majority of the votes cast at a general election for a proposed amendment printed on a separate ballot. The trouble has been that many thousands of voters have not taken enough interest in the questions presented to declare themselves upon them. This difficulty the Longworth act, providing for the printing of amendments indorsed by one of the state conventions in the party ticket, sought to obviate.

The Republican convention indorsed the three amendments, giving the governor the veto power, doing away with the double liability of holders of stock in Ohio corporations, and allowing each county at least one representative in the lower house of the general assembly. Of these three, the Democratic convention approved the last two named and also indorsed the amendment empowering the legislature to classify subjects for taxation.

If the method of printing the amendments is upheld by the court, the two approved by both conventions are practically certain of enactment; that giving the governor the veto power will have an excellent chance, while that providing for the classification of taxable property might receive the requisite majority vote.

It is to be hoped that the supreme court will pass upon the test case before the official ballot is printed. To have the method of presenting the amendments declared unconstitutional in advance would not cause the confusion which would result from such a decision after the election.

Go Prepared.

In preparing for your summer outing a little forethought may save you no end of trouble. Mr. John H. Manly, a dry goods merchant, of Bellville, R. I., while packing an outfit for camping a few weeks on Narragansett Bay, put in a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy for emergency use. The second day in camp his little boy was taken with cramp colic. The first dose of this remedy gave relief and the second dose effected a cure. Think of the pain and suffering this boy would have had to endure without this remedy at hand to relieve him. Such cases often result fatally. For sale by Alvin H. Bulger.

THE NEW AIRSHIP

Built By Santos Dumont Is Cylindrical And Has Three Compartments.

The new balloon of Santos-Dumont (No. 10) is 48 meters long, and has a capacity for gas of 2,010 cubic meters. The gas bag is in the form of a cylinder, with rounded ends, that of the front tapering to a point. It is divided into three compartments by partitions, which keep the gas from sudden displacement. There are also two small gas bags inside the main one, to preserve the shape of the latter. The balloon carries two aerial propellers, one at the prow, the other at the stern. They are driven independent from a 60 horse-power petrol motor, weighing 160 kilograms, and situated between them. The framework of wood and steel wire is not unlike a lattice girder, with a triangular section, and weighs 100 kilograms.

This framework supports the motor, helices, rudder and basket of the pilot or aeronaut—that is to say, M. Dumont. Beneath it are suspended four basket cars for three passengers and a second aeronaut, who looks after the stopping arrangements and the passengers. The basket of M. Dumont, the driver, and the second aeronaut are conical, with a square bottom, and those of the passengers are conical, and about a meter in size. The new balloon having attracted the notice of the French military authorities, M. Dumont has offered it to the ministry of war in the event of war with any foreign power save Brazil and the United States.

EAST END

EAST END YOUNGSTERS LEAVE THEIR HOMES

A trio of East End lads took French leave of their families and friends last night and decamped for Minerva where it is thought they intended to find employment in the plant of the Owens China company. Their departure came as a complete surprise and the greatest of alarm was felt by their parents when they failed to return to their homes at the usual hour last night. After an anxious night Mrs. Frank Hanley, mother of Harry Hanley, one of the missing boys, appeared at the East End station and asked the officers to assist her in locating the runaway. She thought her son would make his way to Minerva where he has relatives, and asked that the officials of that town be communicated with.

Captain Terrence telephoned the information to central station and a short time later Chief Wyman was in communication with the Minerva police. He learned that the boys had not been seen there. A thorough search will be made of the town and if the boys are found they will be held until their parents can be heard from.

Young Hanley is only 17 years old and the other two, Charles McCray and Will Morgan, are under age. The cause of their flight is not known.

Many complaints are heard every day among the people who live within a radius of half a mile of the plant of the American Sewer Pipe company over the irritating noise made by the exhaust from the powerful engines that operate the machinery of the plant. The noise made by the escaping steam is said to be very trying to the nerves of the people who are compelled to hear it constantly.

The matter has been called to the attention of Dr. W. E. Mowen, the East End member of the board of health, and he will recommend to that body that necessary steps be taken to remedy the matter.

Potts Played Policeman.

"Boom" Potts, who is said to hail from Toronto, played policeman around the sewer pipe works last night and he had the employes of the plant up in the air until the arrival of Officer Fisher. "Boom," it is stated, at one time served on the Toronto force and having accumulated a few slugs of liquor imagined that he was once more one of the finest. He merely wanted to show his authority, threatening to run the men in for all sorts of imaginary crimes. Potts had taken his departure when Officer Fisher arrived and he thus escaped arrest.

Lost Purse Recovered.

The pocketbook lost yesterday morning by R. R. Dawson, the Mulberry street butcher, an account of which appeared in this column last evening, has been recovered. An employe of Mr. Dawson's establishment and several others formed a searching party a short time after the loss was discovered and succeeding in finding the purse on the road along Little Beaver creek. The purse contained $48 instead of $7, as Mr. Dawson stated at first.

Testing Electric Drill.

The East End plant of the American Sewer Pipe company is giving an electric clay drill a test in its mine north of Pennsylvania avenue. The vein of clay now being worked by the company is one of the finest in the country, and to this fact is due the great success the plant has been enjoying. The clay is so compact that it has become almost impossible to use the ordinary hand drills.

Robert L Sold.

It was reported this morning that Will Larkins had sold his fine black pacer, Robert L, to Samuel Gallagher, a well known horseman of Beaver Falls. Gallagher saw the horse at Lisbon and thought so well of him that he at once made Larkins an offer. The horse has been showing great speed this season, having lowered his mark to 2:22¼. The price paid is said to have been $800.

Rev. Mr. Potter to Lecture.

Rev. J. M. Potter, of Brilliant, one of the most eloquent ministers of eastern Ohio, has been secured to make an address at the Second Presbyterian church next Sunday evening. The service will be preparatory to the rally day exercises to be held the Sunday following. Rev. Mr. Potter is a profound thinker and his effort promises to be highly interesting and entertaining. A full attendance is requested.

Cold Weather Interfered.

Despite the cold weather those who attended the P. H. C. picnic enjoyed it immensely. The program of sports arranged for the afternoon was seriously interfered with, but the evening was just right for dancing and a large number enjoyed it until a late hour. Next year the picnic will be arranged for an earlier date.

Will Make Improvements.

Henry Neininger has commenced extensive improvements to his Mulberry street property. A 30-foot addition will be added to the room formerly occupied by Robert Maxwell and this will be used by Mr. Neininger for his billiard room. The present billiard room will be used for a saloon.

Another Contract Made.

The excavating for the foundations for the new colored Baptist church edifice, Clay street and Pennsylvania avenue, has been completed and a contract has been entered into for the stone work. O. A. Shingleton was the successful bidder and he will start his men to work Monday.

EAST END AFFAIRS.

Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Myler have returned from a brief visit to Pittsburg.

Mrs. A. J. Marshall and children visited relatives at Bridgeport yesterday.

The infant child of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Watters, of First avenue, is quite ill today.

Dr. Ferrall has returned from a 10-day vacation trip at Wheeling, Cambridge and other points.

John Horger and family, of First avenue, have returned from a visit to their old home in Gallia county, O.

The Marines and the Wellsville Athletic foot ball elevens will meet tomorrow in a gridiron conflict. This will be the first game of the season in the East End.

Mrs. J. P. Leyenberger, of Toronto, has been visiting her parents, Rev. and Mrs. J. N. Swan, of Ohio avenue, for a few days. Rev. Mr. Leyenberger arrived yesterday and will remain over Sunday at the Swan home.

CLARKE'S PERIL.

How much cold comfort does Candidate Clarke get out of the news in the Johnson organs about the Jones and Johnson dickering over in Lucas county?

The plan proposed of pulling off the regular Democratic nominess for the legislature and substituting in their stead Jones non-partisans, may mean the loss of those votes for Clarke for United States senator, should any accident happen to elect them. In order to make the change on the Democratic ticket, Johnson has to throw down the regular Democrats of Toledo and Lucas county. The great "home rule" apostle of Cleveland must undo the nominations made by the Democratic convention in Lucas county. If Johnson thus betrays the Democrats of Toledo for his own purpose, how can Clarke count upon him with any confidence if it suits Johnson's purpose to treat Clarke in the same way when the time comes.

It must be remembered that Johnson, through Niles, negotiates with Jones, the professor of nonpartisanship. Jones has a ticket of his own for the legislature not named by any primaries, nor mass convention, nor even a delegate convention, but picked out just by Jones. Jones is opposed to all parties, you know, unless he is the whole party. Having chosen those he can use, Jones has sent out solicitors into the highways and hedges to secure signatures to put his own pet candidates' names upon the official ballot. Once put there by petition there is no practical way for getting them off the ballot, so Jones and Johnson propose to substitute this Jones gang for the regular Democratic nominees for the legislature, put upon the Democratic ticket by the Democratic county convention under the rules and precedents of the party.

Should anything happen that would elect these Jones-Johnson candidates to the legislature it would be by the votes of men of all parties on the nonpartisan pretense. As such they would not be bound by the Democratic nomination of Clarke, and that would cheat Clarke. Or if they voted for Clarke, that would cheat the men of other parties that they would need to make up their majority. It is not likely that they would care for Clarke, because he is a gold-bug, and the Jones men have no use for a United States senator who would vote for gold. They could not get the Democrats to rally with any unanimity for Jones, and that would leave nobody but Tom Johnson who could combine the two elements. As he "sacrificed" himself to run for governor, being "pressed" thereto, the same sort of pressure would persuade Johnson to accept the support of such a coalition for the senatorship.

Mr. Clarke need go no further into his own history in this matter than the way he was treated by Johnson in the recent Johnson convention. If there was any sincerity in Johnson's support of Clarke, what did Johnson mean by his two strenuous attempts to persuade Bookwalter to accept his support for United States senatorship? Then again, after Johnson had openly announced himself for Clarke, Bookwalter having backed out, by whose authority did Johnson's emissaries go to Zimmerman and twice offer him Johnson's support for the senatorship the very night before Clarke was put upon the ticket?

STRAY SHOTS.

The Columbus Press quotes with apparent approval this from the Champlain Democrat, of Urbana: "The great majority of the delegates favored the endorsement of John J. Lentz, of Columbus, for senator. Mayor Johnson, however, wished a Cleveland man endorsed and the convention acquiesced in his wish." But for the boss, then, Lentz might have been nominated. Lentz Democrats will naturally help Clarke all that they can.

The Chicago single taxer imported to prepare the Johnson platform, says in his paper that the Ohio election is really for the benefit of Tom Johnsonism in Cleveland. The capture of the legislature "is necessary," according to his words, "to the municipal reform he (Johnson) has undertaken to accomplish in Cleveland." Note the words, for they will be denied when Johnson gets cornered.

Sylvanus Strode, Democratic candidate for representative in the Morgan-Noble district, marched to Washington with Coxey. If he tells the truth about the times he will endorse Coxey's recent remark that if any of his old army of the unemployed are not working now "it is their own fault, as there is plenty of work." Democratic defeat helped to do it, too.

Canton's board of review has added $454,900 to the tax duplicate, while only $5,000 was added last year by the board of equalization under the old law. Other cities make like report of the result of this purely Republican act of the last legislature.

No outside speakers of any shade of Democracy are wanted in Ohio by the Johnsonites. If Tom wins he wants the glory all for himself, particularly in the next national convention of the Democrats.

lessons at night; are we to take away from them the Welsbach light with all its brilliancy and convenience; and, if so, are we prepared to go to the extra expense of say $50 a house for electricity? In recent years hundreds of homes have been built with no reference whatever to a coal supply. Are we ready, just as winter sets in to spend from $25 to $100 each for a coal house?

"Let us also remember as we go along if the gas is shut off it will likely mean that the potteries will at times be completely closed down for lack of coal and of course great hardship will ensue to many of us who are in private life.

"We are told that the gas companies are only bluffing and that the gas will not be shut off. I have felt that they may not be bluffing. I feel personally very seriously concerned, and have spoken to many people in the past few days who feel as I do. My gas costs me about $60 a year. I surely do not wish to pay $75 if I can get it for $60. I confess I prefer to pay only a dollar and a half if I can get it for that; but I know this, that I cannot afford to impose the additional burden of the coal problem upon my wife, who has already as many household cares as I think she needs, and I therefore trust you will either make any honorable compromise necessary, or else withdraw your application for an injunction. This I advise strictly from the motive of self interest and comfort to myself and family and of those of many of my friends in this city who are similarly situated."

City Solicitor George E. Davidson was called on, and stated he did not believe the supply would be withdrawn from East Liverpool. The company has probably $500,000 tied up in this city, the amount being invested in pipe lines and other equipment, and they would not be justified in sacrificing this amount. That was not the question, however, as the corporation, if he understood aright, did not propose to abandon the territory, but rather to shut off the supply for a period of 30 days, and in that time it was calculated the people would be so inconvenienced they would make haste to have the supply turned back into the mains on any terms.

By this course the company would lose perhaps $35,000, but it could well afford to sacrifice that amount in order to bring about the desired end. The demand was unjust and there was no argument in favor of the demands made by the corporation, but it had the power to execute what it threatened, and it was for the people to decide whether they would prefer to pay the $1 minimum to having the supply taken away even for a month.

The solicitor advocated the plan of securing an expression from the people. They have urged the council on in the matter of securing an injunction, and it now seems many of them have changed their minds. It was for the citizens to say whether the movement should be carried on to the point of obtaining a decision from the court or withdrawing the application.

Mr. Davidson was followed by Thomas Hodge, who asked that provided the people did submit to the demands of the combination had the city anything by which it could hold the company to its word. Had the people any guarantee that the rate would remain where they had now placed it for any length of time?

Mr. Hodge was informed that J. H. Brookes, representing the corporation, had been construed as saying the company would be willing to sign a contract for ten years. If they would do this, it might be well to consider it, since it was at all times wise to look into the future.

H. W. Smith, who had been a member of the citizens' committee, talked upos the ten-year contract feature. It had impressed him very forcibly that as a simple business proposition, the citizens might do well to accept the arbitrary terms of the company. It might be only a few years until things would have so adjusted themselves and conditions so changed that 25 cent gas and a $1 minimum would be a very cheap proposition. With a ten-year contract to bind the gas trust the people of East Liverpool might, at the end of four of five years, be getting the cheapest gas in the state of Ohio.

It occurred to Attorney H. E. Grossmans, who next took the floor, that the gas monopoly was even more powerful than most people supposed. From a legal standpoint their rights in the present instance were unassailable. The officers of the combination, he understood, were non-residents of the state of Ohio. He also understood their main taps for the East Liverpool supply was located across the river in West Virginia. There was no law on any statute book to prevent the officials of the company from turning the valve in West Virginia and in that way cutting East Liverpool's supply completely out.

Thomas C. Neal, who is acting as the plaintiff in the case against the Fort Pitt company, made a strong plea for something that would afford relief from the exorbitant demands of the gas trust. He had at one time thought, and it was the general belief among foreigners, that this was the land of the free, but he feared it was changing about.

Robert Burford and George C. Thompson took up the argument from the manufacturers' standpoint. Mr. Thompson stated the shutting off of the gas from the factories and adopting coal could not fail to result disastrously to both the manufacturers and the workmen as well. A conservative estimate of the amount of coal it would require to supply East Liverpool had placed the amount at nearly two train loads per day. With the river a doubtful proposition at all times, and the railroad facilities in their present cramped condition, it would be a physical impossibility to get the coal here in the quantities it would require. Mr. Thompson had not been informed on the ten-year contract phase of the question, but thought the citizens would be fortunate indeed if they could obtain a contract at the increased rate for a period of ten years. He explained that when the $1 minimum demand was figured out, it was not such a serious matter after all. The cost per meal even at a dollar was a trifle over one cent, and he was not sure but what anyone who used gas at all would not consume $1 worth the hottest month of the year.

C. E. Macrum, though a disitnerested party, gave it as his opinion that if the citizens could secure a ten-year contract, it was an excellent business proposition, and they should not hesitate a moment in accepting it.

Several other consumers made remarks, and by motion of Bullock it was decided to call a mass meeting of consumers for this evening and that a vote be taken at that time upon the question of whether the solicitor should go ahead with the injunction, which involved the risk of having the gas turned off, or whether it should be dropped. Councilman Croxall suggested that all who attend bring their gas cards with them in order to guard against the meeting being packed. The motion prevailed, and an adjournment was taken.

English advocates of international arbitration and disarmament predict that the wisdom of the Vienna interparliament peace conference in selecting the St. Louis exposition as the scene of its next meeting will be strikingly vindicated. America's comparative aloofness from the interparliamentary peace movement is attributed to the fact that the conferences thus far have been held in Europe. The most active work in this line has gone forward beyond the range of the immediate interests of the American people.

It is believed that the St. Louis conference, which will probably be attended by the most influential arbitrationists of Europe, will enlist the sympathies and convictions of many leading men and women of the United States, and thereby bring the republic in line with other great nations which champion international law courts and smaller armies and navies.

Headed by William Randal Cremer, the Radical member of parliament for Haggerston, who is well known as a tireless pleader for arbitration in general and for Anglo-American arbitration in particular, the peace societies of London will take steps to advance the assembling of the St. Louis meeting. They are anxious to familiarize American politicians, publicists and thinkers with the achievements of the interparliamentary movement up to date. In order that the proceedings of the conference may take place in an atmosphere of thorough knowledge of the work in hand, literature dealing with the subject of international arbitration will be freely distributed.

Official opinion on this side of the Atlantic is strongly on the side of peace. Recent utterances on the part of the czar, the kaiser, the emperor king of Austria-Hungary, President Loubet and King Edward show how tired the heads of the European nations are of the continual strain of armed preparation they are compelled to maintain. They would gladly welcome judicial arrangements looking to a scheme for reducing the burden of modern militarism.

The operative potters' wage scale, which has been hanging fire an unusual length of time this year, is now adjusted or in shape to be settled, agreement having been reached on all points but two, which are to be submitted to arbitration. This outcome of the final conference between committees representing the manufacturers and operatives will be hailed with unbounded satisfaction in East Liverpool and Trenton and in all other towns where potteries are located. It will have the effect of stimulating the pottery business and business in general, and East Liverpool can look forward to continued and increased prosperity. The outlook for her principal industry is bright with promise. The operative potters and the manufacturers are to be congratulated for the conservatism and wisdom with which they have handled the delicate questions presented for their decision. The agreement to arbitrate points that the committees were unable to settle is especially commendable, and sets an example that may be followed with profit in the future. Unless all signs are misleading the Philadelphia agreement will give the pottery business a tremendous impetus.

The irrigation congress meeting at Ogden, Utah, calls attention to another boundless possibility in the boundless west. It is estimated that there are in the semi-arid zones about 600,000,000 acres of vacant public lands with sufficient water available under the storage system to irrigate one-sixteenth of it. In his address to the congress President Clark stated his belief that if the government would expend $10,000,000 annually for thirty years providing reservoirs sufficient to reclaim 20,000,000 acres the land reclaimed would provide homes for 12,000,000 to 15,000,000 people. As this sum might be easily realized from the sale of reclaimed goyernment land a magnificent contribution to the wealth of the nation could thus be made with but small outlay.

Instead of killing the chauffeur or arresting the owner of a scorching automobile the farmers of Wisconsin are going to shoot buckshot into the tires of the machine. They are not going to try to catch the violators of the speed laws. They have no horses that can go sixty miles an hour, and if they did catch a scorcher there would be no officer at hand to take him into custody.

City council has wisely decided to make haste slowly with the gas problem. However much the people may rail at the gas trusts, they are fast reaching the conclusion that 25-cent gas is much better than no gas at all.

Now that the pottery scale and the gas question have been disposed of, it would be well to take up the telephone proposition in earnest and find out just where and how East Liverpool can make the best bargain.

The Salvation Army, in invading the stronghold of the feudists in the Kentucky mountains, is undertaking about as risky a piece of missionary work as modern crusaders ever engaged in.

There has been a blighting frost in certain sections of the west, but it was mild in comparison with that which will strike the Tom Johnson party in Ohio in November.

Now that the scale is settled, there will be less pottering and more potting.

Premier Balfour's cabinet does not exactly resemble a happy family.

The cold weather will bring the reluctant oyster out of his shell.

The annual outing of the Evening News Review was held at Rock Springs park on Tuesday. The big program of amusements and sports was carried out to the letter, and the record-breaking attendance enjoyed the grandest outing in the history of the park. The attendance, according to street railway officials, was between 17,000 and 18,000, East Liverpool and Wellsville being almost deserted, while the neighboring towns were well represented. The News Review is to be congratulated.—Potters' Herald.

Following the example set by the News 10 years ago of furnishing to the children of Mansfield an outing each year, Tuesday the News Review, of East Liverpool, gave its first annual outing to the children of that city. It was most successful in all its details, and was attended by no less than 15,000 people from the river town. The picnic was held at Rock Springs park, just across the Ohio river, one of the most beautiful spots in all the country. Editor Brush is one of Ohio's progressive newspaper men and the wonderful outpouring of people to the News Review outing was a well deserved tribute by the people of his city to the esteem in which he is personally held and the prestige enjoyed by the News Review. East Liverpool is to be congratulated upon having such an enterprising newspaper and it is deserving of the greatest patronage by the business men and people generally of the pottery city.—Mansfield News.

The outing given at Rock Springs park, W. Va., yesterday by the East Liverpool News Review, for people of East Liverpool, Wellsville and Chester, was the biggest thing of the kind ever attempted by a newspaper in this part of the state. In fact, it is questionable if any newspaper in the country ever conducted so largely attended and enjoyable a public affair.

Quite a number of Salem people were present and the newspaper fraternity of this part of the state was well represented. The actual number of people entering the park, taking advantage of the courtesy of the News Review, was in excess of 17,500.

Numerous free attractions were extended to children, and wherever possible features at the park were made free to adults also. Fred Irey, of this city, made two fine balloon ascensions and parachute leaps from Dr. H. W. Thompson's balloon.

The street car system from East Liverpool had more than it could do to convey people to and from the park.

The crowd attending the affair was the largest ever in the park, it is believed, and, without doubt, it was the happiest lot of people ever assembled within the confines of the pleasure resort. The affair passed off without any break in the management or any accidents to mar the occasion.—Salem Daily News.

AT THE THEATER

Newark (O.) American-Tribune: The Auditorium was opened last night by the Robison Stock company. Long before the performance began standing room was at a premium. The play was "Salome," a southern romance of the period of 1861-3 and it proved to be intensely interesting to the large audience. Margaret Neville as Salome Laveigne, essayed a rather difficult roll in a manner to bring frequent applause and proved herself a very capable actress, and one of the best leading women ever seen here in repertoire.

Between acts vaudeville numbers were introduced by Miss Snowden, who did a clever singing and dancing specialty, and Pearl Sizer, who proved herself to be one of the best singers of "coon" songs that has appeared here. At the Grand all next week.

"Cozy Corners," at the Grand last evening, drew a packed house, and Lizzie Evans and a splendid company gave a delightful presentation of the popular play. The boy quartet, the dancing of the Hennings trio, and the fine scenery, as well as the faultless acting, all elicited merited applause.

assessed in the original ordinance. Following is a copy of the contract accepted by council relative to Mr. Thompson's deed:

"To the City Council of East Liverpool, O.

"Gentlemen—We propose to make the city a deed for the land as shown by the city engineer's plat, to be necessary for the completion for the 40 foot street known as Pennsylvania avenue through the lands of the estate of Josiah Thompson, deceased. The consideration being that the City of East Liverpool hold and keep the owners of the abutting land free and clear of any assessments or expense of any description for any purpose made by reason of the opening, completing and maintaining of said Pennsylvania avenue.

With every box of Mi-o-na, the flesh-forming food, and digestion regulator, Will Reed gives the following guarantee bond, binding him to refund the money if Mi-o-na does not give an increase in weight and cure dyspepsia and all stomach troubles.

GUARANTEE BOND.

I hereby agree to refund the price paid for Mi-o-na if the purchaser tells me that it has not increased flesh and given freedom from stomach troubles. WILL REED.

For years there has been a demand for a natural means for increasing flesh, and Mi-o-na has come to supply this need.

It is not a cod liver oil preparation, but a combination of flesh-forming elements, that regulates and aids digestion and restores health. It mingles with the food you eat, aids its assimilation, tones up and strengthens the digestive organs, and puts the whole system in proper physical condition.

Every one who is troubled with dyspepsia, has that tired feeling, loss of appetite, or is losing flesh or is in a run down condition, should take the guarantee bond to Will Reed and begin the use of Miona at his risk.

Remember that treatment costs you nothing unless it does all that is claimed for it.

WELLSVILLE

Action Will Be Taken Tonight to Drop the Gas Injunction Proceedings.

Mayor W. L. Fogo today issued a call for a special meeting of council to be held this evening. The object of the meeting will be to reconsider the action taken against the Tri-State Gas company to restrain it from raising their rates and to decide whether or not the city shall take further steps in the injunction proceedings. Other business will also be disposed of at this meeting and the contracts will be let for the paving of Lisbon road and Steubenville street.

The mayor has issued the call at the request of a number of prominent citizens and because of having received petitions signed by a large number of property holders asking council to discontinue its proceedings against the gas company.

The meeting will probably be well attended and it is thought that a few of the citizens will have a word to say to council in favor of the gas company.

They Were Charged With Having Sold Liquor to a Minor Aged 18.

James Piett, an 18-year-old lad who resides at Yellow Creek, was found yesterday by City Building Policeman William Elliott with two half pints of whisky on his person. The boy was not drunk, as he had not had an opportunity to dispose of the liquor before he was seen by the officer. He was taken to the offiec of Mayor Fogo, where he told the mayor just where he had purchased the liquor and he described the bartenders who had waited upon him.

Investigation resulted in the arrest of C. W. Sharpe, a bartender employed at the saloon of William Savers, near Ninth street, and Charles McClain, bartender for Samuel Brubaker at his Third street saloon.

When brought before the mayor last evening in the presence of the lad, the two men pleaded guiity to the charge of having sold intoxicating liquor to a minor and each of the men were fined $29.60, which they promptly paid, being afterwards released.

POOL CONTEST

Woolweaver Defeated Daughaday With Ease—Last of Tournament Tonight.

The second contest of the semi-final games in the pool tournament now going on here for the amateur championship of the city, was played last evening at the Arlington pool rooms between E. S. Woolweaver, who defeated Albert S. Knapp on Wednesday evening, and Roy Daughaday, one of the winners in the preliminary games last week. The contest resulted in a victory for Woolweaver. He defeated Daughaday by 33 points. The score follows:

	Racks.	Fouls.	Points.
E. S. Woolweaver	13	12	100
Roy Daughaday	13	6	67

Albert Knapp refereed the game and kept score. The contest to be played this evening will be the next to the last one of the tournament. It will be played between E. S. Woolweaver and Clyde Cummings. The winner of this match will play tomorrow evening with D. W. Keppel, another of the last week winners. The one who wins the contest Saturday evening will be declared the champion and will be awarded the gold medal.

Colored People's Ball.

A grand colored ball and cake walk was held last evening in the dancing hall in the city building by the members of the Bill Bailey quartette. A large crowd of the colored people of this city, East Liverpool, Steubenville, Toronto and other surrounding towns were present. Good music was furnished and refreshments were served. The committee who had the affair in charge were F. Harris, William Huston and C. Brown. It was a grand success.

No More Base Ball.

The management of the Wellsville Shops Athletic association gase ball team has decided to discontinue all games for this season. A game was scheduled for Saturday afternoon with the West End Athletics of East Liverpool, but will not be played. The association will now place its football team in active practice at the Central park grounds and a game will be played at an early date. It is the intention to bring some of the fastest amateur teams in this section to this city to play the locals.

Looks Like Suicide.

The colored man named James Stitts or Steff, who was killed by a Panhandle train at Steubenville yesterday, had in his pocket a paper bearing the words, "Notify Goldie Cavanaugh, at Wellsville." This is regarded as evidence that he purposely got in the way of the train. No Goldie Cavanaugh is known in Wellsville.

SOUTH SIDE

CHESTER QUIET AFTER SENSATION

Andrew Wigner, Who Sued His Wife, Goes Back to Pleasants County.

Chester has quieted down after the excitement created over the sensational Wigner-Cunningham case in the court of Justice Johnston yesterday afternoon.

Andrew Wigner, who made the charges against his wife and Cunningham, has returned to his home in Pleasants county, W. Va., and it is hardly likely he will make his appearance in Chester again. Mrs. Wigner remained at the room of the couple occupied at the Weaver home over night, and Cunningham, after packing his earthly belongings into an "East Liverpool," paid his obligations and has not been seen since last last night.

As Mrs. Wigner was leaving thecourt room yesterday afternoon she took occasion to give hed husband a piece of her mind. She turned to him and said:

"You lied to me, Andy. You promised that if I gave you the cow and othe rthings which belonged to me you would not follow me, nor make me any trouble. Now I want you to go home and advertise everything for sale. You have made me spend $23 and I am going to have it back."

It is said Cunningham means to prosecute Wigner on a charge of living with him (Cunningham's) wife. The couple were divorced, but Cunningham states the intimacy dates back to a period before the divorce proceedings.

Amateurs to Perform.

Amateur night at Rock Springs park theatre tomorrow promises to be a great one. The man of Ohio City will be present and the two little cake walkers and others, who will contest for the beautiful watch, to be given away to the winner. The audience is to be the judge. Albini will give an entirely new program and the rest of the show will give new acts. The performance will commence at 8:15 on account of the length of the program.

In a Critical Condition.

Mrs. Bunton, the aged mother of Mrs. Joseph Brunson, of Indiana avenue, is very ill. The lady has been in a critical condition for several days, and it is feared she cannot recover.

Bank Soon Ready to Open.

Judge J. A. Camubell, president of the First National bank of Chester was in town today in the interest of the institution. Matters in connection with the bank are progressing well and it will be opened to the public on October 1, as announced. Considerable time was spent today in collecting stock subscriptions, and it is now assured the several amounts will all have been paid in on time.

Loud Call for Light.

There promises to be a shaking up of dry bones when the lighting question comes before the town council at its meeting tonight. It is the announced intention of a number of residents of the upper end of town to have a few words to say. They have become extremely weary of waiting for the lights to be placed in position and say they will make a vigorous protest against further delay.

The Case Not Smallpox.

The card indicating that the home of Andrew Johnston was under quarantine has been taken down and the county health board has at last coincided with Dr. George E. Lewis in the opinion that the case is not smallpox.

WAYNESBURG SENT FOR REINFORCEMENTS

Against the Strengthened Team Will Appear Kid Barker and John Godwin.

When "Bib" Webb captured Collins' skyscraper for the third out in the ninth inning of yesterday's game, leaving the locals in the lead by a comfortable margin, Captain Haller, of the Waynesburg bunch, rushed over to the players' bench where his manager was sitting. "Give me the price of a long distance message to Waynesburg," Haller demanded and the manager produced the coin.

Then Haller took a sneak through the back gate and double-quicked it to the nearest long distance pay station. His message must have burned the wires, for Haller was boiling over with wrath. That the team that sent the Pirate pitcher, Wilhelm, to the woods, made almost an even break with Homestead and bested other renowned teams, should be made monkeys of by an aggregation of preachers, was too much for Haller. In fact, the whole bunch were looking for an easy thing but they realized that they were "up against it" before the game was two innings old.

That message last night brought Shortstop Kenney and Pitcher Williams to the city, and one or maybe both will be in the game this afternoon. Either Williams or Collins will do the twirling and Kenney will relieve Ganier at short field. If Collins pitches today Williams will go in tomorrow. Against him will be pitted Kid Barker, who is just home from a most successful season with the Bloomington team of the "Three I" league. It is almost a certainty that John Godwin will be in the game Saturday, and if he is the team will be the strongest that has represented the city this season.

The attendance yesterday shows that the people are greatly interested in the closing games of the season and the patronage from now on will be the largest of the season. The many friends of Godwin and Barker will take advantage of the opportunity to see them work out.

The manufacturers have refused to sanction the ten per cent increase for plain edged jiggered ware and the reduction of the number of cubic feet to constitute a day's work on biscuit kilns. The agreement is based on the last concessions made by the manufacturers which affect only potteries where the uniform price list is in effect. The concessions will go into effect the first full pay in October and the decision of the arbitration committee will revert back to October 1, in case the disputed points are not settled before that time.

The manufacturers were represented at the conference by W. E. Wells, H. A. Knoblock, Ed. Smith, W. L. Smith, Frank Sebring, Charles Franzheim, Col. J. N. Taylor, Archibald Maddock, John Maddock, John A. Campbell, Moses Collear, James Moses and William Burgess. The committee representing the Brotherhood comprised president T. J. Duffy, First Vice President Frank Hutchins, Henry Reed, Edward Menge, Thomas Humphrey, Enoch Wooten, Harry Hailes, John Wood, William Elder and Michael Carroll.

The first news from the conference reached here at 9:03 o'clock in a telegram from Thomas J. Duffy to H. O. Allison, manager of the Potters' Herald. The telegram is as follows:

"Settled. Propositions 9 and 12 to be arbitrated by disinterested committee. Previous concessions to manufacturers to stand."

The message was read from the stage in the opera house and by courtesy of Mr. Allison the news was soon generally known. A general feeling of relief prevailed.

REALM OF SPORTS

ALL SORTS OF PLAYS DURING THE GAME

The Raw Weather Was Bad for the Pitchers And Both Were Touched Up Rather Hard, Phillips Getting the Worst of It.

The melancholy days of the base ball season have begun at West End park. Though the day was dark and dreary and the several hundred spectators shook and shivered the game was well worth watching. Very few ladies braved the raw weather and nearly every spectator within the grounds represented a paid admission. It was a bad day for the pitchers and Vasbinder and Phillips suffered a severe drubbing. Both teams had bad innings and more than the usual number of runs and hits were piled up. That the locals had the most at the end of the game was entirely satisfactory to the fans.

The Waynesburg bunch is certainly capable of putting up a much better article of ball than the offering yesterday. They have defeated some of the fastest teams in Pennsylvania and only a few days ago gave the Washington team an awful drubbing. Winham, of the Champion Pirates, pitched the game for Washington and the Waynesburg swatters sent him to the tall timber. They were up against another Stellar performer yesterday in the person of Vasbinder, the American league recruit. With the exception of the sixth inning, he held them safe at all times. In that round he worked under a great disadvantage, all the errors of the locals coming in a bunch. For a time it looked like the side would never be retired and a shout of joy went up when Houser handed McKeown's grounder to Webb for a force out of Haller.

The sixth round came as a genuine surprise for up to that time the locals had played one of the fastest games ever seen at West End park. Houser had been eating them up at second and Wallace, and the rest of the outfield had been doing a rushing business in the base hit killing field. It was a hard play on which to mark up a miscue but there was no way out of it.

Those wobbles kept the result in doubt until the last man was out, adding a zest to a contest that was full of all sorts of plays, from the wierdest up to the highly sensational. It was a genuine slugging match and the locals had a little bit the best of it. Wallace led with the willow, having three safeties out of five times up. Rising, the Monaca boy, who has just finished the season in the "Three I" league, had a single and a triple, while Heck, in spite of his crippled ankle, made the circuit on a long drive to left center. The drive marked Heck's entry into the home run squad. Gibby, Brown, Houser, Webb and Emmerling also wielded the willow with good effect and of the entire bunch Vasbinder was the only one who failed to connect. On the other side, C. McKeown carried off the swatting honors with four hits out of five chances. Grainer and Morehead both had pretty three-ply licks that figured in the run getting.

It looked like a walkaway for the locals when they made three in the second and the visitors were blanked inning after inning, but you can't sometimes always tell about base ball. In the start off the three visitors who came to bat met the horsehide squarely on the nose but in every case there was a fielder at the other end of the line. Ganier lined one to Wallace and Gibby had the disposal of Montgomery and Comfort. Houser singled in the locals' half, but Rising and Brown could not help him along.

In the second Vasbinder passed Morehead with two down and C. McKeown singled but Phillips failed Houser to Heck. McDonnough was put out of business trying to field Heck's hot bounder. The ball struck his hand and unluckily for Heck bounded to Ganier, who threw him out. Phillips went to the slab and all save one of the locals' hits were made off him. Webb, the first man to face Phillips, was given life when C. McKeown fumbled his grounder. Vasbinder was hit by a pitched ball and he scored with Webb on Gibby's pretty three sacker to right center. Gibby counted on a wild pitch.

Vasbinder scored in the fourth on a pass, his steal of second and L. McKeown's failure to hold Montgomery's assist on Gibby's grounder. The visitors scored twice in the fifth. Phillips walked, only to be forced by Collins. Ganier soaked one to the fence, good for three sacks, scoring Collins. Ganier went to third when Montgomery hit one along the third base line. He reached the bag just as Brown was reaching for the ball. The ball looked foul as Brown fell over Ganier trying to nail it, but Umpire Reark called it fair and it counted for two sacks, Ganier scoring.

Three hits and only one run was the record for the locals' half. Wallace started with a single and Rising sacrificed him to second. Brown's clean lick scored him. Brown was thrown out at the plate trying to score when Montgomery booted Heck's grounder. Webb laced one out for two bags but failed to see Heck perched on third. Heck vacated and run down and nailed at home.

The sixth was a hoodoo inning for both sides. L. McKeown opened with a single and Morehead followed suit. Brown left third to field C. McKeown's bunt and Vasbinder, who got the ball, cold not catch either of the trio. The bases were full and Phillips' best effort was a fly to center, which Rising nailed and by a fine throw kept McKeown at third. Houser failed on Collins' grounder and L. McKeown counted. Houser tried to catch Morehead at third after the fumble, but Brown missed his throw and Montgomery and C. McKeown scored. Vasbinder fielded Ganier's easy one but threw wild to first and Comfort added to the general discomfort by pounding out a safety, scoring Ganier. Haller popped up a fly to short right, which Wallace dropped after a hard run, but L. McKeown ended the inning by forcing him at second. Five runs, four hits and four errors.

The locals did even better in their half, touching Phillips up for five clean raps, good for 12 bases and six runs. After Vasbinder had fanned, Emmerling hit safely and Gibson advanced him to second. Houser beat out a slow bounder, sending Duff up to third. Phillips balked on a throw to second and Umpire Reark moved Houser up a bag and sent Duff on home. Wallace followed with a clean rap, scoring Houser. Rising met one on the nose and sent it on a line to left, good for three cushions, he scoring on Phillips' poor throw to second to catch Brown, who had reached first on a pass and purloined second. Heck followed with his famous sack cleaner.

Morehead started the seventh with a clean three cushion shot and C. McKeown scored him with a single. That was the visitors' last offense in the tally line. The locals scored their last in the eighth. Wallace singled, purloined second and scored on Brown's clean rap.

Features of the Game.

Big Heck seemed to have it in for the visiting slabmen and sent several hot ones straight at them.

Rising is a fast fielder, a good hitter and a good thrower. He made good with the fans yesterday.

Wallace made his first error of the season yesterday as an outer gardener. He is making the best right fielder the team has had this season.

Webb is playing the game of his life these days. His work at second is not excelled by any player in the country. Yesterday he had nine chances at second and took them all nicely.

Pitcher Phillips brought the eighth inning to a sudden stop with a lightning double. Heck drove one at him on the line and the ball stuck in his glove. Brown was caught off second.

Off for the Mountains.

T. V. Canavan, the lightning money counter in the office of the East Liverpool & Rock Springs Street Railway company, leaves Monday for a two weeks' vacation, the most of which time will be spent among the hills of Butler county, Pa. This will be the first vacation that Teddy, as he is generally known, has taken during the three years he has been employed by the above named company. Teddy is not only a competent and obliging young man in the street railway office, but also has quite a reputation as a football player and manager as well as a bird and dog fancier. It will be remembered that he once took a light eleven to Steubenville and although they played good ball, the score was overwhelmingly against them. However, he will spend much of his vacation in looking for new material and organizing a country eleven with which he hopes to win back the lost laurels.

A Game Wanted.

The Legal Stars would like to arrange a game for Saturday with either the Marines or Glasgow. Those who desire to contest are requested to communicate with Al Calhoun, 127 Jackson street.

SPORTING MISCELLANY.

The Rochester, Pa., A. A. has won 19 consecutive games.

Ned Hanlon figures Boston superior in the box, and Pittsburg in every other position.

Hanlon remarks: "You cannot build up a team in one season, even with wads of money."

Benny Yanger says he will knock out Hanlon the next time they meet, just to show his superiority.

Jimmy Gardner, of Lowell, knocked out Tommy Daly, of Brooklyn, N. Y., in the twelfth round at Boston.

Dick Harley is thinking of taking a winter flier in black diamonds. He has a chance to go into the coal business in Chicago.

A Purgative Pleasure.

If you ever took DeWitt's Little Early Risers for biliousness or constipation you know what a purgative pleasure is. These famous little pills cleanse the liver and rid the system of all bile without producing unpleasant effects. They do not gripe, sicken or weaken, but give tone and strength to the tissues and organs involved. W. H. Howell, of Houston, Texas, says: "No better pill can be used than Little Early Risers for constipation, sick headache, etc."

Memory of New Jersey's Warrior Dead Honored at Antietam.

Antietam, Md., Sept. 18.—With brave speeches, inspiring music and earnest prayer the memory of New Jersey's warriors who fell on Antietam's gory field was honored. The president of the nation and the flower of New Jersey's citizenry were there to fittingly dedicate the beautiful shaft that the state has raised to her dead sons. The special train bearing President Roosevelt, Governor Murphy, Senators Keene and Dryden and a large party of national guard officers and prominent citizens reached the little station of Antietam after an eventful night's run from Jersey City.

During the afternoon the president, with Governor Murphy, Senators Keene and Dryden and accompanied by General Carmen, who commanded the Thirteenth New Jersey volunteers in the battle, entered a carriage and drove to various points of interest on the historic field. General Carmen gave the president a vivid description of the battle, indicating every point of interest and importance. The president alighted at Burnside bridge where some desperate fighting occurred; at "Bloody Lane," a scene of frightful carnage; at the beautiful national cemetery, in the center of which stands the colossal granite statue of an American soldier keeping silent guard over the dead lying buried there, and at the quaint little Lutheran memorial church.

During the drive, which occupied about two hours and a half, a singular fact was developed by the discussion of the battle. It was that throughout the ceremonies of the day, actively participated in entirely by citizens of New Jersey with the exception of the president, the name of the commander of the union troops in the great engagement, General George B. McClellan, a citizen and afterward a governor of the state of New Jersey, was not mentioned once. Governor Murphy himself recalled this curious although quite unintentional lapse and was concerned deeply about the matter, lest the omission might be misconstrued.

In conversation with the president about General McClellan the governor recalled the fact that he now lies buried in the city of Trenton, N. J. and that a member of McClellan's staff is one of his most intimate friends. He warmly eulogized McClellan as one of the great commanders of the war and as a governor of which New Jersey had reason to be proud.

MARYLAND REPUBLICANS MEET

State Ticket Nominated and Platform Adopted—Roosevelt Endorsed.

Baltimore, Sept. 18.—The Republican state convention nominated the following ticket: Governor, Stevenson A. Williams, Harford county; attorney general, George Whitelock, Baltimore city; state comptroller, L. E. P. Dennis, Somerset county.

The platform endorses the administration of President Roosevelt and favors his nomination in 1904; the present Democratic state administration in Maryland is denounced; a reform of the present election laws is demanded, and the adoption of a corrupt practices law to prevent bribery in elections is advocated. Legislation in behalf of a sewerage system for Baltimore city and to encourage the Chesapeake bay oyster industries is favored.

Atrocities Committed by Mob in Nevada—Many Arrests Made.

Tonopah, Nev., Sept. 18.—A mob of 12 or 15 men invaded Chinatown Wednesday afternoon and at the point of guns compelled a number of Chinamen to leave town at once. Several who did not comply were badly beaten, dragged to the outskirts of the town and told to take the road to Sodaville. Later on all but one returned to town and notified the officers. They state that Ping Ling, a 73-year-old man, and the proprietor of a washhouse, was one of the victims and they believed he had perished on the road. Searching parties were sent out and they found his horribly mutilated body three miles west of town.

The Chinamen were also robbed of several hundred dollars before being run out of town. Eighteen men, mostly cooks and waiters, have been arrested and are now in jail. Among the number is F. M. Arandall, president of a labor union.

A meeting of the citizens of Tonopah was held at which 1,000 or more persons were present, and a committee was appointed to adopt resolutions denunciatory of the action of the men.

DON'T DELAY.

It is "Putting Off" Till Some Other Day that Causes so Many Sudden Deaths.

If its for the kidneys, liver, bladder or blood, rheumatism, dyspepsia, chronic constipation, or the weaknesses peculiar to women, the most efficient medicine known to the medical profession is Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy, and a very simple way to find out if you need it, is to put some urine in a glass tumbler and let it stand 24 hours; if it has a sediment or a milky, cloudy appearance, if it is ropy or stringy, pale or discolored, you do not need a physician to tell you that your kidneys and bladder are badly affected.

The Rev. Theodore Hunter, pastor of the Presbyterian Church, Greensburg, Ky., writes us the following:

"It gives me much pleasure to state that I have received great benefit from the use of Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy. Some time ago I had a severe attack of kidney trouble, but a few bottles of 'Favorite Remedy' have entirely removed the malady."

"Favorite Remedy" speedily cures such dangerous symptoms as pain in the back, frequent desire to urinate, especially at night, burning scalding pain in passing water, the staining of linen by your urine.

It is for sale by all druggists in the New 50 Cent Size and the regular $1.00 size bottles—less than a cent a dose.

Sample bottle—enough for trial, free by mail.

CONSTIPATION

"For over nine years I suffered with chronic constipation and during this time I had to take an injection of warm water once every 24 hours before I could have an action on my bowels. Happily I tried Cascarets, and today I am a well man. During the nine years before I used Cascarets I suffered untold misery with internal piles. Thanks to you I am free from all that this morning. You can use this in behalf of suffering humanity."

AGAIN STORM SWEPT

Another Fierce Gale Sweeps Atlantic Coast in Vicinity of New York.

MANY VESSELS AND CREWS LOST

Fishing Smacks Still Missing—Subway In New York Flooded—Narrow Escapes from Electrocution—Inmates of Widows' Home Have Close Call.

New York, Sept. 18.—Following Wednesday's hurricane came another severe storm yesterday. In New York city the gale blew at the rate of 67 miles an hour, which was stronger than Wednesday's gale. The damage was not so widespread, however, because the storm did not last so long.

Fishing schooners brought tales of disasters from all along the coast. At least half a dozen men were drowned from these boats, and it is feared that many more men met a similar fate, as several steamers are missing, some of which are known to have foundered. Eight smacks which formed part of the fleet overtaken by the hurricane at Five Fathom bank arrived, but the Sunshine, Daisy, Mercedes, Gaffney, Emily P. Wright, Orient and the Lillian Fernald are yet to be heard from.

Find Watery Grave.

Among the men who were drowned were Captain John G. Morgan and Fisherman Ned Peterson, of the schooner Basten, and Captain Silas Latham and Fisherman Peter Barr and Fisherman Lewis Wilcox, of the schooner Esther and Antie. Both Captains Morgan and Latham hail from Noank, Conn.

The mate of the M. A. Baston, who brought the schooner into port, said that it was in the attempt to clear one of the sinking smacks that Captain Morgan was knocked overboard, the schooner being thrown on her beam ends. The names of the boats that have gone down are not at present known. It is thought, however, that they may number four, carrying in all from 40 to 50 men.

During the height of the storm one of the United States cruiser Chicago's launches, carrying the paymaster, an engineer and four men, put off from shore at Tompkinville, Staten Island. The launch was swamped and all men went overboard. The paymaster had with him a satchel containing $27,000 but according to the regulations it was attached to a buoy. The light house tender Daisy put out from shore and saved the men. The money was also found.

Clothing Burned Off.

In Staten Island the wind unroofed the widows' home, tearing it completely off. The 50 inmates and the attendants happened to be at supper at the time on the other floor and no one was injured.

In this city, the subway, under course of construction, was flooded. Many of the workmen were injured and several of them received serious shocks from the electrical currents with which portions of the subway became charged. In the presence of thousands of people who gathered on West Thirty-fourth street Carmel Saleno was nearly electrocuted. He was caught between a water main and the channel rail and transfixed by the electric current. Screaming with pain the man made vain efforts to extricate himself, and to add to his sufferings his clothing caught fire. A great crowd collected, but for 10 minutes or more all efforts to rescue the man were futile. Finally a rubber coat was thrown over him and he was dragged out of the trench. All the clothing had been burned from his back. He was taken to a hospital, where it is said he will die.

At College point John Hess, a 12 year-old boy, became entangled in a live electric light wire. His father sprang to his assistance and himself became entangled in the wire. Both were very seriously burned, but were rescued by a woman, who, before she was successful in her efforts, was knocked to the ground half a dozen times by the current.

LONG CHASE ENDED.

Alleged Highwayman Captured In Montana by Detectives.

Kansas City, Sept. 18.—Detectives McAnamy and McGuire arrived here with Carey Snyder, whom they had arrested in a small town near Billings, Mont., more than a week ago. The return of Snyder was not made without a series of dramatic incidents and his imprisonment in Kansas City now ends the chase that was commenced in May of last year and extended over a great part of the United States.

Snyder is charged with holding up and robbing O. H. Stevens and his wife on the night of May 1, when it is alleged he secured diamonds and other jewels valued at about $6,500. Charles E. Farrow, now a prisoner in the county jail, is said to have confessed to the police that he was one of the robbers and implicated Snyder as the other. Snyder denied having any connection with the robbery. He is the son of R. N. Snyder, at one time a leading banker of this city.

Three Indictments Returned.

Washington, Sept. 18.—The federal grand jury returned three indictments in the postal cases involving two people, one of them being a joint indictment. The indictments are based on a contract or agreement for the sale of certain supplies to the postoffice department. One of the parties is said to be a former chief of bureau who had to do with large contracts which have figured conspicuously in the investigation. It is expected that the indicted men will be arrested within the next 24 hours. Several cases on which action had been anticipated did not materialize, but further indictments are expected shortly.

Toledo Gets Next Meeting.

Mines Closed for Two Days.

Philadelphia, Sept. 18.—Seven anthracite collieries operated by the Pennsylvania Railroad company in the Wyoming, Shamokin and Schuylkill districts will be closed down today and Saturday. About 20,000 men and boys will be idle as a result. The restriction of production is made necessary by the fact that the steam sizes of coal have been piling up lately, and while there are full orders for the prepared sizes it is thought better to close the mines for two days.

Ten Thousand Massacred.

Sofia, Bulgaria, Sept. 18.—Reliable information has been received that the Turks have destroyed the town of Kastoria, 36 miles south of Monastir, and have massacred the population. The report of the massacre comes from sources admitting of little doubt, though the details are lacking. It was received with the gravest concern by the officials here. The population of Kastoria numbers about 10,000 persons and the massacre of such a number in one place, if the report be true, exceeds anything which has yet occurred in Macedonia.

Colonel Richard Lathers Dead.

New York, Sept. 18.—Colonel Richard Lathers, 84 years old, one of the most prominent southerners of this city and the representative from the chamber of commerce and Governor Dix sent in 1860 to the people of the southern states to try to dissuade them from seceding from the union, is dead. Colonel Lathers was born in Ireland and was brought to this country when 6 months old. His parents settled in the south. His grandfather was a colonel in the British army.

Slight Damage to Orange Crop.

Savannah, Ga., Sept. 18.—Captain W. B. Denham, general superintendent of the Atlantic Coast Line railway, who has just returned from a trip through the storm swept portions of Florida, says after having visited Punta Rassa that the town suffered almost no damage, despite rumors of its destruction. Leading orange growers believe that the damage to the crop will not be more than 5 to 10 per cent, instead of 50, as previously reported.

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Don't Know it.

How To Find Out.

Fill a bottle or common glass with your water and let it stand twenty-four hours; a sediment or settling indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys; if it stains your linen it is evidence of kidney trouble; too frequent desire to pass it or pain in the back is also convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder are out of order.

What to Do.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy fulfills every wish in curing rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in 50c. and $1. sizes.

You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful discovery and a book that tells more about it, both sent absolutely free by mail. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper.

REMARKABLE SPEED ATTAINED.

Electric Car Runs at Rate of 106 4-5 Miles Per Hour.

Berlin, Sept. 18.—An electric car ran at the rate of 106 4-5 miles per hour on the Zossen military road, said to be the highest speed ever attained. The engineers in charge of the experiments expect that 125 miles per hour will be reached.

The experimenting company, which is composed of various electrical companies and banks organized for this purpose, has just resumed the trials for the third time. It was found last year, when a speed of 99½ miles was achieved, that the 70-pound rails and ordinarily ballasted roadbed would not stand the strain. Since then the roadbed has been reconstructed with broken basalt and closely set with pine ties faced with oak, so as to have the springiness of the pine and the hardness of the oak. The new rails are a little over 100 pounds. Alterations have also been made in the motor.

The Genuine vs. the Counterfeits.

The genuine is always better than a counterfeit, but the truth of this statement is never more forcibly realized or more thoroughly appreciated than when you compare the genuine DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve with the many counterfeits and worthless substitutes that are on the market. W. S. Ledbetter, of Shreveport, La., says: "After using numerous other remedies without benefit, one box of DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve cured me." For blind, bleeding, itching and protruding piles no remedy is equal to DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve.

CHAMBERLAIN QUITS

CORRESPONDENCE WITH BALFOUR

Cause at Heart Can Be Best Promoted from Outside—Colonies' Interests Discussed—Chancellor of Exchequer and Secretary of India Also Resign.

London, Sept. 18.—The official announcement of the resignation of Mr. Chamberlain and two members of the cabinet was made at Downing street in the following communication:

"The following ministers have tendered their resignations which have been accepted by the king: Right Hon. Joseph Chamberlain, secretary of the colonies; Right Hon. C. T. Ritchie, chancellor of the exchequer, and Lord George Hamilton, secretary for India.

"The accompanying correspondence passed between the premier, Right Hon. A. J. Balfour, and Mr. Chamberlain."

Then follows Mr. Chamberlain's letter dated Birmingham, Sept. 9, commencing "My Dear Balfour," in which he sets forth his reasons for his resignation. An extremely interesting feature of the letter is the following statement concerning a preferential tariff:

Preferential Agreement.

"For the present, at any rate, a preferential agreement with out colonies involving any new duty, however small, on articles of food hitherto untaxed, even if accompanied by a reduction of taxation on other articles of food equally universal in their consumption, would be unacceptable to the majorities of the constituencies. However much we may regret the decision, however mistaken we may think it, no good government in a democratic country can ignore it. I feel, therefore, that as an immediate practical policy the question of preference to the colonies cannot be pressed with any hope of success at the present time, although there is a very strong feeling in favor of the other branch of fiscal reform which would give fuller discretion to the government in negotiating with foreign countries for a freer exchange of commodities and which would enable our representatives to retaliate if no concession was made to our just demands.

Constitution Must Be Changed.

"If, as I believe, you share these views, it seems to me that you will be absolutely justified in adopting them as the policy of your government, although it will necessarily involve some change in the constitution. As secretary for the colonies during the last eight years I have been in a special sense the representative of the policy of a closer union which I firmly believe to be equally necessary in the interests of the colonies and ourselves. I believe it is possible today and may be impossible tomorrow to make arrangements for such a union. I have had unexampled opportunities of watching events and appreciating the feelings of our kinsmen beyond the seas. I stand, therefore, in a different position to any of my colleagues and I think that I should justly be blamed if I remained in office and thus formally accepted the exclusion from my political program of so important a part thereof.

Can Work Better Outside Cabinet.

"I think that with absolute loyalty to your government and with no fear of embarrassing it in any way I can best promote the cause I have at heart from the outside, and I cannot but hope that in a perfectly independent position my arguments may be received with less prejudice than would attach to those of a party leader. Accordingly I would suggest that you limit the present policy of the government to an assertion of our freedom in the case of all commercial relations with foreign countries, and that you should agree to my tendering my resignation of my present office to his majesty and devoting myself to the work of explaining and popularizing these principles of imperial union which experience has convinced me are essential to our future welfare and prosperity."

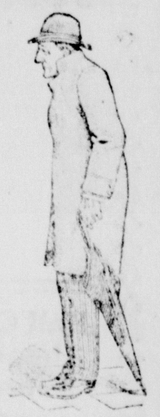
The first portion of this letter refers to Mr. Chamberlain's first speech on the subject at Birmingham and Mr. Balfour's reply to the corn tax deputation. Mr. Balfour in a letter to Mr. Chamberlain dated Sept. 16 says:

Balfour's Reply.

"Agreeing as I do with you that the time has come when a change should be made in the fiscal canons by which we bound ourselves in our commercial dealings with other governments it seems paradoxical, indeed, that you should leave the cabinet at the same time that others of my colleagues are leaving it who disagree on the very point with us both. Yet I cannot but admit that there is some force in your arguments in support of that course, based as they are upon your specified and personal relation with that portion of the controversy which deals with colonial preference. You have done more than any man living or dead to bring home to the citizens of the empire the consciousness of imperial obligation and interdependence between the various fragments into which the empire is geographically divided. I believe you to be right in holding that this interdependence should find expression in our commercial as well as in our political and military relations."

MALARIA

Germ Infected Air.



Malaria is not confined exclusively to the swamps and marshy regions of the country, but wherever there is bad air this insidious foe to health is found. Poisonous vapors and gases from sewers, and the musty air of damp cellars are laden with the germs of this miserable disease, which are breathed into the lungs and taken up by the blood and transmitted to every part of the body. Then you begin to feel out of sorts without ever suspecting the cause. No energy or appetite, dull headaches, sleepy and tired and completely fagged out from the slightest exertion, are some of the deplorable effects of this enfeebling malady. As the disease progresses and the blood becomes more deeply poisoned, boils and abscesses and dark or yellow spots appear upon the skin. When the poison is left to ferment and the microbes and germs to multiply in the blood, Liver and Kidney troubles and other serious complications often arise. As Malaria begins and develops in the blood, the treatment to be effective must begin there too. S. S. S. destroys the germs and poisons and purifies the polluted blood, and under its tonic effect the debilitated constitution rapidly recuperates and the system is soon clear of all signs of this depressing disease.

Chinese Consular Clerk Resented Policeman's Insult With a Blow.

Washington, Sept. 18.—Unless the unofficial advices received by the Chinese minister regarding the suicide at San Francisco on Tuesday of Tom Kim Yung, Chinese consular clerk, are found to be untrue, action will be taken with the view to vindicating the honor of the young man. The minister already has spoken to Acting Secretary of State Adee about the case.

These unofficial advices are to the effect that the young man was not arrested for gambling, but was insulted by a policeman, who accosted him on the streets of San Francisco. In resenting the insult he struck the officer a blow, which resulted in his arrest. Feeling that his arrest under the circumstances was a disgrace and indignity to one of his station he ended his life.

BUSY DAYS AT

THE LEADER

Getting Ready for the Opening.

Fall Goods are coming by every express and we are almost "snowed under" with the boxes and bales and rolls of the new merchandise. New York, Chicago and Philadelphia have been searched for the newest and most desirable goods of the season, and how well we have succeeded in bringing together the most beautiful line ever shown in this city will be for you to judge next week. Meanwhile come Saturday and take your pick of what we have already opened. : :

Here is a partial list of what will be ready for you Saturday.

New Tailor Made Suits

In the latest, most stylish effects, $6.98 to $30.

Tailor Made Skirts

In all lengths and a grand assortment of styles from $2.98 to $10.

Fall Jackets

Long lengths, tight fitting and box styles—coming in every day now, $4.98 to $20.

Rain Coats

These will be the popular garments for winter wear. As usual we will have a nice line at the right prices. Not all here yet, but they will range from $8 to $25.

Children's Coats

Our line of children's garments will be bigger than ever this season. We have secured the agency for the famous Wooltex garments and these with our other makes will enable us to offer you pretty, stylish coats from $2.75 to $15.

In our new enlarged Domestic Department.

11-4 soft heavy blankets, that cannot be matched elsewhere at less than $1.25, are here at 90¢.

12-4, our own special—made for us and a blanket that would cost you at least $1.50 at any other store, our price $1.25.

Outing Flannel

5,000 yards of the new patterns just arrived. Splendid heavy weight and worth 12c a yard, Saturday 9½¢.

Early Fall Hats

A splendid showing of the new novelties and lower in price by far than you can find the same quality for elsewhere, $1.50 to $6.

Silk Waists

Some of the prettiest silk waists you ever saw came in this week and not only are they pretty, but the quality is superb. If you need a waist you will be delighted with these. Mostly three prices, $4.98, $5.98, and $6.98.

Mohair Waists

This serviceable fabric will be more in demand for waists than ever this season. Our line will be unusually complete. Two pretty numbers now in for $2.75 and $2.98.

New Belts

A handsome lot of new belts have just come in. Made of folded Taffeta silk with very pretty buckles, in the newest designs, mostly all priced at 25¢ and 49¢.

New Lace Collars

The very latest novelties, 50¢ to $4.

Chiffon Boas.

Very stylish and new. Your costume is not complete without one, $1.50 to $4.90.

Golden Wedding at Salem.

Salem, September 18.—Mr. and Mrs. John R. Wallace celebrated, at the hall of Amity lodge, I. O. O. F., their golden wedding, 150 members of Amity lodge and Home lodge, degree of Rebekah, being guests. Mr. Wallace is one of the oldest members of the former and Mrs. Wallace of the latter. John R. Wallace and Elizabeth M. Gardner were united in marriage at Pittsburg September 15, 1853, by Rev. A. M. Brian, pastor of the Cumberland Presbyterian church. They came to Salem in 1857. Three children of the union are living: Mrs. Mary Dunlap, Pittsburg; Charles Wallace, New Castle, and George Wallace, Salem. Mrs. Dunlap and daughter, Miss Mabel, of Pittsburg, were present at the celebration.

Sock Social.

A pleasant event in church social circles took place last evening in the First Christian church, when a large number were present to participate in the sock social. During the evening a brief but enjoyable program was rendered, as one of the prominent features of the entertainment. Simple and appropriate decorations were arranged in the large room where the social was held. The social proved to be a source of pleasure to all present and a financial benefit to the society.

Barlow-Cassidy.

Lisbon, September 18.—(Special.)—Edward H. Cassidy, of Pittsburg, and Miss Linnie M. Barlow, were married last evening at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Barlow, a mile south of Lisbon. Rev. George Fowler, pastor of the Christian church, performed the ceremony in the presence of the family and a few friends. Mr. and Mrs. Cassidy went to Pittsburg today, where they will reside. Mr. Cassidy is identified with mercantile interests in Pittsburg.

Arrangements Completed.

The Ladies' auxiliary of the Y. M. C. A. have their arrangements almost completed for the mock trial, "Breach of Promise," which will be presented in the Grand opera house October 1 under the direction of Col. Newton of Worcester, Mass. A large number of tickets have already been sold. The trial will no doubt be a success, as Col. Newton is noted as a humorist of marked ability.

Reiss-Greenwood.

Lisbon, September 18.—(Special.)—Louis Greenwood, of Youngstown, formerly a clothing merchant at Lisbon, on Tuesday married Miss Hattie Reiss, a prominent lady of Cleveland. Mr. Greenwood has charge of the clothing department in a big store in Youngstown.

Wedded at Steubenville.

STRUCK BY A TRAIN AND HIS BACK BROKEN

A Lisbon Man Meets With a Mishap Likely to Result Fatally.

Lisbon, September 18.—(Special)—Frank Fisher, of a local grocery firm, received word from Canton yesterday that his father, John Fisher, had been struck by a locomotive Wednesday night and was in a precarious condition.

He is supposed to have been asleep on the track. He was removed to a hospital where it was found his back was broken.

Fisher was employed on a farm north of Lisbon. He is a middle aged man. He has not been living with his wife for several years.

LISBON RAILROAD KILLED A MAN

An Unknown Walking the Track Run Over By an Excursion Train.

Lisbon, September 18.—(Special.)—An unknown man was killed at Watt's mill, near the Pennsylvania line, by the east bound Pittsburg, Lisbon & Western fair excursion train late Wednesday evening.

The man was apparently drunk and walking on the track.

The body has been identified as that of Thomas Harper, aged 45, of Cannelton, Pa. He is said to have been unmarried.

In Boys' Clothing

We did as much business the first week of September, 1903, as we did in the whole month of September, 1902. That's gratifying is'nt it? Not from the standpoint of money making alone, but because it indicates that our efforts have been appreciated, and we truly have made efforts to surpass all former season's showings—to supply better grades, better styles and better values. It is a conveni nt thing for the boys and the boys parents to have a store in their midst carrying all the leading styles and offering them, too, at prices as favorable as can be found in any store in America

Boys' Suits as Low as $1.50.

Young Men's Suits as Low as $5.00.

WE ARE opening the season with the most exquisite selection of men's suits and top coats. Made of the purest of woolens—the choicest of designs or in plain weaves. Made by the most skilled tailors in America—the same preci ely as some of the large eastern houses have on their counters at $20 and $25. We realize it is not so easy to build up a trade and hold it in a town like East Liverpool as it is in more cosmopolitan cities. Bombastic advertising, sensation won't do in East Liverpool. Merit alone is what counts. It is the best display we have ever made at the price. It is the best display in America at the price. Alteration, if necessary, is made at our expense. Perfect fit is assured.

HOME AFFAIRS

May Succeed Stephens—Prof. E. J. State, of Akron, will be in this city next week to look over the ground and consider a proposition to succeed P. J. Stephens as physical director of the Y. M. C. A.

Great Interest—The tent meetings that are being conducted on Fifth street by Evangelists Johnson and Taylor are largely attended and full of interest. Both the preaching and the singing are spirited and vigorous.

Councilman a Grandfather — A son has been born to Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Gavin, of Toronto. Mrs. Gavin was formerly Miss Nellie Cannon, of this city, daughter of Councilman Thomas Cannon, who visited the new and only grandson yesterday.

Mrs. Brock Set Free—The case of Ohio versus Mrs. Charles Brock, who was charged with stealing $65 from Nicholas Surroco, a Roumanian, while he was on her houseboat, was dismissed last evening by Mayor Weaver, who did not think the evidence sufficient to hold her for court.

Important Conference—A meeting of the quarterly conference of the First M. E. church has been called for this evening. Important church affairs will be discussed, and officers elected for the ensuing year. They will include the board of trustees, the stewards and officers of the church and Sunday school.

Big Picnic September 24 — At the meeting of the Patriarchs Militant to be held this evening, two new members will be initiated. Arrangements for the big picnic are progressing nicely. Word has been received here that special trains are to be run from Dennison, Mingo and New Cumberland The outing will be held September 24.

Peru Wants Engineers.

Ogden, Utah, Sept. 18.—Chief Engineer Wolsott, of the United States geological survey, has received a letter from the Peruvian government asking that he appoint two engineers to take charge of the reclamation work in Peru. The positions are permanent and carry a large salary.

Prominent Educator Dead.

Marshall, Minn., Sept. 18.—Clarence Miles Boutelle, superintendent of the Marshall public schools for eight years and one of the leading educators of Minnesota, is dead of apoplexy. He was a native of New Hampshire, coming to Minnesota in 1859. He was an author of some reputation.
